

1A

What's your name?

Student's Book p6–p7

Vocabulary numbers 0–12

Grammar I, my, you, your

Real World saying hello; introducing people; phone numbers; saying goodbye

Hello!

1 a CD1 → 1 Focus students on conversation 1 in the photo. Play the recording. Students listen and read the conversation. Play the recording again if necessary.

Check that students understand the sentences in the conversation. Point out that when giving our name, we can say I'm ... or My name's .... You can also teach And you. as an alternative to You too.

b PRONUNCIATION Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat. Alternatively, model each sentence yourself and ask students to repeat chorally and individually. For Teaching Tips on drilling, see p23 of this book.

c Demonstrate the activity yourself by role-playing the conversation with a confident student. Then ask students to practise the conversation with four other students, either by moving around the room or by talking to students sitting near them. Students should use their own first names.

EXTRA IDEA

- Before asking students to practise the conversation in pairs, choose two confident students and ask them to practise the conversation for the class. Students don't need to leave their seats. Correct students' pronunciation as necessary, then ask them to practise the conversation again. Repeat this 'open pairs' procedure with other students. If this technique works well with your class, use it when appropriate in future lessons.

d Focus students on the speech bubbles. Use the third speech bubble to teach students Hi = Hello. Then ask students to take turns to introduce themselves to the class.

EXTRA IDEA

- ✍ Draw a plan of the class seating arrangements on the board and write in the students' names as they introduce themselves to the class. Leave the plan on the board for students to refer to during the lesson.

2 a CD1 → 2 Focus students on conversation 2 in the photo. Play the recording. Students listen and read. Check students understand all the sentences in the conversation. Remind students that Hi = Hello and point out that I'm fine. = I'm OK. You can also point out that Hi is more informal than Hello.

b PRONUNCIATION Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat. Alternatively, model each sentence yourself and ask students to repeat chorally and individually.

c Demonstrate the activity yourself by role-playing the conversation with a confident student. Then ask students to practise the conversation with four other students, either by moving around the room or by talking to students sitting near them. Students should use their own first names.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR I, my, you, your Help with Grammar sections help students to examine examples of new language and discover the rules of meaning, form and use for themselves. Students should usually do the exercises on their own or in pairs before you check the answers with the class.

For more information on the face2face approach to Grammar, see p20.

For Teaching Tips on Grammar, see p22.

3 a–b Focus students on the example in 3a and use this to teach the phrase Fill in the gaps. Students do the exercises on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class. ✍ Alternatively, do the exercise on the board with the whole class.

- a Answers 2 I 3 My
- b Answers 2 you 3 You 4 your
- Highlight the difference between I/my and you/your.
- Point out that we use I/you + verb (I read, you listen, etc.) and my/your + noun (my name, your book, etc.).
- Also point out that we always use a capital I when we refer to ourselves.
- You can also tell students that there is no polite form of you in English.
- Students may ask you about the meaning of 'm, are and 's. Tell the class they are part of the verb be, and that I'm = I am and name's = name is. We suggest that you don't go into detail about the verb be at this stage of the course and encourage students to treat the new language as fixed phrases. Note that the verb be is taught systematically in units 2 and 3.

EXTRA IDEA

- Highlight the Language Summary reference GRAMMAR 1.1 → at the end of the exercise and ask students to turn to Language Summary 1, SB (Student's Book) p114–p115. Ask students to find GRAMMAR 1.1 → and give them time to read the information. Point out that all the new language in each unit is included in the Language Summaries, and that this language is organised into three sections: Vocabulary, Grammar and Real World.

- 4 CD1 ▶ 3 PRONUNCIATION Focus students on the sentences in 3. Play the recording. Students listen and practise.

Note that in most of the recorded drills there are already sufficient pauses for students to repeat chorally without you pausing the recording yourself.

- 5 a Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs.
b CD1 ▶ 4 Play the recording (SB p107). Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class.

A
SUE Hello, my name's Sue. What's your name?
MARIO Hello, I'm Mario.
SUE Nice to meet you.
MARIO You too.
B
ADAM Hi, Meg.
MEG Hi, Adam. How are you?
ADAM I'm fine, thanks. And you?
MEG I'm OK, thanks.

- c Students practise the conversations in pairs. Ask a few pairs to role-play the conversations for the class.

Introducing people

- 6 a CD1 ▶ 5 Focus students on conversation 3 in the photo. Play the recording. Students listen and read the conversation. Check students understand that we use this is ... to introduce people.

c Put students into groups of three. Students practise conversation 3 in their groups, using their own names.

Ask a few groups to role-play their conversations for the class. Alternatively, ask students to move around the room and introduce people to each other.

Numbers 0–12

- 7 a CD1 ▶ 6 PRONUNCIATION Teach the word number. Play the recording. Students listen and repeat the numbers. Alternatively, model the words yourself and ask students to repeat chorally and individually. Highlight the pronunciation of zero /'zɪərəʊ/ and eight /eɪt/. Repeat the drill if necessary.

b Demonstrate the activity by saying four numbers and asking students to write them down. Check they have the correct answers. Students then do the exercise in pairs.

EXTRA IDEA

- Students work in pairs and count alternately from 0 to 12. They can then count backwards alternately from 12 to 0.

Phone numbers

- 8 a CD1 ▶ 7 Pre-teach phone number. Play the recording. Students listen and read the questions and answers.

Check students understand mobile number and home number by referring to the photos.

Point out the TIP on how to say 0 and double digits (44, etc.) in phone numbers. Note that we can also say zero in phone numbers instead of 'oh'.

PRONUNCIATION Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat chorally and individually. Highlight the pronunciation of mobile /'məʊbaɪl/ and double /'dʌbəl/.

b Students do the exercise in pairs.

- 9 a CD1 ▶ 8 Play the recording (SB p107). Students listen and write the numbers. Play the recording again if necessary.

b Students compare answers in pairs.

✓ Check answers with the class by eliciting the phone numbers and writing them on the board. You can also use the recording to teach Yes, that's right. Thanks. and Thank you.

Get ready ... Get it right!

There is a Get ready ... Get it right! activity at the end of every A and B lesson. The Get ready ... stage helps students to collect their ideas and prepare the language that they need to complete the task. The Get it right! stage gives students the opportunity to use the language they have learned in the lesson in a communicative (and often personalised) context. These two-stage activities help students to become more fluent without losing the accuracy they have built up during the controlled practice stages of the lesson.

For more information on the face2face approach to Speaking, see p20. For Teaching Tips on Speaking and correction, see p22.

- 10 Put students into pairs, student A and student B. Student As turn to SB p86 and student Bs turn to SB p91. Check they are all looking at the correct exercise.

a Focus students on the you column in the table. Students practise saying the numbers on their own.

b Students do the exercise with their partner. They are not allowed to look at each other's books.

c Students compare tables and check their partner has written the phone numbers correctly.

EXTRA IDEA

- Students move around the room and ask other students for their mobile numbers and home numbers. If you think that your students might be unwilling to tell each other their real phone numbers, prepare cards with fictitious phone numbers and give one to each student.

Goodbye!

11 a CD1 ▶ 9 Focus students on conversation 4 in the photo. Play the recording. Students listen and read the conversation.

Check students understand the words and sentences in the conversation. Point out that Bye = Goodbye. You can teach See you tomorrow, and See you next class, as alternatives to See you soon.

PRONUNCIATION Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat chorally and individually. Alternatively, model and drill the sentences yourself.

b Students move around the room and say goodbye to other students, or say goodbye to students sitting near them.

EXTRA IDEAS

- Ask students to turn to the Classroom Instructions on SB p135. Use the pictures to teach the meaning of some common classroom instructions. Alternatively, ask students to learn the instructions for homework and check them next class.
- Ask students to do some of the practice activities from lesson 1A on the Self-study DVD-ROM for homework. For photocopiable instructions on how to use the Self-study DVD-ROM, see p11–p14.

1BWhere's she from?

Student's Book p8–p9

Vocabulary countries

Grammar he, his, she, her

Real World Where are you from?

QUICK REVIEW Quick Reviews begin each lesson in a fun, student-centred way. They are short activities which review previously taught language and are designed to last about five or ten minutes. For Teaching Tips on Reviewing and Recycling, see p23.

This activity reviews phone numbers. Students work on their own and write two phone numbers. These can be real or invented numbers. Students do the rest of the activity in pairs. Students then check that their partner's numbers are correct.

Countries

- 1 Check students remember numbers 1–12. Focus students on the map of the world. Pre-teach map and country. Use the example (Italy) to show that students should write the correct numbers of the countries in the boxes next to each vocabulary item. Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class. Point out that we use capital letters for countries (Italy, Brazil, etc.). Also point out the in the USA and the UK.

Note that the USA is also called the US, the States, the United States or America. Also note that the UK refers to England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland, and we can say the UK or Britain /'brɪtən/. The term Great Britain refers to the island that contains England, Scotland and Wales, not the country.

Brazil 3; Russia 10; the USA 1; Germany 5; Egypt 9; Australia 12; Mexico 2; Turkey 8; the UK 4; China 11; Spain 6

EXTRA IDEA

- Students can check their answers in Language Summary 1 VOCABULARY 1.2 SB p114.

- HELP WITH LISTENING Word stress
- Help with Listening sections are designed to help students understand natural spoken English. They focus on phonological aspects of spoken English which make listening problematic for students.
- For more information on the face2face approach to Listening, see p20. For Teaching Tips on Listening, see p21.
- This Help with Listening section introduces students to the concept of word stress.

- 2 CD1 ▶ 10 Focus students on the vocabulary box in 1 and point out how stress is marked in the Student's Book (*). Play the recording. Students listen and notice the word stress.

Use the countries to teach syllable and point out the number of syllables in each country (Italy = three syllables, Brazil = two syllables, etc.).

Also highlight that Spain doesn't have a stress mark because it is a one-syllable word.

- 3 CD1 ▶ 10 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. Check students copy the word stress correctly.

Highlight the pronunciation of Egypt /'i:dʒɪpt/, Australia /ɒs'treɪliə/ and Turkey /'tʃ:ki/.

- 4 Focus students on the speech bubbles and check students understand What's number ... ?. Students do the activity in pairs. While they are working, monitor and correct any pronunciation mistakes that you hear.

Where are you from?

- 5 a Focus students on the photo of Stefan and Emel on SB p9. Check students remember these people from lesson 1A.

CD1 ▶ 11 Play the recording. Students listen to the conversation and fill in the gaps. Check answers with the class.

EMEL Where are you from, Stefan?
STEFAN I'm from Russia. And you?
EMEL I'm from Turkey.

b CD1 ▶ 12 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p107). Students listen and practise.

c Focus students on the speech bubbles. Check that students know where the countries Peru, Libya and Indonesia are. Pre-teach city and ask students which country Prague /pra:g/ is in (the Czech /tʃek/ Republic). Also highlight that we say I'm from + city: I'm from Prague., etc.

Model and drill Peru, Libya and Indonesia, highlighting the stress on each country.

Students take turns to tell the class which country they are from.

EXTRA IDEAS

- If you have a multilingual class, write all the students' countries on the board. Mark the stress on each country. Model and drill any new countries with the class.
- If your students are all from the same country or city, ask them to say which city, town or district they are from instead.

d Students practise the conversation in groups. Alternatively, students move around the room and practise the conversation with other students.

What's his name?

- 6 a Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

2a 3d 4c

b CD1 ▶ 13 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Check that students pronounce the contractions (What's, He's, etc.) correctly. Repeat the drill if necessary.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR he, his, she, her

- 7 a-b Focus students on the example in 7a. Students do the exercises on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class. Alternatively, do the exercise on the board with the whole class.

- a Answers 2 His 3 he 4 He
- b Answers 2 Her 3 she 4 She
- Highlight the difference between helhis (male) and shelher (female).
- Point out that we use helshe + verb (he's, etc.) and his/her + noun (his name, etc.).
- Also highlight the difference in pronunciation between he's /hi:z/ and his /hɪz/.
- Students may ask you about the meaning of 's in the example sentences. Tell the class that 's = is and is part of the verb be. However, we suggest that you encourage students to treat the new language as fixed phrases at this stage of the course. Note that the verb be is taught systematically in units 2 and 3.

- 8 a Focus students on the six countries in the box and the people and countries 1–6 on SB p9. Ask students the name of the person in 1 (Marcel) and which country he's from (France). Highlight the example sentence under the vocabulary box. Students do the exercise in pairs.

b CD1 ▶ 14 Play the recording (SB p107). Students listen and check their answers.

Check answers with the class by eliciting the sentences and writing them on the board.

- 2 Her name's Ayumi and she's from Japan.
3 His name's Leon and he's from Poland.
4 Her name's Mai and she's from Thailand.
5 His name's Ricardo and he's from Colombia.
6 Her name's Gita and she's from India.

EXTRA IDEA

- To give your students extra pronunciation practice, play the recording again and ask students to repeat the sentences. Check they are pronouncing the contractions (name's, he's, etc.) correctly.

Get ready ... Get it right!

a Focus students on the photo. Give students a few moments to read the names and countries of the people.

Students work with their partner. Student A in each pair asks about people 1, 3 and 5, as shown in the speech bubbles, and writes the answers in the correct places in his/her book. While students are working, monitor and check their questions for accuracy.

Note that the names have been chosen as they are easy for most nationalities to spell. However, if the English script is new to your students, you may choose to do this Get ready ... Get it right! activity after you have done lesson 1C, where the alphabet and the question How do you spell that? are taught and practised.

b Student B in each pair asks about people 2, 4 and 6, as shown in the speech bubbles, and writes the answers in the correct places in his/her book. When they have finished, students can compare books with their partners and check their answers.

c Give students one minute to memorise the people's names and countries.

d Ask students to close their books. Students work with their partners and take turns to ask where the people are from, as shown in the speech bubbles.

Finally, ask students to tell the class where each person is from.

EXTRA IDEA

- Use the photocopiable Class Activity 1B Where's he from? p127 (Instructions p114), which provides further speaking practice of the language from the lesson.

FURTHER PRACTICE

1C REAL WORLD

In class

Student's Book p10–p11

Vocabulary the alphabet; things in your bag (1); a and an

Real World first names and surnames; classroom language

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews What's his/her name? and the names of the students in the class. Pre-teach I don't know. Put students into pairs. Students take turns to ask the names of other students in the class, as shown in the examples. Point out that students can answer the questions with His/Her name's ..., as in the examples, or by just saying the person's name. If you have a multilingual class, ask students to practise the question Where's he/she from? as well. At the end of the activity, ask each student to tell the class the names of two people sitting near them.

The alphabet

1 CD1 15 PRONUNCIATION Focus students on the letters Aa–Zz. Teach the alphabet /'ælfəbet/.

Play the recording. Students listen and practise the alphabet. Alternatively, model and drill the letters yourself.

Point out that the letters in pink are called vowels /'vaʊəlz/ and the letters in blue are called consonants /'kɒnsənənts/. If the English script is new for your students, point out that each letter has a capital form (A, B, C, etc.) and a lower-case form (a, b, c, etc.). You can also point out that z is pronounced /zi:/ in American English.

EXTRA IDEAS

- If you have a class of false beginners, ask them to close their books and write down the English alphabet from memory. ✍ Check the answers by eliciting the alphabet from the class and writing it on the board. Then play CD1 15 and ask students to practise saying the letters.
- If you have a monolingual class, highlight any differences between the English alphabet and the students' alphabet (extra letters, missing letters, the lack of accents, how particular letters are pronounced, etc.).

- 2 CD1 ▶ 16 Play the recording (SB p107). Students listen and write the letters in their lower-case forms. There are two letters for each number. Play the recording again if necessary. Note that these pairs of letters have been chosen as they are often confused by learners of English. Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

1 u v 2 y i
3 g j 4 b v
5 a r 6 e i
7 b p 8 t d
9 u q 10 v w

EXTRA IDEAS

- Students work in pairs and take turns to say the letters of the alphabet in order.
- For more on when we use capital letters in English, see Reading and Writing Portfolio 1 and 2 on p52–p55 of the face2face Second edition Starter Workbook.

What's your first name?

- 3 a Focus students on photo A. Ask who is the teacher (Sally) and who is the student (Pablo). Point out that Pablo is a new student in the class. Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs.

b VIDEO ▶ 1.1 CD1 ▶ 17 Play the video or audio recording (SB p107). Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class.

Note that all the Real World videos can be found on the Teacher's DVD at the back of this book. For more information on the Teacher's DVD, see p10. If you are not able to use video in your classroom, use the audio recording on the Class Audio CD instead. Note that the content of the videos and the audio recordings is identical.

Highlight the difference between first name and surname, and check students understand the verb spell. Note that this language is drilled in 5a.

Also use the recording to teach Thank you and Welcome (to the class).

1c 2a 3b

- 4 a VIDEO ▶ 1.2 CD1 ▶ 18 Play the video or audio recording (SB p107). Students watch or listen and write the names of two more students in Sally's class. Play the video or audio recording again if necessary.

b Students compare answers in pairs.

✍ Ask students to spell the students' names and write them on the board.

1 Dorota Kowalska
2 Khalid Nazeer

- 5 a CD1 ▶ 19 PRONUNCIATION Focus students on the example drill. Play the recording (SB p107). Students listen and practise.

