WHAT DO WE NEED IN A LANGUAGE TEXTBOOK TODAY?

1. Everyone expects each student to succeed.
2. Students need to learn life-long learning strategies.
3. Students need to deal with much more than printed words.

FIVE BIG IDEAS

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

1. TECHNOLOGY OFTEN FACES OPPOSITION

“... this invention will produce forgetfulness in the minds of those who learn to use it, because they will not practice their memory.”

9

---

---

---

---

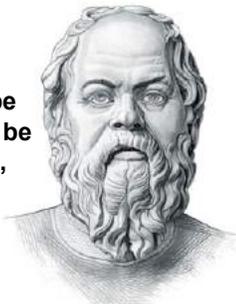

---

---

“... he who receives
(books) in the belief that anything in writing will be clear and certain, would be an utterly simple person,
and in truth ignorant.”
Socrates, 370 BCE

A QUICK HISTORY LESSON

Every technology has advantages and disadvantages.

Cuneiform tablets endure, but they couldn't be changed after they were written on.

18

Technology began to be seen as a way of educating a wider population who couldn't attend school when they were free to learn.

1938

By 1938, in the USA, at least 200 city school systems, 25 state boards of education, and many universities and colleges broadcast educational programs for public schools.

TECHNOLOGY AS A MASTER EDUCATOR:

“Experts in given fields broadcast lessons for pupils within the many schoolrooms of the public school system, asking questions, suggesting readings, making assignments, and conducting tests. This mechanizes education and leaves the local teacher only the tasks of preparing for the broadcast and keeping order in the classroom.”

FREE BOOKS: APP

- One issue is what to do with more-able students while a teacher works with less-able students.
- Phone-based tasks can keep them busy in interesting ways.

Webinar: Interactivity

In this wrap up session, Dr. Ken Beatty draws together the threads of the week's discussions to conclude with a look at interactivity. How can we use the interactive features of past and present technologies to enhance teenagers' learning processes? How can these processes mirror how teenagers already interact with the world? What role does interaction play in memory and learning? What happens to the brain when it is engaged in purposeful interaction? And how can Wider World help implement these principles?