Highlight the pronunciation of first name /'fɜːs neɪm/ and surname /'sɜːneɪm/. Note that we don't usually pronounce the t in first name. Repeat the drill if necessary.

b Students move around the room and ask three people the questions in 3a. Students should write the names in their notebooks and check that they have spelled them correctly before moving on to talk to a different student. If students aren't able to move around the room, they should talk to three people sitting near them.

Ask a few students to tell the class the first names or surnames of other people in the class.

EXTRA IDEA

- If your students know each other well, give them role cards with new names on before they do 5b.

Things in your bag (1)

- 6 a Focus students on photo B. Students do the exercise in pairs. Check answers with the class. Point out that we can say a mobile, a phone or a mobile phone. Also teach students that we say a cell or a cell phone in American English.

a dictionary 3; an apple 2; a pen 7; a pencil 8;
a book 4; a notebook 5; an umbrella 9; a mobile 6

EXTRA IDEA

- If your students are all complete beginners, consider teaching this vocabulary yourself by bringing photos of the things in photo B or the items themselves to the class. Teach the words one by one, drilling each word in turn. You can then use 6a for practice.

b CD1 ▶ 20 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Highlight the pronunciation of dictionary /'dɪkʃənri/ and pencil /'pensəl/. Also check that students say the multi-syllable words with the correct stress. Highlight that dictionary is three syllables, not four. Repeat the drill if necessary.

- 7 Focus students on the speech bubbles and check they remember What's number ... ?. Students do the exercise in new pairs.

EXTRA IDEA

- Ask students which things in photo B they have with them. If you have a strong class, teach other words for things that your students have with them, for example, glasses, make-up, a bottle of water, etc.

• HELP WITH VOCABULARY a and an

• Help with Vocabulary sections help students to explore and understand how vocabulary works, often by focusing on aspects of lexical grammar. Students should usually do the exercises on their own or in pairs before you check the answers with the class. For more information on the face2face approach to Vocabulary, see p20. For Teaching Tips on Vocabulary, see p22.

8 Focus students again on the words in 6a. Tell the class that these words are called nouns. Point out the pink and blue letters at the beginning of each word. Students do the exercise on their own. Check the answers with the class.

- We use a with nouns that begin with a consonant sound.
- We use an with nouns that begin with a vowel sound.

9 Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class. Point out that we also use an with 'adjective + noun' (an English dictionary, an Italian bag, etc.) if the adjective begins with a vowel sound.

2 a 3 an 4 a 5 an 6 a 7 an

• REAL WORLD Classroom language

• Real World sections introduce students to functional and situational language they will need in real-world situations. Students should usually do the exercises on their own or in pairs before you check the answers with the class. For Teaching Tips on Speaking, see p22.

11 VIDEO 1.3 CD1 21 Focus students on the sentences in the box, then play the video or audio recording again. Students listen and tick the sentences when they hear them. Check students understand the meaning of the sentences. We suggest that you teach this language as fixed phrases, rather than focus on the grammar of these sentences at this stage of the course. Point out that we can say Can you repeat that, please? or Can you say that again, please?

EXTRA IDEA

- Write the sentences in 11 on cards and put them up around the classroom. Use these prompts in future lessons to remind students of this language when they are unsure what to say to you in class.

12 CD1 22 PRONUNCIATION Focus students on the sentences in 11. Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat individually.

13 a Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

2 mean

4 repeat
5 sorry
6 know
7 What's 8 spell

b Students practise the conversations in pairs, taking turns to be the teacher (Sally). While they are working, monitor and correct any pronunciation mistakes you hear.

Finally, ask a few pairs to role-play the conversations for the class.

EXTRA IDEA

- If you haven't taught the Classroom Instructions on SB p135 yet, ask students to learn these common instructions for homework and check they remember them next class.

1D VOCABULARY AND SKILLS

People and things

Student's Book p12–p13

Vocabulary people; things; plurals
Skills Listening: What's in your bag?

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews spelling the alphabet. Students work on their own and write five English words they know. Students then complete the activity in pairs.

- 1 a Focus students on the picture. Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class.

b a man c a woman d a boy e a girl

b CD1 ▶ 23 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Highlight the pronunciation of woman /'wʊmən/. Alternatively, model the words yourself and ask students to repeat chorally and individually.

- 2 a Focus students on the photo of Sally (the teacher from lesson 1C). Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs.

Check answers with the class. Alternatively, ask students to check their answers in VOCABULARY 1.7 SB p114. You can also teach a laptop and a tablet (computer).

If your students don't have articles in their own language(s), highlight the use of a with the singular nouns in 1a and 2a.

a chair 1; a table 6;
a computer 3; a camera 7;
a watch 2; a sandwich 5

b CD1 ▶ 24 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Highlight the pronunciation of diary /'daɪəri/, chair /tʃeə/ and sandwich /'sænwɪdʒ/.

c Students do the activity in pairs. Check answers with the class.

an umbrella, a bag, a pen, a book/books, an apple, a mobile (phone), a pencil, a dictionary

- 3 a Give students one minute to memorise all the things in the photo. You can set a time limit of two minutes for this stage of the activity. Ask students to close their books. Students work on their own and write all the things in the picture they can remember.
- b Students compare their answers in pairs and check their partner's spelling. Students can then open their books and check if they have remembered all the things in the picture. Find out which students in the class remembered the most words.

HELP WITH VOCABULARY Plurals

- 4 Focus students on the pictures and the table. Use the pictures to teach singular and plural. Students do the exercise on their own by referring to the other words in the table. ✍ While they are working, draw the table on the board. Check answers with the class.

- Answers things, boys, sandwiches, babies ✍ Elicit the answers from students and write them in the table on the board. Use the table to highlight the following rules:
- We usually make nouns plural by adding -s: chairs, tables, things, boys, etc.
- If a noun ends in -ch, we add -es: watches, sandwiches, etc.
- If a noun ends in consonant + y, we change -y to -ies: diaries, babies, etc. Point out that if a noun ends in vowel + y, we simply add -s (boy → boys, etc.).
- A few common nouns have irregular plurals: men, women, people, etc.
- Note that we also add -es to words ending in -s, -ss, -sh, -x and -z: bus → buses, class → classes, etc. Point out these plurals when students meet words with these endings later in the course.
- Also highlight that we don't use a or an with plural nouns.

- 5 CD1 ▶ 25 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Check that students say the -es /ɪz/ endings in watches and sandwiches correctly. Also highlight the pronunciation of women /'wɪmɪn/ and people /'pi:pəl/. Repeat the drill if necessary.

- 6 Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

2 cameras 3 countries 4 watches
5 men 6 computers 7 women
8 apples 9 dictionaries 10 people

- 7 Put students into pairs. Ask all students to turn to SB p96. Check they are all looking at the correct exercise.

a Focus students on the picture. Point out that students need to complete the words and write the number of people or things they can see in the picture, as in the example. Tell students that some of the things in the picture are hidden. Students do the exercise in their pairs. You can set a time limit of five minutes.

b Put two pairs together in groups of four. If this is not possible, ask students to work in new pairs. Students compare their answers and see who has found more things and people.

c Ask students to turn to SB p134. Students check their answers. Point out that each group of things or people is in a different colour in the picture. Check answers with the class.

3 tables; 5 men; 2 women; 10 books; 3 pens; 8 pencils; 7 apples; 4 bags; 6 mobiles;

What's in your bag?

8 a Focus students on the photos of Linda, Bill and Caroline. Tell the class these people are in London.

CD1 → 26 Play the recording (SB p107). Students listen and tick the things that are in the people's bags.

b Students compare answers in pairs.

c Play the recording again. Students listen, check their answers and write where the people are from. Check answers with the class.

LINDA (books), a dictionary, a notebook, pens, a mobile (She's from London.)

BILL a mobile, photos, a pen, an apple, sandwiches (He's from Boston, in the USA.)

CAROLINE a camera, books, a notebook, a pencil, an umbrella (She's from Sydney, in Australia.)

9 Put students into groups of three or four. Students take turns to say what is in their bags and find out who has the same things. If some students don't have bags with them, ask them to say what is in their pockets. While they are working, monitor and help students with any new vocabulary they need.

Ask each student to tell the class one thing that they have in their bags. Write any new vocabulary on the board and allow students time to copy it in their notebooks.

Finally, ask each group who has the same things in their bags.

HELP WITH PRONUNCIATION /æ/ and /ə/

Help with Pronunciation sections are designed to help students hear and pronounce individual sounds that are often problematic for learners of English.

For more information on the face2face approach to Pronunciation, see p20. For Teaching Tips on Pronunciation, see p23.

1 CD1 → 27 Focus students on the phonemes /æ/ and /ə/, the pictures and the words. Play the recording. Students listen to the sounds and the words.

Point out that a in bag is pronounced with an /æ/ sound, and o and er in computer are pronounced with an /ə/ sound. Point out that r at the end of a word is not usually pronounced in British English (computer, teacher, doctor, etc.).

Note that the /ə/ sound is called 'the schwa' and is the most common sound in English.

Check students understand that /æ/ and /ə/ represent individual sounds and are not letters of the alphabet.

Point out that phonemic script is always written between two parallel lines (/ /) and should not be confused with standard written English.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. If students have problems producing the sounds, help them with the mouth position for each sound.

Point out that when we make the /æ/ sound, the mouth is wide open and the jaw down. When we make the /ə/ sound, the mouth is slightly open and the lips, tongue and jaw are relaxed. Also point out that they are both short sounds.

2 Focus students on the boxes. Point out that all the pink letters are pronounced /æ/ and all the blue letters are pronounced /ə/.

CD1 → 28 Play the recording. Students listen and notice how we say the pink and blue letters.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise.

3 a CD1 → 29 Play the recording. Students listen and read the sentences.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. Check they say the pink letters with an /æ/ sound and the blue letters with an /ə/ sound.

b Students practise the sentences in pairs.

Finally, ask students to say the sentences for the class.

EXTRA IDEA

- Point out the chart of phonemic symbols on SB p134. Also tell students they can practise drills from the Student's Book on the Self-study DVD-ROM.

continue2learn

There is a continue2learn section at the end of each unit. The Vocabulary, Grammar and Real World section highlights where students can review and practise the language from the unit. The Reading and Writing section directs students to the Reading and Writing Portfolios in the face2face Second edition Starter Workbook. This portfolio contains 10 stand-alone reading and writing lessons that can be done either in class or at home.

For more on the face2face approach to writing, see page 20.

- Focus students on the continue2learn section on SB p13. Tell students that this section shows where they can review and practise the language taught in Unit 1.
- Ask students to turn to Extra Practice 1 and Progress Portfolio 1 on SB p97. Students can do these exercises in class or for homework. For more information on the Extra Practice and Progress Portfolio sections, see p34.
- Also point out that Language Summary 1 on SB p114–p115 contains all the key language taught in the unit, along with extra information, examples and tips. Note that if you are planning to give your students Progress Test 1 (see p000), you can tell the class that this test will only contain questions about the language that is included in Language Summary 1.
- If your students have the face2face Second edition Starter Workbook, point out that there are practice exercises for lessons 1A–1D in the Student's Book (WB p3–p7). If students haven't already done these exercises at the end of each lesson, they can do them at the end of the unit.
- Also remind students that the face2face Self-study DVD-ROM also contains a variety of practice exercises, class drills, class audio recordings and a review video for each unit. Note that the video on the Self-study DVD-ROM is a soap opera in 10 episodes, not the Real World videos. You can also point out that there is a grammar reference section, a word list, customisable tests and many other features. Encourage students to use the Self-study DVD-ROM at home after each lesson or unit.
- If your students need more practice in reading and writing, you can either do Reading and Writing Portfolio 1 (WB p52–p53) in class or ask students to do it at home. They can check the answers in the Workbook or with you next class. Note that students are asked to do a piece of writing at the end of each lesson, which they hand to you next class for checking. For more information on how to use the Reading and Writing Portfolio in class, see the next section.

Reading and Writing Portfolio

- There is a 20-page Reading and Writing Portfolio section in the Starter Workbook. This section contains 10 double-page stand-alone lessons, one for each unit of the Student's Book, which are designed for students to do in class or at home.

The topics and content of these lessons are based closely on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) reading and writing competences for level A1. At the end of this section there is a list of 'can do' statements that allows students to track their progress. For more information on the CEFR, see p14–p19.

- Reading and Writing Portfolio 1 (WB p52–p53) can be used any time after you have completed unit 1 of the Student's Book.

Tips for using the Reading and Writing Portfolios in class

- Use the photos and illustrations to establish characters and context in each lesson.
- Go through the examples in each exercise with the class to check that students understand what to do.
- Ask students to compare answers in pairs or groups before checking answers with the class. The answers are in the Answer Key in the middle of the Workbook (pi–pviii).
- Go through the Help with Writing sections with the class and use the examples to highlight the relevant points. Note that all the examples in these sections come from the presentation texts.
- If you have a monolingual class, consider comparing the rules for writing in English with those of the students' language.
- The final activity of each lesson asks the students to do some personalised writing, using what they have learned from the lesson. These activities are preceded by a preparation stage, in which students are asked to decide what they are going to write by filling in a table, making notes, etc.
- Ask students to do the final writing activity on separate pieces of paper and collect them in at the end of the class. If you set the final writing activity for homework, collect the students' work at the beginning of the next class.
- When marking students' work, make sure you comment on examples of correct English, as well as highlighting errors. Also remember to praise successful communication and interesting ideas as well as correct language.
- Consider asking students to write a second draft of their work, incorporating your corrections and suggestions. These can be collected in and corrected again, or put up around the classroom for other students to read.
- Remember that writing in a new language is a difficult skill to acquire, particularly if the students' first language is very different from English. At Starter level, it is important to encourage and praise students so that they view writing as a valuable and interesting part of the learning process.
- At the end of each lesson, ask students to tick the things they can do in the Reading and Writing Progress Portfolio (Workbook p72). This will help students monitor the progress they are making in their writing.

Extra Practice

The Extra Practice sections in the back of the Student's Book provide further controlled practice of the language taught in the unit. They can be done in class, or students can do the exercises on their own for homework. There are exercises for each lesson (1A, 1B, etc.), which can also be done as 'fillers' if you finish the final activity of a lesson a few minutes early. For Teaching Tips on Reviewing and Recycling, see p23.

Here are some ideas for exploiting the Extra Practice sections in class.

Make it a competition

Ask students to do individual exercises in pairs or groups (for example, Exercise 1 on SB p97). Give students a time limit of two or three minutes. Check the answers with the class. The pair/group with the most correct answers wins. Alternatively, put students into pairs and ask them to complete all the Extra Practice exercises. You can set a time limit of 15 or 20 minutes. Check the answers with the class and give one point for each correct answer. The pair with the most points wins. You may wish to give the winners a small prize at the end of the lesson!

Extension

After finishing an exercise, ask students to write similar sentences about themselves and people they know (for example, Exercise 2 on SB p103). Students can then compare sentences in pairs or in groups and check each other's work.

Word stress

After vocabulary exercises that focus on individual words (for example, Exercise 1 on SB p98), ask students to mark the stress on each word. Check the answers on the board, drilling problematic vocabulary as necessary.

Personalisation

Where appropriate, ask students to say how many of the sentences in an exercise are true for them (for example, Exercise 1 on SB p101), or ask students to tick vocabulary items that they like (for example, Exercise 1 on SB p103).

Role play

Put students into pairs to practise conversations (for example, Exercise 6 on SB p98). Students can then change roles and practise the conversation again. You can also ask them to memorise the conversation, close their books and practise the conversations from memory.

Progress Portfolio 1

The Progress Portfolio sections at the end of each Extra Practice section encourage students to reflect on what they have learned and help them decide which language areas they need to study again.

Note that the I can ... statements reflect communicative competences as set out in the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) for level A1. For more information on the CEFR, see p14 and the tables of competencies on p16–p19.

a Students work through the list of I can ... statements on their own and tick the things they feel they can do. They can refer to Language Summary 1 SB p114–p115 if they wish.

Students can also work in pairs or groups and compare which statements they have ticked.

b Students work on their own, in pairs or in groups and decide which language areas they need to study again. Encourage students to use the Self-study DVD-ROM lessons 1A–D to help them improve in these areas. For photocopyable instructions on how to use the Self-study DVD-ROM, see p11–p13. There is also further practice on all key language taught in the Student's Book in the face2face Second edition Starter Workbook.

She's British

Student's Book p14–p15

Vocabulary nationalities
Grammar be (singular): positive and negative

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews plurals. Students work on their own and write five singular words. Put students into pairs. Students complete the activity with their partner, as shown in the examples.

Nationalities

- 1 a Ask students which letters in the alphabet are vowels (a, e, i, o, u). Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

2 Brazil 3 Russia 4 the USA 5 Germany
6 Egypt 7 Australia 8 Mexico 9 Turkey
10 the UK 11 Spain 12 China

b Pre-teach nationality and elicit the plural form (nationalities). Students do the activity on their own or in pairs.

✍ Check answers with the class by writing the countries and nationalities on the board. Highlight that nationalities often end in -n, -an, -ian, -ish and -ese by underlining these endings on the board. You can also point out that we usually describe people from Brazil, Colombia, Peru, Argentina, etc. as South American, not American (which is only used to refer to people from the USA).

b8 c1 d3 e4 f11 g6 h2 i10 j9 k12 l7

- 2 a CD1 ▶ 30 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise the countries and nationalities. Note that students should say both words together (Italy, Italian, etc.). Repeat the drill if necessary. Point out that the same syllable is stressed in most nationalities (Brazil, Brazilian, etc.). Highlight the different stress patterns in Italy → Itálian, Egypt → Egýptian and China → Chínese.
- b Students do the exercise in pairs, as shown in the speech bubbles.
- c ✍ Write I'm from + country and I'm + nationality on the board. Elicit examples for each structure (I'm from Italy. I'm Italian., etc.). Focus students on the speech bubbles and teach the nationalities Japanese, French and Colombian. Model and drill these words with the class, highlighting the different stress pattern in Japán → Japanése. Ask students to tell the class their nationalities. ✍ If you have students who have different nationalities from those already taught in the lesson, write the countries and nationalities on the board and drill the words with the class.

EXTRA IDEAS

- If you have a monolingual class, teach the English words for the countries that border the students' own country, and any other countries that are of particular importance to them. Also teach students the corresponding nationalities.
- If you have a strong class, you can use Vocabulary Plus 2 Countries and nationalities p168 (Instructions p162) in class or give it to your students for homework.

Around the world

- 3 a Pre-teach a car. Focus students on photos A–D. Students do the exercise in pairs.
- b CD1 ▶ 31 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class.

C Brazilian D American

HELP WITH GRAMMAR

be (singular): positive

- 4 Pre-teach positive. Tell the class that all positive verb forms in the Student's Book are marked with a (+) sign. Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class. Note that the verb be is particularly problematic for students whose languages don't have an equivalent verb. If possible, check if your students' language(s) have the verb be, as this will help you understand why students might be making mistakes.

- Answers 1 'm 2 're 3 's 4 's 5 's
- Check students understand the subject pronouns I, you, he, she and it. Point out that we use it for things (a car, a book, etc.).
- Point out that 'm, 're and 's are parts of the verb be. Check students understand which part of be goes with each subject pronoun.
- Highlight that 'm, 're and 's are the contracted forms of am, are and is. Point out that contractions are very common in spoken and written English. Tell students to use contracted forms when speaking and writing, particularly after I, you, he, she and it.

- 5 CD1 ▶ 32 PRONUNCIATION Focus students on the example drill. Play the recording (SB p107). Students listen and practise. Check that students pronounce the contractions correctly. Repeat the drill if necessary, pausing for students to repeat chorally and individually.

- 6 a Students do the exercise on their own.
b Students do the exercise in pairs. Check answers with the class. Ask students to give reasons for the photos they chose.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR

be (singular): negative

- 7 Check students understand negative. Tell the class that all negative verb forms in the Student's Book are marked with a (-) sign. Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

- Answers 1 'm not 3 aren't 3 isn't 4 isn't 5 isn't
- Point out that we use not to make a verb form negative.
- Also highlight that I'm not is the contracted form of I am not, aren't is the contracted form of are not and isn't is the contracted form of is not. Remind students to use contracted forms when speaking and writing.
- ✍ Tell students that we can also say you're not, he's not, she's not and it's not, and write these forms on the board for students to copy.
- Point out that we can't say ~~I amn't~~ as an alternative to I'm not.

EXTRA IDEA

- Ask students to turn to Language Summary 2, SB p116–p117. Point out the vocabulary section VOCABULARY 2.1 and the grammar sections GRAMMAR 2.1 and GRAMMAR 2.2 from lesson 2A. Give students a few moments to read the sections so they can review what they have learned in the lesson. Remind students that all the new language from each lesson is included in the Language Summaries.

- 8 CD1 33 PRONUNCIATION Focus students on the example drill. Play the recording (SB p107). Students listen and practise the sentences in 7. Check that students pronounce the contractions correctly.

True or false?

- 9 a Pre-teach the vocabulary in the box using examples that students are likely to know. Point out that we usually say the capital, not the capital city (London is the capital of the UK., etc.). Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to do the exercise in 9b.
b Focus students on photos 1 and 2, and the corresponding examples. Use these to teach students true, false and tick. Drill these words with the class. Also point out that we use the pronoun She in the correct sentence in question 2, rather than repeating the name of the person (Gisele Bündchen). Students do the exercise in pairs.

- c Students check their answers on SB p134. Check answers by asking students one question each around the class. Ask if any students got all the answers correct.

3 Leonardo DiCaprio isn't Italian. He's American. 4 Nissan isn't a Chinese company. It's a Japanese company. 5 ✓ 6 The White House isn't in New York. It's in Washington. 7 Prince William isn't Russian. He's British. 8 ✓ 9 Fiat isn't a French company. It's an Italian company. 10 ✓

Get ready ... Get it right!

- 10 Focus students on the examples. Ask students if they think the sentences are true or false. The first sentence is true. The second sentence is false (BMW isn't a British company. It's a German company). Put students into new pairs. Students work with their partner and write three true sentences and three false sentences. If necessary, direct students to 9b for examples of the types of sentence they can write. While they are working, monitor and check their sentences for accuracy.
- 11 a Use the speech bubbles to teach I think that's ... as a way to give your opinion, and the answers Yes, you're right. and No, you're wrong. Drill these phrases with the class. Put two pairs together so that they are working in groups of four. If that isn't possible, organise the class into new pairs. Students take turns to read their sentences to the other pair or student, who must guess if the sentences are true or false. Tell students to keep a record of how many sentences they guess correctly. While they are working, monitor and correct any grammar or pronunciation mistakes you hear.
b Finally, ask students to tell the class two of their true sentences.

Vocabulary jobs

Grammar be (singular): questions and short answers

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews countries and nationalities. Students do the activity in pairs, as in the example. Remind students that they can check countries and nationalities in VOCABULARY 2.1 SB p116. At the end of the activity, ask each pair to tell the class one person or thing they talked about.

Jobs

1 a Pre-teach a job. Focus students on pictures a–i. Students do the exercise in pairs. Early finishers can check their answers in VOCABULARY 2.2 SB p116. Check answers with the class.

Point out that we say an actor/a waiter for men and an actress/a waitress for women (although nowadays an actor is often used for both men and women). All the other words can be used for both men and women. You can also teach students a shop assistant, a policeman and a policewoman.

Also highlight that we always use a or an with jobs: He's a doctor. not He's doctor. This is particularly important if your students don't have articles in their own language(s), or if they don't use articles for jobs in their own language(s).

Draw students' attention to the TIP and point out that only the main stress is shown in the vocabulary boxes and the Language Summaries. We feel this is the simplest and most effective way to make sure students put the main stress in the correct place. For example, the main stress in taxi driver is on the first syllable of taxi, not on the first syllable of driver (which is also stressed).

a doctor e; a teacher c; a sales assistant a;
an actor/an actress h; a waiter/a waitress i;
a taxi driver d; a musician f; a police officer g

b CD1 ▶ 34 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Alternatively, model each sentence yourself and ask students to repeat chorally and individually.

Highlight the pronunciation of manager /'mænɪdʒəl/ and musician /'mjuzɪʃən/. Also highlight the /ə/ sound at the end of most of the jobs, for example doctor /'dɒktə/, actor /'æktə/, teacher /'ti:tʃə/, etc.

c Use the speech bubbles to teach What's his job? and What's her job?. Drill the questions and answers with the class. Also teach and drill the question What's your job?.

Note that What do you do? is also a common question when asking about jobs. However, we feel at this stage of the course it is important to keep language as simple as possible. We suggest that you wait until students learn the Present Simple (in unit 4 of the Student's Book) before teaching this question.

Put students into new pairs. Students take turns to point to pictures a–i and ask questions about the people, as shown in the speech bubbles. Remind students of the phrase I don't know. before they begin.

EXTRA IDEAS

- If your students are all complete beginners, you may choose to present the vocabulary yourself first. Prepare flashcards for the jobs and hold them up in front of the class as you teach the words. The matching activity in 1a can then be used as controlled practice.
- ✎ If you have a strong class, teach the English words for students' jobs and write them on the board. You can also teach I'm a housewife/househusband, I'm unemployed and I'm retired /rɪ'taɪəd/. Check students remember What's your job?. Students then move around the room and ask each other what their jobs are.

Photos of friends

2 a Pre-teach the vocabulary in the box, using examples, board drawings, pictures, translation, etc. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the conversation they are about to hear.

Drill the words with the class. Point out that married, single and beautiful are all adjectives and are used with the verb be (I'm married. He's single. It's beautiful., etc.).

b CD1 ▶ 35 Focus students on the photo of Tina and Matt on SB p17 and point out photos 1–4 of Tina's friends. Play the recording (SB p107). Students listen and match the names in the box to photos 1–4. Check answers with the class.

- Point out that Where's = Where is and What's = What is. Encourage students to use contracted forms when speaking and writing.
- Point out that we don't use the contracted form of am or are in questions: Where am I? not Where'm I?, Where are you from? not Where're you from?, etc.
- Remind students that we can also make questions with How: How are you?, etc.

Point out that are is usually pronounced /ə/ in questions, for example, Where are /ə/ you from?. Repeat the drill if necessary, pausing the recording after each question for students to repeat chorally and individually.

b Ask students to cover the table in 2c. Focus students on the speech bubbles and drill the questions with the class. Also drill the equivalent questions with she/her (What's her name?, Where's she from?, What's her job?).

Check answers with the class by eliciting students' answers and writing them in the correct place on the board.

- Answers See the table in GRAMMAR 2.4 SB p117.
- Highlight the inverted word order in yes/no questions with be: Am I ... ?, Are you ... ?, Is he ... ?, etc.
- Point out that we don't usually answer these questions with just Yes. or No., as this can sound impolite.
- Point out that we can also say No, you're not., No, he's not., No, she's not. and No, it's not.
- Highlight that we don't use contractions in positive short answers: Yes, you are. not Yes, you're., Yes, I am. not Yes, I'm., Yes, he is. not Yes, he's., etc.
- Also highlight that we don't usually use the uncontracted form in negative short answers: No, you aren't. not No, you are not., etc.

7 CD1 37 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Check that students pronounce the contractions correctly.

Play the recording again if necessary, pausing after each question or short answer for students to repeat individually.

8 a Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

2 Is 3 Are 4 Are 5 Is 6 Are 7 Is 8 Is b Students do the exercise in pairs. Remind students to use the correct short answers.

a Focus students on the six photos. Tell the class that the people are all friends of Matt (the man in the photo on SB p17). Students work on their own and write yes/no questions to check the information in blue, as in the example. Students are not allowed to look at each other's books. While they are working, monitor and check their questions for accuracy.

EXTRA IDEA
• Ask students to check their yes/no questions with another student from the same group before they work with their partner in b.

b Check students understand that some of the information in blue is correct and some is incorrect. Students work with their partners. Student As ask their questions from a and either tick the correct information or change the incorrect information for each person.

Encourage student Bs to use the correct short answers during the activity. While they are working, monitor and check students are doing the activity correctly.

c Students swap roles and student B in each pair asks his/her questions from a.

d Put students in pairs with another student of the same group. Students compare answers by saying sentences about the people, as in the example.

Finally, ask students to tell the class about each person in turn.

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews jobs. Students work on their own and write four jobs. Pre-teach mime by miming a job (for example, a musician) and asking students what the job is. Put students into pairs. Students take turns to mime the jobs on their list and guess their partner's jobs.

Good morning!

- 1 a Check students remember married and single. Point out that Brown, King and Roberts are common surnames in the UK. Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class. Point out that Ms can be used for married and single women.

1c 2a 3b

b CD1 ▶ 38 PRONUNCIATION Focus students on the example. Play the recording (SB p108). Students listen and practise. Highlight the pronunciation of Mr /'mɪstə/, Mrs /'mɪsɪz/ and Ms /mæz/. Repeat the drill if necessary.

- 2 a Focus students on pictures A–D. Ask students who the man is in all four pictures (Mr Brown). Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs.

EXTRA IDEA

- If you have a class of complete beginners, teach the words morning, afternoon, evening and night before asking students to do 2a.

- b CD1 ▶ 39 Play the recording (SB p108). Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class.

Point out that Good morning, Good afternoon and Good evening mean Hello and that Good night means Goodbye. Tell the class that we also say Good night before going to bed.

Highlight that Good morning, Good night, etc. are more formal than Hello/Hi and Goodbye/Bye. Also point out that we often respond to Good morning, etc. by repeating the same phrase.

Use picture C to teach sir /sɜː/ (a polite way to address a man you don't know) and the female equivalent, madam /'mædəm/.

PRONUNCIATION Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence or phrase for students to repeat chorally and individually. Check that students sound polite and interested.

A Good morning B Good afternoon (x2)
C Good evening (x2) D Good night (x2)

- c Students practise the conversations in pairs. Ask a few pairs to role-play the conversations for the class.

REAL WORLD Email addresses

- 3 Focus students on the email address and the speech bubble. Point out that we say dot (.) and at (@) when we say email addresses.

- 4 a Focus students on the business card, mobile phone and email. Students work in pairs and try to say email addresses 1–4.

- b CD1 ▶ 40 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers.

5 a CD1 41 PRONUNCIATION Focus students on the example drill. Play the recording (SB p108). Students listen and practise. Check they say @, .co.uk, .com, .net and .org correctly. Repeat the drill if necessary.

b Focus students on the speech bubbles. Drill the question What's your email address?. Ask students to write down their email addresses and give them time to work out how to say them in English. If necessary, teach students that we also say hyphen (-) and underscore (_).

Also check students know how to say the part of their email address that indicates their country (.uk, .es, .ja, etc.). Note that we usually say country email addresses letter by letter (dot u-k, dot e-s, dot j-a, etc.), while we say .com, .net, .org, etc. as single words.

Students move around the room and ask three people for their email addresses. Alternatively, they can ask three people sitting near them. Students write each person's email address, then check that they have written each address correctly.

EXTRA IDEAS

- In some classes it may not be appropriate for students to give each other their real email addresses. If this is the case in your class, write fictitious email addresses on cards and give them to your students before doing 5b.
- Alternatively, ask each student to choose a famous fictional character or celebrity and invent an email address for him or her (james.bond007@gmail.com, etc.). They can then pretend to be that character or celebrity when they do 5b.

Personal information questions

6 Check students remember vowels (a, e, i, o, u) and highlight the vowels in blue in sentence 1. Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class. Note that these sentences are drilled later in the lesson in 8.

- Answers 2 What's your surname? 3 What's your nationality? 4 What's your address? 5 What's your mobile number? 6 What's your email address?
- Check students remember What's ... ? = What is ... ?.
- Remind students of the personal information question What's your home number?.
- You can also teach the question What's your work number? if you think this will be useful for your students.

7 a Focus students on the photo of Karen and Peter and pre-teach a gym. Also draw students' attention to Peter's business card on SB p18. Ask students where Peter works (The City Gym) and what his job is (he's a manager).

VIDEO 2 CD1 42 Play the video or audio recording (SB p108). Students watch or listen and tick the sentences in 6 when they hear them. Ask students how many sentences they ticked.

Note that all the Real World videos can be found on the Teacher's DVD at the back of this book.

b Focus students on form A and pre-teach a new member (a person who joins the gym for the first time). Ask students who is the new member in the photo (Karen).

Play the video or audio recording again. Students watch or listen and complete the form. Play the video or audio recording again if necessary.

c Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

Highlight L11 7HR in Karen's address and teach a postcode (US: a zip code).

surname Wendell nationality British address 7 Hatherley Road, Liverpool L11 7HR mobile number 07854 864247 email address k.wendell9@gmail.com

EXTRA IDEA

- Ask students to look at Audio and Video Script VIDEO 2 CD1 42 SB p108. Play the recording again. Students listen, read and underline all the personal information questions.

8 CD1 43 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p108). Students listen and practise. Establish that intonation is very important in English and that the correct intonation pattern can help students to sound polite. Repeat the drill if necessary, focusing on polite intonation.

9 a Put students into pairs. If possible, ask students to work with someone they don't know very well. Students take turns to interview their partner and fill in form B. Remind students to use the questions in 6 when they are the interviewer. Also remind students of the questions How do you spell that? and Can you repeat that, please? before they begin.

EXTRA IDEA

- If your students know each other well, or if you feel it is inappropriate for your students to give each other their personal details, use Class Activity 2C The City Gym p131 as an alternative to 9a (see Procedure A, Instructions p116).

b Students work in their pairs and check that all the information on their partner's form is correct. Finally, you can ask one or two pairs to role-play their conversations for the class.

EXTRA IDEAS

- When students have finished 9a, put them into new pairs. Students ask questions with he/his and she/her about the person his/her partner has just interviewed (What's his/her first name?, What's his/her surname?, etc.).
- Alternatively, Class Activity 2C The City Gym p131 can also be used to practise he/his and she/her questions (see Procedure B, Instructions p116).

WRITING

Ask students to imagine they are new members at The City Gym. Students write a conversation between Peter and themselves, using the personal information questions in 6 and their own answers.

VOCABULARY AND SKILLS

How old is she?
Student's Book p20–p21

Vocabulary numbers 13–100
Real World How old ... ?
Skills Listening: five conversations

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews numbers 0–12. Students do the first part of the activity on their own. Put students into pairs. Students check their partner's spelling and then say the numbers. Students can check spelling in VOCABULARY 1.1 SB p114.

1 CD1 ▶ 44 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise the numbers. Note that stress is dealt with in 3a–c. Point out the irregular spelling of thirteen and fifteen.

2 a Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class. Point out that we can also say one hundred, but that a hundred is more common.

40 forty 50 fifty 60 sixty 70 seventy 80 eighty 90 ninety 100 a hundred

b ✍ Remind students of word stress by writing some multi-syllable words on the board and asking the class which syllable is stressed.

CD1 ▶ 45 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Highlight the pronunciation of thirty /'θɜ:ti/ and forty /'fɔ:ti/.

HELP WITH LISTENING

Numbers with -teen and -ty

This Help with Listening section helps students to hear the difference between numbers that end in -teen and those that end in -ty.

3 a CD1 ▶ 46 Play the recording. Students listen and notice the stress on the numbers. Point out that we usually stress the -teen syllable in numbers 13–19 and the first syllable in numbers 20–100.

We appreciate that this stress rule for numbers ending in -teen is somewhat simplistic, as there are times when we naturally stress the first syllable (for example, when counting or when the number is followed by a noun). However, we feel that at this level it is more helpful to give students a clear rule that will avoid confusion and be correct most of the time (for example, when talking about ages later in the lesson).

b Students do the exercise on their own before comparing answers in pairs.

c CD1 ▶ 47 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers.

✍ If necessary, write the numbers on the board and ask students which syllable is stressed in each number.

seventeen ninety fifty thirteen thirty nineteen seventy fifteen

4 CD1 ▶ 46 CD1 ▶ 47 PRONUNCIATION Play both recordings again. Students listen and practise. Alternatively, model the numbers yourself in order and ask students to repeat chorally and individually. Check that students stress the numbers correctly. Note that the th sound /θ/ (as in thirty, thirteen, etc.) is dealt with in the Help with Pronunciation section at the end of unit 4.

- 5 a Focus students on the examples. Point out that we use a hyphen (-) in these numbers. Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs.

✍ Check the answers by writing the numbers (23, etc.) on the board and asking students how to write the words (twenty-three, etc.).

Point out that we usually put the main stress on the final syllable in compound numbers (twenty-one, twenty-two, etc.).

23 twenty-three 24 twenty-four 25 twenty-five 26 twenty-six 27 twenty-seven 28 twenty-eight 29 twenty-nine

EXTRA IDEA

- ✍ Write a few other numbers between 31 and 99 on the board and ask students how we say them.

b Students work in pairs and take turns to say the numbers.

Check students' pronunciation by going round the class and asking them to say one number each.

- 6 a Students work on their own and write four numbers.
b Students do the exercise in new pairs.

EXTRA IDEA

- Use Class Activity 2D Hear a number, say a number p132 (Instructions p116).

- 7 a Focus students on the photo. Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the conversation they are about to hear.

Check answers with the class. Model and drill the vocabulary with the class if necessary.

a girl 5; a house 1; a cat 3; a dog 4

b CD1 48 Tell students they are going to listen to five conversations about the people, animals or things in the photo. Play the recording (SB p108). Students listen and fill in the gaps with the correct numbers. Play the recording again if necessary.

Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

Note that in the UK and many other countries, we often think of one 'human year' as being equivalent to seven 'dog years'.

a 13 b 100 c 9 d 21 e 7 (or 49 'dog years')

- 8 a Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class. Point out that we usually use How old is/are ... ? to ask about age (not How many years ... ? or What age is/are ... ?).

Highlight that we use the verb be to talk about age, not have: I'm twenty-six. not ~~I have twenty-six~~.

Also highlight that we don't usually say years old for people: Emily's nine., I'm thirty., etc., and that we don't say ~~I'm thirty years~~.

Explain that in the UK and other English-speaking countries, asking people how old they are is often considered impolite, particularly if you don't know them very well.

You can also teach the noun age /eɪdʒ/, but point out that we don't say ~~What age are you?~~.

2 is 3 old 4 are 5 I'm

b CD1 49 PRONUNCIATION Focus students on the speech bubbles in 8a. Play the recording. Students listen and practise.

- 9 Focus students on the photo. Ask them to cover 7 and 8. Students do the activity in pairs.

EXTRA IDEA

- Students move around the room and ask each other how old they are. Students can also find out if anyone is the same age as them. You can tell your students they don't have to tell the truth!

- 10 a Put students into new pairs. Focus students on the photos and the ages in the box.

Students work with their partner and try to guess how old each person is. Before they begin, use the speech bubbles to remind students that we say I think ... when we want to give our opinion.

b Students check their answers on SB p134.

Finally, ask each pair how many answers they got right and find out which pair got the most correct answers.

Amybeth 24; Richard 58; Lucinda 22
Adela 47; Dagmar 76
Joe 13; Alexander 16
Luke 35; Jessica 41; Maggie 71
Salvador 3; Alec 5; Ilsa 2
Jean 80; Bill 87; Chris 51

EXTRA IDEA

- Before asking students to check their answers to 10a on SB p134, put students into groups of four or six and ask them to compare their ideas.

HELP WITH PRONUNCIATION /ɪ/ and /iː/

1 CD1 ▶ 50 Focus students on the phonemes /ɪ/ and /iː/, the pictures and the words. Play the recording. Students listen to the sounds and the words. Point out that i in six is pronounced with an /ɪ/ sound and ee in nineteen is pronounced with an /iː/ sound. Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. If students are having problems, help them with the mouth position for each sound.

Point out that /ɪ/ is a short sound and /iː/ is a long sound (as indicated by the : symbol). Also highlight that the mouth is wide when saying the /iː/ sound. You can tell students that the letter e is also pronounced /iː/.

2 CD1 ▶ 51 Focus students on the boxes. Point out that the pink vowels are pronounced /ɪ/ and the blue vowels are pronounced /iː/. Play the recording. Students listen and notice how we say the pink and blue vowels. Play the recording again. Students listen and practise.

3 a Focus students on the words in the box. Go through the examples with the class. Students do the exercise on their own.

While students are working, write the words on the board ready for checking in 3c.

b Students compare answers in pairs. Tell students to say the words to each other when comparing answers.

c CD1 ▶ 52 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers.

Check the answers by eliciting the correct sound for each of the vowels in bold and writing it on the board under the vowel, as shown in the Answer Key below.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise the words. Check they pronounce the vowels in bold correctly.

Finally, ask students to say the words for the class.

Vocabulary adjectives (1); word order with adjectives; very

Grammar be (plural): positive, negative, questions and short answers

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews numbers 1–100. Students do the activity in pairs. If you have a small class, you can do the activity by asking students to count in threes and fours round the class.

Adjectives (1)

1 a Focus students on the pictures and use the example (good and bad) to teach the meaning of adjective and opposite. Tell students that each pair of words are opposites. Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Early finishers can check their answers in Language Summary 3 VOCABULARY 3.1 SB p118. Check answers with the class.

Note that nice is a very general positive adjective that can mean good, friendly, enjoyable, beautiful, comfortable, delicious, etc. The opposite of nice therefore depends on the context.

hot/cold e; big/small c; new/old g; expensive/cheap f; beautiful/ugly b; friendly/unfriendly a; nice h b CD1 53 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Alternatively, model the words yourself and ask students to repeat chorally and individually. Check that students copy the word stress correctly. Repeat the drill if necessary.

EXTRA IDEA

- After doing 1b, students work in pairs and take turns to test each other on the adjectives. One student says an adjective, for example hot, and his/her partner says the opposite, for example cold.

HELP WITH VOCABULARY

Word order with adjectives; very

2 a Ask students to read the rules about adjectives and the examples.  Alternatiely, write the example sentences on the board and go through the rules with the class, highlighting the following points.

- Adjectives go after be: Your watch is nice. not Your watch nice is.
- Adjectives go before nouns: It's a new car. not It's a car new.
- Also highlight that the adjective comes after the article a (It's a new car) and that we use an when the adjective begins with a vowel (It's an old car).
- Adjectives are not plural with plural nouns. They're good friends. not They're goods friends.
- Also highlight the word order in questions: Are you cold?, Is he friendly?, etc.

b Students do the exercise on their own. Go through the following points with the class.

- Use the pictures to check students understand the meaning of very.
- Highlight that we put very before adjectives: It's very hot.
- Point out that we say It's (very) hot/cold. to talk about the weather. Highlight It at the beginning of the sentence and point out that we say It's hot. not Is-hot., etc.

3 Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class. Highlight the word order in each answer.

2 He's a very good actor. 3 It's an expensive camera. 4 His friends are very nice. 5 She's a good musician. 6 Her house is very beautiful. 7 It's a very cold night. 8 Your children are very friendly.

An email to friends

4 a Students do the exercise in pairs. Note that these words are cognates in many languages, so students may already know what they mean as they have the same or similar words in their own language. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the conversation they are about to hear.

b Check the meaning of any words in 4a that students don't know using pictures, drawings, translation, etc. Model and drill the words with the class. Point out that restaurant /'restrɒnt/ is two syllables, not three. Also highlight that although there is usually an accent on café in English, we stress the first syllable, not the second.

c Check students understand an email by referring to email A. Point out that the stress on email is on the first syllable, not the second.

Ask who the people in the photo are (Alice and Mike). Students read email A and find out where Alice and Mike are (in Istanbul, Turkey). Teach the new words and, but, here and now in the email. Note and and but are practised further in Reading and Writing Portfolio 3 on p56–p57 of the face2face Second edition Starter Workbook.

Highlight that people is always plural in English: the people are friendly not the people is friendly. You can also point out that we often end emails to friends or family with Love and then our name(s).

5 Go through the two examples with the class and check they understand what to do. Students do the exercise on their own before comparing answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

3 The people are friendly. 4 ✓ 5 Alice and Mike are in a small hotel. 6 ✓ 7 The rooms are very big.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR

be (plural): positive and negative

6 Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class.

- Answers We're in a new hotel. They're very big. We aren't in the hotel now. They aren't very expensive.
- Point out that are is the plural form of be (as well as the singular you form).
- Check students understand we and they. Point out that we can use they for people and things.
- Tell students that you is singular and plural: You're a student. You're students. Also remind students that there is no polite form of you in English.
- Highlight that we're, you're and they're are contracted forms of we are, you are and they are.
- Also point out that we don't contract are after a name or a noun: Alice and Mike are in Moscow. not Alice and Mike're in Moscow. and The rooms are nice. not The rooms're nice.
- Check students remember that aren't is the contracted form of are not.
- Tell students that we can also say we're not, you're not and they're not.

7 CD1 ▶ 54 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise the sentences in 6. Check that students pronounce the contractions correctly. Alternatively, model each sentence yourself and ask students to repeat chorally and individually. You can also point out that the pronunciation of you're and your is the same /jɔː/.

HELP WITH LISTENING Contractions

This Help with Listening section helps students to understand contractions in natural spoken English.

8 a Use the examples (I'm, we're, aren't, etc.) to teach students what a contraction is. Give students time to read sentences 1–6. Check students understand that the missing words in each sentence are contractions, as shown in the example in 1.

CD1 ▶ 55 Play the recording (SB p108), pausing after each sentence to allow students time to write. Students listen and fill in the gaps with the correct contractions.

Play the recording again if necessary.

b Students compare answers in pairs.

Check answers with the class by writing the sentences on the board and asking students to tell you the missing contractions. Ask students which contractions are negative (aren't and isn't).

- 1 We aren't from Italy, we're from Spain.
- 2 It's a new hotel, but it isn't very nice.
- 3 He's a doctor and he isn't married.
- 4 You aren't Australian, you're American.
- 5 I'm a manager and she's a musician.
- 6 They're actors, but they aren't very good.

9 CD1 ▶ 55 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. Check they are pronouncing the contractions correctly. Repeat the drill if necessary, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat chorally and individually.

Where are they?

10 Focus students on email B. Ask who the people in the photo are (Liz and Steve). Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

2 're 3 's 4 are 5 aren't 6 're 7 are 8 isn't 9 's

HELP WITH GRAMMAR

be (plural): questions and short answers

11 Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. While they are working, copy the table onto the board so you are ready to check students' answers. Check answers with the class by eliciting students' answers and writing them in the correct place on the board.

- Answers See the table in GRAMMAR 3.2 ▶ SB p119.
- Highlight the inverted word order in yes/no questions: Are they ... ?, Are you ... ?, etc.
- Point out that we can also say No, we're not., No, you're not. and No, they're not.
- Also point out that we don't usually answer these questions with just Yes. or No. as this can sound impolite.
- Highlight that we don't usually use contractions in positive short answers: Yes, you are. not Yes, you're., etc.
- Also highlight that we don't usually use the uncontracted form in negative short answers: No, you aren't. not No, you are not., etc.
- Highlight the word order in Wh- questions. Point out that we don't contract Where are: Where are you? not Where're you?

EXTRA IDEA

- Ask students to turn to Language Summary 3, SB p119. Focus students on GRAMMAR 3.1 ▶ and GRAMMAR 3.2 ▶. Give students time to study the grammar tables, read the TIPS and ask you any questions.

12 CD1 ▶ 56 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Repeat the drill if necessary.

a Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class. Only check the verb forms so that students don't hear the questions they are about to be asked. Note that the answers are the same for student As and student Bs.

Student A/Student B
2 Are 3 Are 4 's 5 Are 6 Is

b Students do the exercise on their own. They can make notes of the answers if necessary.

c Students work with their partners. Student As ask their questions about Alice and Mike from a. Encourage student Bs to use short answers where appropriate (Yes, they are., No, they aren't. etc.). Student A then tells his/her partner how many of his/her answers are correct. While they are working, monitor and correct any mistakes you hear.

d Students swap roles so that student Bs ask their questions about Liz and Steve from a. Check answers with the class if necessary. Finally, ask the class how many students answered all the questions correctly.

Student A 1 They're in Istanbul. 2 Yes, they are. 3 No, they aren't. 4 It's near the Blue Mosque. 5 Yes, they are. 6 No, it isn't. / No, it's very hot.

Student B 1 They're in Cairo. 2 Yes, they are. 3 Yes, they are. 4 It's near the Egyptian museum. 5 Yes, they are. 6 No, it isn't.

EXTRA IDEA

- Ask your students to bring in photos of their family to the next class, so that they can be used during the Get ready ... Get it right! speaking activity in lesson 3B.

Grammar possessive 's; subject pronouns (I, you, etc.) and possessive adjectives (my, your, etc.)

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews adjectives. Students work on their own and write four adjectives. Tell students to choose adjectives they learned in lesson 3A. Students complete the activity in pairs, as shown in the examples. Ask each pair to tell the class one or two things for the adjectives they chose.

Our family

1 CD1 57 Focus students on the photo of the Cooper family. Play the recording. Students listen and read speech bubbles 1–4. Play the recording again if necessary.

Note that students are often asked to 'listen and read' in the Student's Book. At this level we feel it is very useful for students to listen and read at the same time, as this helps them to 'tune in' to English and to connect what they hear with how it is written.

2 a Focus students on the table. Go through the headings with the class. Check they understand the male and female symbols in the column headings and teach the meaning of both. Students do the exercise in pairs.

✍ While they are working, draw the table, including the words (father, etc.) on the board.

Check answers with the class by eliciting the missing words and writing them in the correct places in the table on the board.

Point out that dad and mum are informal words for father and mother. You can also teach kids, which is an informal word for children, and a boyfriend/a girlfriend.

Highlight that the singular form of parents is a parent and that the plural of a wife is wives, not wifes. Also highlight that the plural of a child is irregular (children).

You can also point out that your parents are your mother and father only, and that other family members who are not part of your immediate family (aunts, uncles, etc.) are called relatives.

men/boys 	women/girls 	both father (dad)	mother (mum)	parents son	daughter	children (singular: child)

b CD1 ▶ 58 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise the words. Highlight the pronunciation of parents /'peərənts/. Point out that the stress is on all the two-syllable words in the table is always on the first syllable. Also highlight the /ʌ/ sound in mother /'mʌðə/, mum /mʌm/, son /sʌn/, husband /'hʌzbənd/ and brother /'brʌðə/. Note that this sound is practised further in the Help with Pronunciation section in this unit.

EXTRA IDEAS

- If you have a class of complete beginners, consider teaching the family vocabulary yourself at the beginning of the lesson.  Draw the Cooper family tree on the board (father: Nick, mother: Fiona, son: Kevin, daughter: Anne). Then use the relationships between the people to teach the vocabulary in bold in the speech bubbles. You can then use 2 for practice.
-  Alternatively, draw your own family tree and use this to teach the family vocabulary. You can also bring in photos of your family to show the class.

3 Students do the exercise on their own before comparing answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

2 son 3 mother 4 daughter
5 father 6 sister 7 parents

HELP WITH GRAMMAR Possessive 's

4 Go through the rule and the TIP with the class. Highlight the following points.

- We use a name or a noun for a person + 's for the possessive. For example, we say Fiona is Nick's wife. not Fiona is the wife of Nick., and It's my sister's car. not It's the car of my sister. Use the second example to highlight that we use 's for things we have, as well as for family relationships.

- Check students understand that we can use 's with other nouns for people: It's my teacher's car. It's his friend's camera., etc. Note that we can use the possessive 's with some other nouns (It's the world's biggest animal., etc.), but at Starter level we feel it is easier for students to focus only on nouns for people.
- Point out that 's can mean is or the possessive: Anne's my sister. ('s = is) Kevin is Nick's son. ('s = possessive)
- Point out that for plural nouns, the apostrophe (') is after the -s: It's my parents' house.
- Also highlight that when there are two names, the 's goes after the second name only: They're Kevin and Anne's parents. not They're Kevin's and Anne's parents.
- You can tell students that when a name ends in an /s/ sound, the 's is pronounced as an extra syllable /ɪz/, for example Luis's /lu:'i:ɪz/, Chris's /'krɪsɪz/, etc.

5 CD1 ▶ 59 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p108). Students listen and practise the sentences in 3. Check that students pronounce the possessive 's in each sentence correctly.

Students might ask why we don't contract is in these sentences (Nick's Fiona's son., etc.). You can point out that writing 's twice in short sentences such as these looks rather unnatural, but is still correct.

6 Focus students on the example. Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

2 Fiona is Nick's wife. 3 Kevin is Fiona's son.
4 Anne is Nick's daughter. 5 Kevin is Anne's brother.
6 Anne and Kevin are Nick and Fiona's children.

Our grandchildren

7 a Focus students on the photo of Sid and Mary. Tell the class that they are Kevin and Anne's grandparents.

Students work on their own and complete the table with the words in the box.

Check answers with the class. Point out that the singular of grandchildren is a grandchild.

	grandfather	grandson
	grandmother	granddaughter
 	grandparents	grandchildren

b CD1 ▶ 60 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Point out that the stress on these words is always on the first syllable, and that we don't pronounce the d in grand-: grandfather /'grænfɑ:ðə/, etc.

8 a CD1 61 Tell the class they are going to listen to Mary talk about her family. Play the recording (SB p108). Students listen and put the people in the order she talks about them. Check answers with the class.

Anne 4; Fiona 2; Kevin 5; Nick 3

b Give students time to read questions 1–6. Play the recording again. Students listen and answer the questions. Check answers with the class.

2 She's a teacher. 3 She's 43. 4 He's a doctor.
5 Yes, she is. 6 He's 12.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR

Subject pronouns (I, you, etc.) and possessive adjectives (my, your, etc.)

9 a Focus students on the four example sentences from the recording. Point out the words in blue and pink in these sentences. Students complete the table on their own or in pairs.

While students are working, draw the table on the board so that you are ready to check their answers. Check answers with the class.

- subject pronouns: I, you, he, she, it, we, they
- possessive adjectives: my, your, his, her, its, our, their

b Focus students on the box. Use the examples to check students understand the difference between a verb and a noun.

Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class.

family N; listen V; read V; cat N c Go through the rules with the class. Use the examples to highlight that we use subject pronouns with verbs (I'm, you listen, they read, etc.) and possessive adjectives with nouns (my sister, your family, their cat, etc.).

Point out that you and your are both singular and plural. Also point out that verbs in English always need a subject: It's my bag. not Is my bag., etc.

If it's relevant for your students, point out that nouns in English have no gender and that we use it or its to refer to a thing: It's a very nice photo. etc.

10 Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs.

Check answers with the class. Highlight that their is pronounced the same as they're /ðeə/.

You can also use question 3 to point out that we usually use his or her to refer to animals if we know what gender they are, and it if we don't.

2 They, their 3 our, His 4 My, your 5 you, his 6 Her, she

Get ready ... Get it right!

11 Students write a list of people in their family. Tell students to write only the names of family members that they have learned in the lesson (not uncles, aunts, cousins, etc.).

EXTRA IDEAS

- If you asked your students to bring in photos of their family at the end of the previous lesson, they can use these photos instead of writing the names of their family. Teach students to say This is ... when they point to a person in the photo (This is Lucas. He's my brother., etc.).
- Students can draw their family tree instead of writing a list of names in 11. You can demonstrate this by drawing your own family tree on the board before they begin. You can also use your family tree to elicit the questions in the speech bubbles in 12a.

12 a Use the speech bubbles to remind students of the questions How old is he?, What's his job? and Is he married?. Elicit the corresponding questions with she (How old is she?, etc.). Put students into pairs. If possible, ask students to work with someone they don't know very well.

Students take turns to tell their partner who the people are on their list. Their partner asks questions about each person, as shown in the speech bubbles. While students are working, monitor and correct any mistakes you hear.

b Finally, ask each student to tell the class about one person in their partner's family, as shown in the speech bubble.

WRITING

Students write a short description of their family. Ask students to include a family tree, and/or some photos of family members. Their descriptions can be collected in the next class and put around the room for other students to read.

At the end of the activity, you can ask a few students to tell the class about their partner's family.

Money and prices

- 1 a Pre-teach money /'mʌni/ and price /praɪs/. Drill these words with the class.
Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.
Check students understand the symbols £ (pounds), $ (dollars), € (euros), p (pence) and c (cents). Point out that in the UK it is much more common to say ten p than ten pence, although both are correct. Also point out that we often miss out the currency words (pounds, euros, etc.) in prices with both pounds and pence or euros/dollars and cents if the context is clear (ten fifty, five ninety-nine, etc.). However, we always say the currency when there are no pence or cents (ten pounds, fifty euros, twelve dollars, etc.).
Also teach students how to say the currency from their country/countries in English if appropriate.

- Point out that we use How much is ... ? for singular nouns and it, and How much are ... ? for plural nouns and they.
- You can teach students this (in question 1). Note that this, that, these and those are taught in lesson 4C.

- 5 CD1 ▶ 65 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise the questions in 4. Alternatively, model and drill the questions yourself.

Can I help you?

- 6 a Focus students on the Café Pronto price list. Teach the words food and drink.
Students work on their own or in pairs and match the food and drink on the price list to photos 1–10. Check answers with the class.
Point out that the Italian words cappuccino and espresso, and the French word croissant, are very common in English, particularly in coffee shops and cafés. You can also teach other Italian words for types of coffee that often appear on café price lists, for example a latte /'læteɪ/ (coffee made with hot milk), an Americano /ə'merɪ'kɑ:nəʊ/ (black coffee), a mocha /'mɒkə/ (coffee with chocolate), etc.
Teach students that we can also say a white coffee (with milk) and a black coffee (without milk).
Point out that we can say a mineral water or a bottle of mineral water and that we can say a coffeeltea or a cup of coffeeltea.

1 a cheese and tomato sandwich 2 a tea
3 a mineral water 4 an orange juice 5 a cappuccino
6 a croissant 7 a tuna salad 8 an espresso
9 an egg sandwich 10 a coffee

EXTRA IDEA

- Give students one minute to remember all the things on the Café Pronto price list. Ask students to close their books. Students work in pairs and write down all the food and drink items they can remember.

- b CD1 ▶ 66 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p108). Students listen and practise the food and drink on the price list. Highlight the pronunciation of cappuccino /kæpu'tʃi:nəʊ/, orange juice /'ɒrɪndʒ dʒu:s/, croissant /'kwæʃənt/ and sandwich /'sænwɪdʒ/. Play the recording again, pausing after each word so that students can repeat individually.

c Ask students to cover the price list. Students do the exercise in pairs, as shown in the speech bubbles.

7 Focus students on the speech bubbles and drill these examples with the class.

Students do the exercise in new pairs. While they are working, monitor and correct students' pronunciation if necessary.

8 a Focus students on the photo of Café Pronto on SB p27. Use the people in the photo to teach an assistant and a customer.

VIDEO 3 CD1 67 Play the video or audio recording (SB p108). Students watch or listen and tick what the two customers order on the price list. Note that all the Real World videos can be found on the Teacher's DVD at the back of this book.

Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

1 an orange juice and a cheese and tomato sandwich
2 two cappuccinos, a croissant and an egg sandwich

b Play the video or audio recording again. Students listen and write how much each customer spends. Check the answers with the class.

9 Focus students on the conversation. Check they understand that the assistant says the sentences in the yellow boxes and the customer says the sentences in the red boxes. Point out that the language in brackets can change, depending on what the customer orders. Note that the language that students need to learn for productive use is always in the red boxes in these flow charts.

Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

- Answers 2 please 3 thanks 4 away 5 in 6 very
- Check students understand all the sentences in the conversation. Highlight the difference between eat in (eat in the café) and take away (take the food and eat it somewhere else).
- You can point out that we say take away in British English and to go in American English.
- You can also teach Of course as an alternative to Sure.

10 a CD1 68 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p109). Students listen and practise the sentences in 9. Encourage students to copy the polite intonation. Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat chorally and individually.

b Put students into pairs, student A and student B. Student As are assistants and student Bs are customers. Students practise the conversation in 9 with their partner. After students have practised the conversation a few times, ask them to change roles.

EXTRA IDEA

- Before students work in pairs, practise the conversation in 'open pairs'. See Teaching Tips on drilling on p23.

11 a Put students into new pairs. Focus students on the Café Pronto price list on SB p26.

Students take turns to be the customer and order food and drink. The assistant must work out how much to charge the customer. You can ask students to cover the conversation in 9 before they begin.

b Finally, ask a few pairs to role-play a conversation in Café Pronto for the class.

Skills Listening: Fiona's family; Reading and Listening: food and drink I like QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews money and prices. Students work on their own and write four prices, as in the examples. Students complete the activity in pairs.

1 a Focus students on the photo. Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class. Note that many of these words (milk, tea, rice, fruit, etc.) are uncountable nouns. However, we feel that asking students to differentiate between countable and uncountable nouns would be unnecessarily complicated at Starter level. Note that countable and uncountable nouns are dealt with thoroughly in face2face Second edition Elementary.

milk 6; tea 2; sugar 14; meat 11; fish 9; orange juice 5; eggs 13; cheese 12; bread 7; pasta 15; rice 10; vegetables 4; fruit 1; chocolate 16; water 8

b CD1 ▶ 69 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Alternatively, model the words yourself and ask students to repeat chorally and individually.

Highlight the pronunciation of orange juice /'ɒrɪndʒ dʒu:s/, vegetables /'vedʒtəbəlz/, fruit /fru:t/ and chocolate /'tʃɒklət/. Point out that vegetables is three syllables, not four, and that chocolate is two syllables, not three.

EXTRA IDEAS

- If you have a class of complete beginners, consider teaching this vocabulary yourself at the beginning of the lesson. Prepare flashcards of the food and drink items and teach the words one by one. You can then use the matching activity in 1a for practice.
- If you have a strong class, use Vocabulary Plus 3 Food and drink p169 (Instructions p163) in this lesson or give this worksheet to students for homework.

2 a Give students one minute to remember all the words for food and drink in the photo. Students are not allowed to write anything down.

b Ask students to close their books. Put students into pairs. Students say all the words for food and drink in the photo they can remember. Alternatively, ask them to write down the words in their pairs.

✍ Ask one pair to tell you all the words for food and drink they can remember and write them on the board. Ask other students to tell you any missing words until you have all 16 words from 1a.

3 Focus students on pictures A–D. Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

Check students understand the new verbs like, love, eat and drink. We suggest you treat these verbs as lexical items at this stage and avoid eliciting any negative sentences during the lesson. Note that the Present Simple is taught in units 4 and 5.

Also check students understand a lot of: I drink a lot of coffee., I eat a lot of rice., etc.

6 a Pre-teach the vocabulary in the box using pictures, translation, etc. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the texts they are about to read.

Model and drill the words with the class. Note that the stress on ice cream can be on either word.

b Focus students on the photos and the texts. Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

MEI tea, coffee, rice, fish, vegetables, apples, oranges, cheese sandwiches, chocolate biscuits
BEN fruit, vegetables, meat, fish, rice, pasta, salads, fruit juice, chocolate ice cream

8 a Students do the exercise on their own. While students are working, check their sentences for accuracy and help with any new vocabulary.

b Teach the phrase Me too. Students work in groups and take turns to say their sentences. Students say which of their partners' sentences are also true for them, for example: A I love chocolate. B Me too. Finally, ask each group to tell the class about food and drink they love, like, etc., for example: Karla and I love chocolate.

2 Focus students on the boxes. Point out that the pink vowels are pronounced /ɒ/ and the blue vowels are pronounced /ʌ/.

CD1 ▶ 74 Play the recording. Students listen and notice how we say the pink and blue vowels. Play the recording again. Students listen and practise.

3 a Go through the example with the class. Students do the exercise in pairs. Ask students to cover the words in 2 before they begin. Encourage students to say all the words when comparing answers.

b CD1 ▶ 75 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers. Note that all the words with an /ɒ/ sound are said by a man and all the words with an /ʌ/ sound are said by a woman.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise the words. Check they pronounce the vowels in bold correctly.

Finally, ask each student to say one group of three words for the class. If necessary, correct their pronunciation and ask them to say the words again.

Vocabulary phrases with like, have, live, work, study

Grammar Present Simple (I, you, we, they): positive and negative

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews food and drink vocabulary. Check students remember the verb like. Students work on their own and write a list of ten words for food and drink. Students then complete the activity in pairs. At the end of the activity, ask a few students to tell the class which things they like on their partner's list.

Phrases with like, have, live, work, study

1 a Focus students on the vocabulary box, the pictures and the example. Point out that like and football go together to make the phrase like football. Check students understand the other verbs (have, live, work, study) if necessary. Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Early finishers can check their answers in Language Summary 4 VOCABULARY 4.1 SB p120. Check answers with the class. Check students understand all the new vocabulary, including the verbs, referring to the pictures if necessary. Point out that collocations (words that go together) are very important for students learning English and encourage students to make a note of other collocations when they meet them. Point out that we can say in the centre of the city or in the city centre. However, when we use the name of the city, we say I live in the centre of London, not I live in London centre. Highlight the prepositions in the phrases work for a (Spanish) company and work in (an office). Also use the TIP to highlight that we say a flat in British English and an apartment in American English. You can also teach students live in a (big/small) house and work at home (not work in my house). Highlight that we use a house to refer to the type of building, whereas we use home to refer to the place where you live.

- b like rock music
- c have two children
- d have a car
- e live in a flat
- f live in the centre of the city
- g work for a Spanish company
- h work in an office
- i study English
- j study languages

b CD2 1 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise the phrases. Highlight the pronunciation of work /wɜ:k/, company /'kʌmpəni/, office /'ɒfɪs/ and languages /'læŋgwɪdʒɪz/. Repeat the drill if necessary.

EXTRA IDEAS

- Students work in pairs and take turns to test each other on the collocations in 1a. One student says a word or phrase from the vocabulary box, for example football, and his/her partner says the whole collocation, for example like football.
- Students work in pairs and write one more word or phrase for each of the verbs in 1a (like chocolate, have a cat, live in London, work for a computer company, study German, etc.). Write correct collocations on the board for students to copy.

Life in Mexico

2 a CD2 2 Focus students on the photo of Carmen and the speech bubble. Play the recording. Students listen, read and find out who Cesar, Marissa and Teresa are. Check answers with the class.

Cesar is Carmen's husband. Marissa and Teresa are Carmen and Cesar's daughters.

b Students do the exercise on their own.

c Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR Present Simple (I, you, we, they): positive and negative

3 a Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

- Answers You study English. We live in a very nice flat. They like rock music.
- Point out that these verbs are in the Present Simple.
- Use the four example sentences to highlight that the Present Simple positive is the same for I, you, we and they (and is the same as the infinitive form). However, we suggest you simply call the infinitive 'the verb' at this level to avoid overloading students with grammatical terms.

b Draw the table on the board and write in the example sentences. Note that in grammar tables the auxiliary verbs are shown in blue and the main verbs are shown in pink. This approach, which is used throughout the Student's Book, helps visual learners to understand the word order of positive sentences, negatives and question forms in English. Go through the following points with the class.

- Use the examples to highlight the word order: I/you/we/they + don't + verb + ...
- Point out that don't is the contracted form of do not and that we usually use this form when writing and speaking.
- Establish that the auxiliary do has no meaning, but is used to make the negative form of the Present Simple with I/you/we/they.
- Also point out that we use don't in negatives with I, you, we and they for all verbs except be. ✍ If necessary, write these sentences on the board for comparison: I'm not a teacher. You aren't French. We aren't in this class. They aren't from the USA.
- With a strong class you can teach students that I, you, we and they in the example sentences are called 'the subject', and that in positive sentences the subject always comes before the verb.

c Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

- Focus students on the table on the board. Elicit which words in sentences 1 and 2 from 3c go in each column and complete the table (see the table in GRAMMAR 4.1 SB p121).
- Use the sentences in the table to check students understand the word order in Present Simple negatives.

4 CD2 → 3 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise the sentences in 3. Check that students pronounce don't /dɒnt/ correctly in each sentence. Repeat the drill if necessary.

Life in the USA

5 a Focus students on the photo of Richard and the speech bubble. Check students understand that a (+) sign indicates a positive verb form and a (-) sign indicates a negative verb form. Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs.

b CD2 → 4 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class.

2 live 3 have 4 don't live 5 live 6 work
7 like 8 don't like 9 study 10 like

EXTRA IDEA

- Put students into pairs, A and B. Ask student As to look at the text about Carmen and student Bs to look at the text about Richard. Students underline all the phrases from 1a they can find in their texts. Students then work with their partner, swap books and check their partner's answers.

6 a Check students understand what to do by focusing on the example and asking individual students whether the positive or negative sentence is true for them.
Students do the exercise on their own.

b Students work in pairs and take turns to say their sentences to each other. Students also decide how many of their true sentences are the same.
Ask each pair to tell the class two sentences that are true for both students, for example, We don't work in an office., We like Italian food., etc.

7 Focus students on the examples and check they remember true and false.
Students do the exercise on their own. While they are working, check their sentences for accuracy and help with any new vocabulary.

EXTRA IDEA

- ✍ Demonstrate the activity by writing three true and three false sentences about you on the board, using language from 1a. Students work in pairs and guess which sentences are false. Students can then do 7 on their own.

8 Drill the sentences in the speech bubbles to remind students of the language they need to do the exercise.
Put students into new pairs, A and B. Student As say their sentences from 7. Student Bs decide if they are true or false. When they have finished, students change roles.
At the end of the activity, ask if any students guessed all six of their partner's sentences correctly.
Finally, ask each student to tell the class one of their partner's true sentences.

WRITING

Students write a paragraph about themselves using the language from the lesson. Ask students to include a photo of themselves. The students' work can be collected in next class and put up around the room for other students to read.

Grammar Present Simple (I, you, we, they): questions and short answers

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews the Present Simple positive and negative. ✍ Write the prompts (I have ..., I don't have ..., etc.) on the board. Students work on their own and write four sentences about themselves. Put students into pairs. Students say their sentences to their partner and decide if any are the same, as shown in the example.

Free time activities

- 1 a Teach the phrase free time activities (things you do when you're not working or studying). Point out that the singular of activities is an activity.

Students do the exercise in pairs. Alternatively, use the pictures to teach the phrases yourself, then use the matching activity for practice. Check answers with the class.

Highlight the different phrases with go: go to concerts, go to the cinema, go shopping, go out with friends. Point out the in go to the cinema (not go to cinema).

Also highlight the capital letters in TV and DVD and point out that TV stands for television.

Point out that we can say video games or computer games. You can also tell students that we can say eat out or go out to eat.

go to the cinema 3; go shopping 2; go out with friends 4; play tennis 6; watch TV or DVDs 1; play video games 8; eat out 5

- b CD2 ▶ 5 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Check that students stress the phrases correctly. Note that only the main stress in words and phrases is shown in vocabulary boxes and the Language Summaries.

Play the recording again, pausing after each phrase for students to repeat individually.

EXTRA IDEA

- If you have a strong class, consider using Vocabulary Plus 4 Free time activities p170 (Instructions p163) at this stage of the lesson.

- 2 a Focus students on the example sentences. Point out the preposition in in the first sentence (I play tennis in my free time).

Use the second sentence to teach the meaning of a lot (I watch TV a lot).

Students work on their own and write four sentences about their free time using phrases from the lesson. Before they begin, tell the class that these sentences can be positive or negative (I don't go to concerts).

- b Students work in pairs and take turns to say their sentences, making a note of any that are the same. Ask each pair to tell the class any sentences that are the same for both students.

An online interview

- 3 a Teach students the words in the vocabulary box, using pictures, mime, synonyms or translation. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the text they are about to read.

- b Focus students on the web page on SB p33 and the photo of rock band Big Noise. Tell the class that the woman's name is Ruby Connor and the man on the far right with the red guitar strap is her brother, Phil.

CD2 ▶ 6 Play the recording. Students listen, read and find three things that Ruby and Phil do in their free time. Check answers with the class.

listen to (a lot of rock) music, go out with friends (a lot), watch (a lot of) DVDs, go to concerts, eat out (a lot)

- 4 a Students do the exercise on their own, as shown in the example.

- b Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR Present Simple (I, you, we, they): questions and short answers

- 5 a ✍ Draw the table on the board and write in the example questions. Go through the following points with the class.

- Use the examples to highlight the word order: question word + do + I/you/we/they + verb + ...
- Establish that the auxiliary do has no meaning, but is used to make the question form of the Present Simple with I, you, we and they.
- Also point out that we use the auxiliary do with all verbs except be. ✍ If necessary, write the following questions with be on the board for comparison: Where am I? Where are you from? Where are we? Where are they from?

- b Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

- Focus students on the table on the board. ✍ Elicit which words in questions 1 and 2 from 5b go in each column and complete the table (see the table in GRAMMAR 4.2 SB p121).

- Use these questions to further highlight the word order in Wh- questions. Point out that Present Simple questions are the same for I, you, we and they.
- Use the second and fourth questions in the table to highlight that we sometimes use a noun after What ...: What music do you like?, What food do you like?, etc.
- You can also teach students the question What do you do? = What's your job?: A What do you do? B I'm a doctor.

c Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class.

- Answers Do you like London? Yes, I do. No, I don't. Do you go to concerts? Yes, we do. No, we don't. Do they like Chinese food? Yes, they do. No, they don't.
- Highlight the word order in the yes/no questions: Do + I/you/we/they + verb + ....
- Point out that we use do or don't in the short answers, but we don't repeat the verb: Yes, I do. not Yes, I like. or Yes, I do like.

- 6 a Go through the example with the class. Point out that all the questions are about Ruby and Phil Connor. Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class. You can point out that in question 4 do is both the auxiliary and the main verb.

2 Do ... have 3 Do ... like 4 do ... do 5 Do ... go
6 Do ... go 7 Do ... like 8 Do ... eat

b Students do the exercise in pairs. You can ask students to cover the interview before they begin. Remind students to use the correct short answers where appropriate. They can check their answers on the web page about Ruby and Phil Connor if necessary. Check answers with the class.

1 In Camden, in London. 2 No, they don't. 3 No, they don't. 4 They listen to music, go out with friends, watch DVDs, go to concerts and eat out. 5 Yes, they do. 6 No, they don't. 7 Yes, they do. 8 Yes, they do.

HELP WITH LISTENING

Questions with do you

This Help with Listening section helps students to understand Present Simple questions with do you ... ?.

- 7 a CD2 → 7 Focus students on sentences 1–4. Play the recording. Students listen, read and notice how we say do you in Present Simple questions. Highlight the pronunciation of do you /dəjə/ and point out that these words are usually pronounced in their weak forms in natural spoken English.

While it is not essential for students at this level to use the weak form themselves, it is important that they understand it when they are asked questions in the Present Simple.

Note that do you can also be pronounced /djə/ or /dʒə/, but we rarely use the strong form /du: ju:/. The alternative weak form /djə/ is practised in face2face Second edition Elementary.

- b CD2 → 8 Play the recording (SB p109). Students listen and write the questions. Play the recording again if necessary, pausing after each sentence to give students time to write.

c Students compare questions in pairs and check if they are the same.

✓ Check answers by eliciting each question and writing it on the board. You can leave these questions on the board so that they can be used in 8b.

Encourage students to use weak forms when speaking and highlight them when appropriate in future classes.

1 Do you go to the cinema? 2 What food do you like? 3 Where do you go shopping? 4 Do you play video games?

- 8 a CD2 → 9 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p109). Students listen and practise. Encourage students to copy the pronunciation of do you. Play the recording again, pausing after each question and short answer for students to repeat individually.

b Put students into pairs, student A and student B. Student As ask the questions in 7a. Student Bs ask the questions in 7b that are on the board. Remind students to give their own answers.

Avoid doing any whole-class feedback at the end of the activity, as this would require he and she forms of the Present Simple. These forms are taught in unit 5.

Get ready ... Get it right!

- 9 Put students into new pairs, student A and student B. If possible, put students in pairs with somebody they don't know very well. Student As turn to SB p86 and student Bs turn to SB p91. Check they are all looking at the correct exercise.

a Focus students on the examples. Students do the exercise on their own.

Avoid checking the questions with the whole class so that students don't hear the questions that they are about to be asked.

Student A 2 Do you watch a lot of DVDs?
3 Do you live in a house or a flat? 4 Do you like Italian food? 5 Do you have an old computer?

Student B b Do you play tennis or football?
c Do you work in an office? d Do you like Chinese food? e Do you have a new mobile phone?

b Students work with their partner. Student A asks questions 1–5. Remind student Bs to use Yes, I do. or No, I don't. when answering the questions.

c Students swap roles so that student B asks questions a–e.

Again, avoid doing any class feedback on the answers themselves, as this would require students to use he and she forms of the Present Simple. Instead, students can ask you one question each. Give your own answers if possible.

EXTRA IDEA

- After students have written the questions in a, they guess whether their partner is going to answer yes or no to each question. When students ask their questions in b and c, they check how many of their guesses are correct. At the end of the activity, ask if any students guessed all five answers correctly.

WRITING

Students imagine they are famous rock stars and write a short interview with a journalist, similar to the Big Noise interview on SB p33. They can add photos or illustrations if they wish.

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews Present Simple yes/no questions with you. Check students remember the meaning of both. Students do the activity in pairs, as shown in the examples. At the end of the activity, ask a few pairs to tell the class one or two things they both do.

Things to buy

- 1 a Focus students on pictures 1–10. Students do the exercise in pairs. Check answers with the class. Check students understand a birthday and teach the phrase Happy birthday! as shown on the card (picture 7).

a newspaper 4; a map 3; a postcard 5; a birthday card 7; a box of chocolates 10; tissues 2; sweets 9; batteries 8; chewing gum 6

EXTRA IDEA

- If you have a class of complete beginners, consider teaching these words yourself by bringing the items to the class. Hold up each item in turn and tell students the word in English. You can then use the matching activity in 1a for practice.

b CD2 10 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Check they stress the words correctly and highlight the pronunciation of birthday /'bɜːθdeɪ/, chocolates /'tʃɒkləts/ and tissues /'tɪʒuːz/.

Point out that batteries /'bætrɪz/ is usually pronounced as two syllables, not three. Note that the stress on magazine can also be on the first syllable.

Point out that the plural of box is boxes and that the singular of batteries is a battery.

c Students do the activity in pairs.

HELP WITH VOCABULARY

this, that, these, those

- 2 Focus students on photos A–D and the How much ... ? questions in the speech bubbles. Ask where the people are (in a shop). Check students remember a customer and an assistant. Point out that the things each customer wants to buy are highlighted with a red arrow on the photos. Students work on their own or in pairs and write the words in bold in the questions in the table. While they are working, draw the blank table on the board. Check answers with the class and highlight the following points.

- Focus students on the table on the board. Check students understand here and there. Elicit which words go in each column and complete the table.

	here ↓	there →
singular	this	that plural	these	those

- Point out that we use this/these for something close to us and that/those for something further away.
- Check students understand that we use this/that for singular nouns and these/those for plural nouns.
- Point out that this, that, these and those go before a noun: How much is this map?, These bags are beautiful., etc.

- 3 CD2 ▶ 11 PRONUNCIATION Focus students on the example drill. Play the recording (SB p109). Students listen and practise. Highlight the /ɪ/ sound in this /ðɪs/ and the /i:/ sound in these /ði:z/, which students studied in the Help with Pronunciation section in unit 2. Repeat the drill if necessary.

- 4 Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

- 5 a Ask students to close their books. Tell the class that they are going to watch or listen to two conversations in a shop.

VIDEO ▶ 4 CD2 ▶ 12 Play the video or audio recording. Students listen and write down what the two customers buy. Note that all the Real World videos can be found on the Teacher's DVD at the back of this book.

Customer 1 a map (of London), batteries, sweets

Customer 2 two birthday cards, a big box of chocolates

b Ask students to open their books again. Give students time to read the conversations. Avoid dealing with any new language at this stage. Play the video or audio recording again. Students watch or listen and write the prices in the conversations.

Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

REAL WORLD In a shop

- 6 a Focus students on the conversations. Point out that the language in brackets can change, depending on what the customer buys.

Students do the exercise on their own by referring to the conversations in 5b.

Check answers with the class.

- Answers 2 much 3 have 4 else 5 all 6 are 7 lot
- Check students understand the new words and phrases: Yes, they're over there., They're (£1.79) each. and Here you are.
- Point out that we say Thanks a lot. or Thanks very much. Also remind students of other ways to say thank you: Thanks., Thank you. and Thank you very much. You can point out that Thanks is more informal than Thank you.

b Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

- Answers 1 Do you have any (maps of London)? 2 Can I have (these cards and that box of chocolates), please? 3 How much is (this map)? How much are (these birthday cards)?
- Check students understand the phrases Do you have ... ?, Can I have ... ? and How much ... ?. Point out that we use Can I have ... ? to ask for things.
- We suggest that at this stage of the course you teach any as part of the phrase Do you have any ... ? and point out that any is followed by a plural noun (maps, etc.). Note that alan, some and any are studied in unit 6.

- 7 CD2 ▶ 13 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p109). Students listen and practise the sentences in the flow chart in 6a. Encourage students to copy the polite intonation and highlight the pronunciation of London /'lʌndən/. If necessary, play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat individually.

- 8 Students practise the conversations in 5b in pairs, taking turns to be the customer. Encourage the customers to use polite intonation when asking for things. While they are working, monitor and correct students' pronunciation as necessary.

EXTRA IDEA

- Ask each pair to choose one of the conversations from 5b. Students decide who is the customer and who is the assistant. Students practise the conversation until they can remember it. Ask students to close their books and practise the conversation again. Ask two or three pairs to role-play their conversations for the class.

- 9 Students work in the same pairs. Student As turn to SB p88 and student Bs turn to SB p93. Check they are all looking at the correct exercise.

a Pre-teach spend (money). Ask students to look at photos a–d. Allow students time to read the information about their roles and point out the prompts in the box.

Students role-play the conversation in their pairs. Student A in each pair starts the conversation by saying Excuse me. Do you have any batteries?

b Students swap roles so that student B in each pair is the customer and student A is the sales assistant. Again, draw students' attention to the prompts in the box before they begin.

At the end of the activity, ask students how much they spent (student A: £17.90, student B: £12.50).

10 a Students do the activity in new pairs. Encourage students to use vocabulary from 1a and phrases from 6a in their conversations. While they are working, check their conversations for accuracy and correct any mistakes you hear.

b Students practise their conversations until they have memorised them.

c Put two pairs together so that they are working in groups of four. Pairs then take turns to role-play their conversations. Students listen to the other pair's conversation and find out what the customer buys and how much he or she spends. Students can ask the other pair to repeat the conversation if necessary. Finally, ask two or three pairs to role-play their conversations for the class.

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews things to buy. Students do the first part of the activity on their own. They can write things that are in the shop in lesson 4C, or their own ideas. Put students into pairs. Students complete the activity with their partner.

1 a CD2 ▶ 14 PRONUNCIATION Focus students on the days of the week. Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Alternatively, model and drill the days yourself. Point out that Wednesday /'wenzdeɪ/ is two syllables, not three. Also point out that the stress on each day is on the first syllable.

b Students do the exercise in pairs, as shown in the speech bubbles.

c Students do the exercise in the same pairs. Check answers with the class. Model and drill today, tomorrow and the weekend. Note that weekend can be stressed on either the first or the second syllable.

2 a Students do the exercise in pairs. Alternatively, teach the words yourself first and use this exercise for practice.

b CD2 ▶ 15 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers.

PRONUNCIATION Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. Highlight the pronunciation of minute /'mɪnɪt/ and the silent h in hour /aʊə/. Teach students that 30 minutes = half an hour, 15 minutes = quarter of an hour and 18 months = a year and a half.

You can also point out that we say two and a half hours not ~~two hours and a half~~.

2 a minute 3 an hour 4 a day 5 a week 6 a month

c Students do the exercise on their own before checking in pairs. Check answers with the class.

b minutes c hours d week e year f months

3 a Pre-teach time and a clock. You can also teach students the difference between a clock and a watch. Students do the exercise in pairs. Check answers with the class. Point out that we can say quarter past/to ... or a quarter past/to ....

quarter to seven D; quarter past six B; six o'clock A b Tell students that we can say times in two ways. Students do the exercise with their partner. Check answers with the class.

Also highlight that we can say (a) quarter past (six) or (six) fifteen, but not ~~fifteen past (six)~~.

six thirty C; six forty-five D; six fifteen B

EXTRA IDEA

- If you have a class of complete beginners, consider teaching the time yourself first by using a large clock with movable hands. Alternatively, draw clock faces on the board. You can then use 3 and 4 for practice.

- 4 Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class.
Tell students that we can also say these times as six fifteen, six twenty-five, etc. Although this alternative form is probably easier for students to use than the past/to form, it is important that they understand both ways of telling the time when they hear them. Point out that we say six oh five for 6.05, not six-five or six-zero-five.
You can also highlight that in American English 6.05 = five after six, 6.10 = ten after six, etc.

2a 3h 4b 5g 6f 7e 8d

- 5 CD2 ▶ 16 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise the times in 3a and 4. Note that the times are recorded in logical order (six o'clock, five past six, etc.).
Highlight the pronunciation of quarter /'kɔ:tə/ and half /ha:f/. Also highlight that we don't pronounce the t in five past /pa:s/ six, etc., and that we use the weak form of to in five to /tə/ six, etc.
Repeat the drill if necessary, pausing after each time for students to repeat individually.

- 6 a CD2 ▶ 17 Tell students that they are going to listen to five conversations. Play the recording (SB p109). Students listen and write the times.
b Students compare answers in pairs. Play the recording again, pausing after each conversation to check students' answers.

1 twenty to three 2 half past eight 3 six o'clock
4 quarter to twelve 5 two thirty

- 7 a Focus students on pictures 1 and 2. Students do the exercise on their own.
b CD2 ▶ 18 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers.
PRONUNCIATION Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat chorally and individually. Encourage students to copy the polite intonation in the questions.
Check students understand that we use What time is it, please? to ask the time. Also teach and drill the alternative question What's the time, please?, etc. Also point out that we use at for times: It's at half past eight.
Teach students that we use a.m. for times 0.00–12.00 and p.m. for times 12.00–24.00. Also point out that a.m. and p.m. are sometimes written without the full stops (am, pm).

1 WOMAN Excuse me. What time is it, please?
MAN It's twenty to three.
2 WOMAN What time is your English class?
MAN It's at half past eight.

- 8 Put students into new pairs, student A and student B. Student As turn to SB p89 and student Bs turn to SB p94. Check they are all looking at the correct exercise.

- a Focus students on the film times. Use the speech bubbles to teach What time is ... on? and the response It's on at .... You can point out that we also use these phrases to talk about TV programmes. Students take turns to ask the times of the films and fill in the gaps on the timetable. Students are not allowed to look at their partner's book. While they are working, monitor and correct students' pronunciation if necessary.
b Students compare times with their partner and check that they are correct.

- 9 a Teach the words in the box, using examples, drawings, translation, etc. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the text they are about to read. Model and drill the words with the class, highlighting the pronunciation of Europe /'jʊərəp/ and flight /flaɪt/.

- b Students read the text about days and times around the world and choose the correct answers.

- c Students compare answers in pairs.

- d CD2 ▶ 19 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class. Finally, ask the class how many answers they got right.

HELP WITH PRONUNCIATION /θ/ and /ð/

1 Tell students that there are two different ways to pronounce th. Focus students on the phonemes /θ/ and /ð/, the pictures and the words.

CD2 ▶ 20 Play the recording. Students listen to the sounds and the words. Point out that th in three is pronounced with a /θ/ sound and th in mother is pronounced with a /ð/ sound.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. If students are having problems producing the sounds, help them with the mouth position for each sound.

Point out that the mouth position is the same for both sounds, with the tip of tongue just between the top and bottom teeth. However, when we say the /θ/ sound, there is no voice from the throat and you can feel the air from your mouth on your hand. When we say the /ð/ sound, there is voice from the throat.

You can ask your students to place their fingers and thumb on their throats. When they say the /ð/ sound, they will feel vibration in the throat.

Another useful tip is to ask them to place their index finger on their lips, as if they were making a shhh sound. When saying both th sounds, the tip of the tongue should touch the side of the finger.

2 CD2 ▶ 21 Focus students on the boxes. Play the recording. Students listen and notice how we say th in both sets of words.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise.

3 a CD2 ▶ 22 Play the recording. Students listen and read the sentences.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. Repeat the drill if necessary, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat chorally and individually.

b Students practise the sentences in pairs. Finally, ask students to say the sentences for the class. If necessary, correct their pronunciation and ask them to say the sentences again.

A typical day

Student's Book p38–p39

Vocabulary daily routines
Grammar Present Simple (he, she, it):
positive and negative

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews ways of telling the time. Students work on their own and write six times. Students complete the activity in pairs. Ask students to say the times with past or to if possible. Early finishers can take turns to say each time in two ways.

Daily routines

1 a Focus students on pictures 1–10 of Carol's routine. Use the pictures to teach the phrase daily routine /deɪli ru:'ti:n/. Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Early finishers can check their answers in Language Summary 5 VOCABULARY 5.1 SB p122. Check answers with the class.

Point out that we usually say have breakfast/lunch/dinner not eat breakfast/lunch/dinner.

Also point out that get home means arrive home, and that we say go to bed not ~~go to the bed~~.

Highlight that work in the phrases start work and finish work is a noun, not a verb.

If your students are at school or university, teach them the phrases start/finish school, start/finish university and start/finish classes as alternatives to start/finish work.

go to bed 9; leave home 3; get home 7;
start work 4; finish work 6; have breakfast 2;
have lunch 5; have dinner 8; sleep 10

EXTRA IDEA

- Teach the words/phrases in 1a yourself first by telling the students about your daily routine. Alternatively, make your own flashcards of your daily routine and use these to teach the words/phrases. You can then use the matching activity in 1a for practice.

b CD2 23 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Alternatively, model the sentences yourself and ask students to repeat chorally and individually. Highlight the pronunciation of breakfast /'breɪkfəst/, lunch /lʌntʃ/ and work /wɜ:k/. You can also compare the vowel sounds in leave /li:v/ and live /li:v/, which students studied in the Help with Pronunciation section in unit 2.

Repeat the drill if necessary, pausing after each phrase for students to repeat individually.

Note that only the main stress in each phrase is shown in vocabulary boxes and in the Language Summaries.

c Check students remember morning, afternoon, evening and night.

Students do the exercise in pairs. Check answers with the class. Note that some phrases may match with more than one time of day.

morning	have breakfast, leave home, start work afternoon	have lunch, finish work, (get home)
evening	get home, have dinner, (go to bed)
night	go to bed, sleep

- 2 a Focus students on the speech bubbles. Remind students that we use at with times and use the first pair of speech bubbles to teach the phrase at the same time. Tell students to talk about their routine in the week, not at the weekend, and make a note of things they both do at the same time. Students do the activity in new pairs.
- b Students tell the class things that they and their partner do at the same time, as in the speech bubble.

Carol's routine

3 a Pre-teach the words in the box using examples, board diagrams, translation, etc. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the text they are about to read.

Model and drill the words with the class. Highlight the pronunciation of university /ju:nɪ'vɜ:səti/ and point out the different stress patterns in midday and midnight.

b Focus students on pictures 1–10 on SB p38 and the photo of Carol on SB p39. Check students remember that the pictures are of Carol's routine. Students read the text and fill in the gaps with the correct times. Tell students to write the times in numbers, not words, as shown in the example.

c CD2 24 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class.

b 7.45 c 8.15 d 9.00 e 12.45 f 5.30 g 6.15 h 7.30

HELP WITH GRAMMAR Present Simple (he, she, it): positive and negative

- 4 a Focus students on the four example sentences in the Student's Book or write them on the board. Point out that the verbs in blue are in the Present Simple. Ask students to complete the rule. Check students understand that in Present Simple positive sentences with he, she and it we add -s or -es to the verb.
- b Focus students on the table. Point out that the first column of the table shows the spelling rules for the he, she, it positive form of the Present Simple, and that the second column gives some examples. Students do the exercise on their own by referring back to the verbs in bold in the text about Carol.
- 4b While students are working, draw the table from 4b on the board. Check answers with the class.

- Focus students on the table on the board. Elicit which verbs go in each row and complete the table (see the table in GRAMMAR 5.1 SB p123).
- Go through the spelling rules with the class by asking students to tell you the endings on each verb in the second column. Underline these endings on the board.
- Point out that have is irregular and that we say has, not haves.
- Use the examples and the context to highlight that we use the Present Simple to talk about daily routines.
- Note that verbs ending in -ss, -sh, -x or -zz (miss, wish, fix, buzz, etc.) also add -es in the he, she, it form of the Present Simple. However, as students haven't met any of these verbs yet, we suggest that you highlight these he, she, it forms in future lessons when they occur.

c Focus students on the sentences in the table. Go through the following points with the class.

- Use the sentences to highlight the word order: he/she/it + doesn't + verb + ....
- Point out that doesn't is the contracted form of does not and that we usually use this form when writing and speaking.
- Also highlight that there is no -s or -es on the main verb in the Present Simple negative: She doesn't like mornings. not She doesn't likes mornings.
- Use the TIP to highlight that the negative is the same for he, she and it: He doesn't have a car. It doesn't start today.
- Also point out that we use doesn't in negatives with he, she, it for all verbs except be. If necessary, write these sentences on the board for comparison: He isn't a doctor. She isn't Italian. It isn't expensive.

5 CD2 ▶ 25 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Check that students pronounce doesn't /'dʌzənt/ correctly. Repeat the drill if necessary.

6 a Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs.
Check the answers by writing each verb on the board and then writing the he, she, it form next to it.

2 plays 3 starts 4 finishes 5 has 6 studies 7 loves
8 goes 9 eats 10 watches 11 drinks 12 reads

b CD2 ▶ 26 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p109). Students listen and practise. Note that students should repeat both the verb and its he, she, it form together (like, likes, etc.), not separately. Ask students which he, she, it forms have the sound /ɪz/ at the end (finishes /'fɪnɪʃɪz/, studies /'stʌdɪz/, watches /'wɒtʃɪz/). Highlight the endings of these words on the board. Repeat the drill if necessary.

Tom's routine

b CD2 ▶ 27 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class. Highlight that answer 14 is a plural negative form, and that answers 15 and 16 are plural positive forms, therefore do not end in -s or -es. Ask students what Carol and Tom do on Mondays.

2 doesn't work 3 gets up 4 doesn't have 5 has 6 goes 7 leaves 8 starts 9 finishes 10 doesn't eat
11 has 12 gets 13 watches 14 don't work
15 have 16 talk
On Mondays Carol and Tom have lunch together and talk about the week.

EXTRA IDEA

- Put students into pairs, student A and student B. Student As write two true and two false sentences about Carol. Student Bs write two true and two false sentences about Tom. Ask students to close their books. Students take turns to say their sentences to each other. Students say if their partner's sentences are true or false.

Get ready ... Get it right!

a Focus students on column A of the table. Students do the exercise on their own, as in the example.

If necessary, check the answers with the class. Only check the words they need to fill in the gaps, so that students don't hear the questions they are about to be asked.

Student A 2 Do, watch 3 Do, have 4 Do, drink 5 Do, sleep
Student B b Do, have c Do, go d Do, work e Do, eat

b Students work with their partners. Student As ask questions 1–5 and put a tick or a cross in column B of the table. Remind student Bs to use short answers (Yes, I do. and No, I don't.). Student Bs can also give more information if possible.

c Students swap roles so that student B in each pair is asking his/her partner questions a–e. Remind student Bs to put ticks and crosses in column B of the table and student As to use short answers.

d Student As work in pairs with another student A and student Bs work in pairs with another student B. Students take turns to tell their new partner about their partner in b and c. Check that students use the he, she, it forms of the verbs.
Finally, ask each student to tell the class one or two things about their first partner.

Vocabulary time phrases with on, in, at Grammar Present Simple (he, she, it):
questions and short answers

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews daily routines and the Present Simple. Put students into pairs. Students do the activity in their pairs, as shown in the examples. At the end of the activity, ask a few students to tell the class one or two things about their partner.

on (Sunday), Monday, Tuesday morning, Friday afternoon, Saturday evening in (the morning), the afternoon, the evening, the week at (six o'clock), half past ten, midday, midnight, night, the weekend

Time phrases with on, in, at 1 a Focus students on the tables. Point out the prepositions on, in, at and the examples. Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Early finishers can check their answers in VOCABULARY 5.2 SB p122.

✍ While students are working, draw the tables on the board. Check answers with the class by saying each phrase in the box and asking students which table it goes in.

Use the tables to highlight the following patterns: we use on with days of the week (Sunday, etc.) and parts of particular days (Tuesday morning, etc.); we use in with the morning, the afternoon and the evening (but we say at night not in the night); we use at with times (at six o'clock, at midday, etc.).

Point out that we say in the week and at the weekend. You can also highlight that in American and Australian English we say on the weekend. Remind students that midday = 12.00 and midnight = 24.00.

Tell the class that when we talk about our routines, we can use the singular or plural form of days, parts of days and the weekend: I play football on Friday/ Fridays. He works on Wednesday evening/evenings. They eat out at the weekend/weekends. etc.

b CD2 28 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Point out that we say the weak form of at /ət/ with time phrases. Repeat the drill if necessary.

EXTRA IDEA

• Students work in pairs and test each other on the prepositions. One student says a word or phrase from the box in 1a, for example Monday, and his/her partner says the phrase with the correct preposition, for example on Monday.

2 a Students do the exercise on their own before comparing their answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

1 at 2 at, in 3 on 4 at, on 5 in 6 on 7 at, at, in 8 at, on b Students do the exercise on their own. While they are working, monitor and check their sentences for accuracy.

c Students work in pairs and take turns to say their sentences. Ask each student to tell the class one of their sentences.

Lunch on Monday

3 a Focus students on the photo. Ask students what they remember about Carol and Tom from lesson 5A. Don't tell students anything about Nadine /næ'di:n/ at this stage.

Give students time to read sentences 1–5. Check students understand other people in question 5.

CD2 ▶ 29 Play the recording (SB p109). Students listen and choose the correct words in the sentences. Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

2 doesn't work 3 Italian 4 Germany 5 two

b Give students time to read questions 1–6. Play the recording again. Students listen and answer the questions.

c Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

2 In a/the mobile phone shop with Carol. 3 She's a student at the university. 4 She lives near the university. 5 Yes, she does. 6 She plays tennis and she goes to the cinema a lot.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR Present Simple (he, she, it): questions and short answers

4 a ✍ Draw the table on the board and write in the example questions. Highlight the following points.

- Use the example questions to highlight the word order: question word + does + he/she/it + verb + ....
- Highlight that the auxiliary does has no meaning, but is used to make the question form of the Present Simple with he, she and it.
- Point out that there is no -s on the main verb in Present Simple questions: Where does Nadine work at the weekend?, not ~~Where does Nadine works at the weekend?~~
- Also point out that Present Simple questions are the same for he, she and it.
- Highlight that we use the auxiliary does with all verbs except be: Where is he?, etc.

b Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

- ✍ Focus students on the table on the board. Elicit which words in questions 1 and 2 from 4b go in each column and complete the table (see the table in GRAMMAR 5.2 SB p123).
- Use these example questions to further highlight the word order.
- You can also teach the question What does he/she do? = What's his/her job?.

c Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class.

- Answers Does he know Nadine? Yes, he does. No, he doesn't. Does she like Manchester? Yes, she does. No, she doesn't.
- Highlight the word order in the yes/no questions: Does + he/she/it + verb + ....
- Remind students that there is no -s or -es on the main verb in Present Simple questions: Does she work at home? not ~~Does she works at home?~~.
- Also point out that we don't use the main verb (know, like, etc.) in short answers: A Does he know her? B Yes, he does. not ~~Yes, he knows~~. or ~~Yes, he does know~~.

d Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

- We use does in questions with he, she and it.
- We use do in questions with I, you, we and they.

EXTRA IDEA

- If you have a class of false beginners, ask students to do 4a–d in pairs. Students can then check their answers in GRAMMAR 5.2 SB p123. Check answers with the class and highlight the bullet points in 4a–d.

5 CD2 ▶ 30 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Play the recording again if necessary, pausing after each question or short answer for students to repeat individually.

HELP WITH LISTENING Sentence stress (1)

This Help with Listening section introduces students to the concept of sentence stress.

6 a CD2 ▶ 31 Play the recording. Students listen and notice the sentence stress on the six example questions. Point out that we stress the important words (the words that carry the meaning).

b Play the recording again. Students listen and read the questions. Ask the class if does is stressed in questions (it isn't).

Note that students whose languages have different stress patterns from English can often find it difficult to tune in to the way sentences are stressed. We suggest you use every opportunity to work on sentence stress with your class when drilling, and as follow-up activities to listening texts.

EXTRA IDEA

- With a strong class, use the questions in 6a to point out what types of word we usually stress, such as question words (What, etc.), names (Tom, etc.), verbs (live, etc.) and nouns (week, etc.). You can also highlight grammatical words such as articles (the, a, an), prepositions (with, etc.) and pronouns (she, etc.) that are usually unstressed in natural spoken English.

7 a CD2 31 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. Check they copy the sentence stress correctly. Repeat the drill if necessary, asking students to repeat the questions chorally and individually.

b Students do the exercise in pairs, as shown in the speech bubbles. While students are working, monitor and check they are saying the questions with the correct stress.

8 Students work in the same pairs, student A and student B. Student As turn to SB p89 and student Bs turn to SB p94. Check they are all looking at the correct exercise.

a Check students understand that the woman in the pictures is Nadine. Students do the exercise on their own.

Check answers with the class if necessary. Only check the words they need to fill in the gaps, so that the students don't hear the questions they are about to be asked. Note that the answers are the same for student A and student B.

Student A/Student B

- 2 does/Does she, on
- 3 Does/does she, on
- 4 Does/does she, at
- 5 Does she, on

b Students work with their partner. Student A in each pair asks questions 1–5. Student B looks at pictures a–e and answers his/her partner's questions. Remind student Bs to use short answers (Yes, she does., No, she doesn't.) where appropriate.

Student A

- 1 8.45
- 2 She plays tennis.
- 3 No, she doesn't.
- 4 Yes, she does.
- 5 Yes, she does.

c Students swap roles so that student B in each pair asks questions 1–5. Student A looks at pictures a–e and answers his/her partner's questions. Remind student As to use the correct short answers where appropriate.

If necessary, check answers with the class.

Student B

- 1 11.30
- 2 Yes, she does.
- 3 She goes to the cinema.
- 4 8.00
- 5 No, she doesn't.

Get ready ... Get it right!

9 a Put students into new pairs. If possible, ask students to work with someone they don't know very well.

Pre-teach my best friend, male and female.

Students tell their partner their best friend's name and if this friend is male or female. Note that this stage is included so that students will know whether to write questions with he or she in 9b.

b Students do the exercise on their own. Before they begin, point out that they can write questions about the topics in the box and the things in the photos, as shown in the example questions, or use their own ideas.

10 a Students work with their partner. One student in each pair asks all his/her questions about his/her partner's best friend. Encourage students to ask more questions if possible. When he/she has finished, students swap roles and the other student asks all his/her questions.

b Finally, ask each student to tell the class two things about their partner's best friend.

EXTRA IDEA

- Bring in a photo of your best friend and show it to the class. Students work in pairs and write five questions to ask you about your best friend. Students then take turns to ask you questions about him/her.

WRITING

Students write a profile of their best friend. Encourage students to include a photo of him or her if possible. These can be collected in next class and displayed around the classroom for other students to read.

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews Present Simple questions and ways of telling the time. Go through the instructions and the examples with the class. Students do the activity in pairs. At the end of the activity, ask a few pairs to tell the class three things they both do at the same time of the day.

What's on the menu?

1 a Focus students on the restaurant menu. Teach students menu /'menju:/ and check they remember restaurant /'restrɒnt/. Model and drill these words with the class. Remind students that restaurant is two syllables, not three. You can also teach the meaning of sunrise, which is the name of the restaurant.

Students work in pairs and match the food and drink on the menu to photos 1–10. Early finishers can check their answers in VOCABULARY 5.3 SB p122. Check answers with the class.

Check students understand all the new vocabulary, referring to the photos if necessary.

Use the menu to teach main course /'meɪn kɔ:s/ and dessert /dɪ'zɜ:t/. You can also teach a starter, which is eaten before the main course.

Highlight the difference between still mineral water (without bubbles) and sparkling mineral water (with bubbles). In restaurants in the UK it is also very common to ask for tap water, which is always clean, drinkable and free!

1 burger and chips 2 mushroom pizza 3 vegetable lasagne 4 chicken salad 5 fruit salad 6 chocolate ice cream, strawberry ice cream, vanilla ice cream 7 apple pie and cream 8 coffee, tea 9 a bottle of still mineral water, a bottle of sparkling mineral water 10 orange juice

b CD2 32 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p109). Students listen and practise. Highlight the pronunciation of chicken /'tʃɪkɪn/, vegetable /'vedʒtəbəl/, lasagne /lə'zænjə/, burger /'bɜ:gə/, chocolate /'tʃɒklət/ and orange juice /'ɒrɪndʒ dʒu:s/. Also point out that we can stress either word in ice cream. Repeat the drill if necessary.

EXTRA IDEA

- If you have a monolingual class, teach students how to say common main courses, desserts and drinks that are found in restaurants in the students' country.

2 Use the speech bubbles to remind students that we use How much ... ? to ask about prices. Students do the activity in new pairs. Tell students to ask about three different combinations of food and drink.

Are you ready to order?

3 a Focus students on the photo of The Sunrise Restaurant. Ask students who the customers are (Martin and Louise) and who they are talking to (the waiter).

VIDEO 5 CD2 33 Play the video or audio recording (SB p110). Students listen and tick the food and drink on the menu the customers order. Play the recording again if necessary. Note that all the Real World videos can be found on the Teacher's DVD at the back of this book.

Note that part of this conversation is reproduced in the REAL WORLD section in 4a SB p43. However, we suggest you don't draw students' attention to this and treat this stage as a 'pure' listening activity. Alternatively, you can ask students to close their books and write down what the customers order in their notebooks.

b Pre-teach the bill. Students compare answers in pairs and then work out the customers' bill. Check answers with the class.

With a strong class you can also teach (leave) a tip at this point in the lesson. You can also tell the class that customers in the UK usually leave a tip of about 10% in restaurants.

The customers ordered the chicken salad, the mushroom pizza, an orange juice, a bottle of sparkling mineral water, the apple pie (and cream), and two coffees.
The bill is £28.90.

REAL WORLD In a restaurant

4 a Focus students on the conversations. Check students understand that the sentences in the yellow boxes are said by the waiter and the sentences in the red boxes are said by the customers.

VIDEO 5 CD2 33 Play the video or audio recording again. Students watch or listen and tick the customers' sentences when they hear them. Ask students if they ticked all the sentences.

You can also ask students what Martin and Louise decide to do next weekend (go to Cambridge). Their visit to the Cambridge tourist information office is featured in lesson 6C.

Check students understand all the vocabulary in the flow chart and point out that we can use the or a when we order food in a restaurant: Can I have the/a chicken salad, please?

b Students do the exercise on their own before comparing answers in pairs.

Check answers with the class and go through the points on the next page.

- Answers 1 Can I have (the chicken salad), please? And can I have (the mushroom pizza)?
- 2 And can we have (a bottle of mineral water)? Can we have the bill, please? 3 What would you like to drink? Would you like a dessert?
- Check students understand that we use Can I/we have ... ? to ask for things and Would you like ... ? to ask people what they want.
- At this level, we suggest you teach Can I/we have ... ? and Would you like ... ? as fixed phrases, rather than explore the grammar of can and would.

- 5 a CD2 → 34 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Check that students sound polite when practising questions with Can I/we have ... ? and Would you like ... ?. Play the recording again if necessary, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat individually.
- b Put students into groups of three. If you have extra students, have one or two pairs and ask one student in each pair to play the roles of both customers.

Students practise the conversations in 4a in their groups, taking turns to be the waiter or waitress.

- 6 a Students do the activity in the same groups. Before they begin, remind students to use language from 4a and the food and drink on the menu. Also ensure that both customers take turns in speaking in the students' conversations.
- b Students in each group decide who is the waiter or waitress and who are the customers. Students then practise their conversation until they remember it.
- c Each group role-plays their conversation for the class. Students listen to the other groups' conversations and find out what they order. Finally, the class can decide which group's conversation is the best.

5D VOCABULARY AND SKILLS

A day off

Student's Book p44–p45

Vocabulary frequency adverbs and phrases with every

Skills Reading and Listening: our Sunday routine; Listening: I love Sundays

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews food and drink vocabulary. Ask students to close their books. Check students remember The Sunrise Restaurant in lesson 5C. Students work in pairs and make a list of all the food and drink on the menu they can remember. Students compare lists with another pair, then check on SB p42. Ask if any pairs remembered all the food and drink on the menu.

- 1 a Focus students on the diagram and point out 100% and 0% at each end. Use the diagram to teach the meaning of always and never. Point out that never has a negative meaning. Students work on their own and write sometimes, usually and not usually on the line. Check answers with the class. Note that the word order of frequency adverbs is dealt with in 4.

always usually sometimes not usually never

- b Teach students the meaning of every day by using an example about yourself, for example, I watch TV every day. Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class. Point out that we use every with time words: every day, every week, etc. Highlight that we say every day not every days.

every year 4; every month 3; every week 2

- c Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs, as shown in the examples. ✍ Check answers with the class by eliciting students' ideas and writing correct phrases on the board.

Possible answers (every morning), every afternoon, every evening, every night, (every Sunday), every Friday evening, every six weeks, every four years, etc.

- d CD2 → 35 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p110). Students listen and practise. Highlight the pronunciation of usually /'ju:ʒəli/ and point out that every is two syllables, not three. Note that this recording includes the words and phrases in 1a, 1b and the possible answers given above for 1c.

- 2 a Pre-teach the words in the box using examples, mime, translation, etc. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the texts they are about to read and listen to. Model and drill the new words with the class, highlighting the pronunciation of early /'ɜ:li/, tired /taɪəd/ and busy /'bɪzi/.

b Focus students on the photos of Ian and Becky and the speech bubbles. Tell the class that they are going to read and listen to Ian and Becky's Sunday routines.

Teach the phrase a day off (= a day when you don't work or study), which is the title of the lesson.

CD2 ▶ 36 Play the recording. Students read, listen and find out what Ian and Becky always do together on Sundays.

Check the answer with the class (Ian and Becky always have dinner at The Sunrise Restaurant on Sundays).

3 a Go through the instructions and the examples with the class. Students do the exercise on their own.

b Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class. Use sentence 7 to highlight that She has breakfast in bed every Sunday. = She always has breakfast in bed on Sundays.

3 He gets home at about 12.30. 4 ✓
5 He sometimes sleeps for an hour or two.
6 Becky works in a hotel every Saturday.
7 ✓ 8 Her sister lives in the USA. 9 The Sunrise Restaurant isn't usually busy on Sundays.

HELP WITH VOCABULARY

Frequency adverbs and phrases with every 4 ✍ While students are doing 3a, write the examples from the rules in 4 on the board. Focus students on the sentences on the board and highlight the blue and pink words. Alternatively, focus students on the rules in the Student's Book. Go through the following points with the class.

- Frequency adverbs go after the verb be: I'm always tired on Sundays. It's not usually very busy.
- Frequency adverbs go before other verbs: I never have breakfast. I usually watch sport on TV.
- Highlight that with other verbs we say I don't usually ..., He doesn't usually ..., etc. not I not usually ..., He not usually ..., etc.
- Phrases with every are usually at the end of the sentence: I work in a hotel every Saturday., I play football every Sunday morning.
- Point out that we can use the singular or plural form of days, parts of days or the weekend when we are talking about daily routines and habits: I'm always tired on Sunday/Sundays. I play tennis in the afternoon/afternoons. I go out a lot at the weekend/weekends., etc.
- Remind students that we don't use a plural noun after every: every Saturday, etc. not every Saturdays, etc.
- Also note that there is a lot of flexibility regarding the position of these adverbs (for example, sometimes can go at the beginning of a sentence, but always can't). However, at this level we feel that students only need the simplified rules given in the Student's Book.

EXTRA IDEA

- Students look at the texts about Ian and Becky again and underline all the examples of frequency adverbs and phrases with every. Students work in pairs, compare answers and notice the word order.

5 a Students do the exercise on their own, as shown in the example.

b Students compare sentences in pairs and decide which sentences are true for them. Check answers with the class. Ask students to tell the class which sentences are true for them.

2 I sometimes eat out at the weekend. 3 I'm always very busy in the week. 4 I don't usually work on Saturdays. 5 I never get up early at the weekend. 6 I'm usually tired on Mondays.

6 a Focus students on the photo. Ask students who Amy is (Becky's sister) and where she lives (in California, in the USA). Check students understand that Bruce is Amy's friend, not her husband.

CD2 ▶ 37 Give students time to read the bulleted prompts, then play the recording. Students listen and tick the things that Amy and Bruce talk about. Students can compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

Amy and Bruce talk about: breakfast, phone calls, homework, lunch, DVDs b Give students time to read sentences 1–6, then play the recording again. Students listen and choose the correct answers.

Students can compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

2 husband 3 coffee 4 30 5 Thursdays 6 Lucas's

HELP WITH LISTENING Sentence stress (2)

This Help with Listening section reviews sentence stress in the context of a real-life conversation.

7 a CD2 ▶ 38 Focus students on the example sentences, then play the recording. Students listen and notice the sentence stress. Remind students that we stress the important words (the words that carry the meaning).

b Ask students to look at Audio Script CD2 ▶ 37 SB p110. Play this recording again. Students listen and follow the sentence stress.

Note that while 'listening and following' might seem a rather passive activity to the teacher, the students are probably working very hard as they try to match what they hear with the words on the page. We feel this type of task helps students to tune in to the rhythm of the language, which will increase students' confidence and their ability to understand natural spoken English.

- 8 a Students do the exercise on their own. Remind students to write sentences about their Sunday routine only, and to use a frequency adverb or a phrase with every in each sentence.
- b Put students into pairs. Students take turns to say their sentences. Their partner guesses if the sentences are true or false.
- Finally, ask students to tell the class one or two of their partner's true sentences.

EXTRA IDEA

-  Demonstrate this activity first by writing two true sentences and two false sentences about your Sunday routine on the board in random order. Students guess which sentences are true and which are false.

WRITING

Students write a description of their Sunday routines. Alternatively, you can ask them to write about their weekend routines, including Saturday.

- CD2 → 39 Play the recording. Students listen to the sounds and the words.
- Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. If students are having problems, help them with the mouth position for each sound.

Highlight that we round the lips to make the /w/ sound, then relax and open them as we push air out of the mouth.

Point out that we make the /v/ sound by placing the top teeth on the bottom lip and pushing air through the space. Also highlight that both of these sounds are voiced (there is vibration in the throat).

- 2 CD2 → 40 Focus students on the boxes. Play the recording. Students listen and notice how we say w and v in these words.
- Play the recording again. Students listen and practise.

My home town

Student's Book p46–p47

Vocabulary places in a town or city (1)
Grammar a, some, a lot of; there is / there are: positive

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews frequency adverbs and the Present Simple. Students do the first part of the activity on their own. Put students into pairs. Students take turns to say their sentences. At the end of the activity, ask a few students to tell the class one thing about their partner's Saturday routine.

Places in a town or city (1)

- 1 a Teach a town and check students remember a city. Highlight the title of the lesson and teach the phrase my home town. Point out that we use this phrase to talk about the place where we live, even if we live in a city.

Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class. Check students understand all the new vocabulary.

Point out that we use a station to mean a train station. Teach students that we say go to museums but go to the theatre. You can compare these phrases to go to concerts and go to the cinema, which the students learned in lesson 4B.

You can also teach students that a shopping centre is called a mall /mɑ:l/ in American English.

a museum 8; a theatre 3; a shopping centre 9;
a park 1; a river 5; a station 2; a bus station 7;
an airport 6

EXTRA IDEAS

- When students have finished the matching activity in 1a, they can check their answers in Language Summary 6 VOCABULARY 6.1 SB p124. Alternatively, ask early finishers to check their answers in the Language Summary before you check the answers with the class.
- If you have a strong class, teach other words for places in a town or city, for example, an art gallery, a department store, a car park, a library, a hospital, a mosque, a church, a temple, an underground station, a bar, a pub, etc.

b CD2 ▶ 43 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Alternatively, model and drill the words yourself and ask students to repeat chorally and individually. Highlight the pronunciation of building /'bɪldɪŋ/, museum /mju:'zi:əm/ and theatre /'θi:tə/. Point out that the main stress on shopping centre and bus station is on the first word, not the second. Repeat the drill if necessary. For Teaching Tips on drilling, see p23. Note that only the main stress is shown in the vocabulary boxes and Language Summaries.

c Tell students to cover the words in 1a. Students do the activity in pairs, as shown in the speech bubbles.

My city

- 2 a Pre-teach the words in the box using examples, definitions, translation, etc. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the text they are about to read and listen to.

Drill the words with the class, highlighting the pronunciation of famous /'feɪməs/ and mile /maɪl/.

b Focus students on the photos of Bath, a famous city in England. Drill Bath /bɑ:θ/ and England /'ɪŋɡlənd/ with the class.

Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class and teach any new words. Note that the photo on SB p47 is of the Roman Baths Museum in Bath.

Possible answers: 1 buildings, a park, a river, 2 a museum 3 a bridge, flowers 4 hot springs, 5 tourists, etc.

- 3 a CD2 ▶ 44 Focus students on the photo of Susan and the speech bubble, then play the recording. Students listen and read. Ask students if Susan likes living in Bath. (Yes, she does.)

b Go through the examples with the class. Students do the exercise on their own before comparing answers in pairs. Check answers with the class. Note that Thermae is pronounced /'θɜ:meɪ/.

3 Susan goes to the Thermae Bath Spa every Sunday.
4 ✓ 5 The Jane Austen Centre is a museum. 6 ✓
7 There are trains to London every half an hour / thirty minutes. 8 ✓

HELP WITH GRAMMAR

a, some, a lot of; there is / there are: positive

- 4 a Focus students on pictures A–C. Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

• Answers 1C 2A 3B

- Check students understand the difference between some (more than one, but not a large number) and a lot of (a large number).
- Point out that we use a or an with singular nouns (a person, an airport, etc.). We use some and a lot of with plural nouns (some people, some museums, a lot of restaurants, etc.).
- Also point out that we use some and a lot of in positive sentences.
- Teach the alternative form lots of and tell students that we often use this form when speaking or in informal writing: There are lots of people in the park.
- Note that any is taught in lesson 6B.

b Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

- Answers SINGULAR There's an airport in Bristol. PLURAL There are five theatres. There are some very nice parks. There are a lot of old buildings.
- Focus students on the words in bold in the example sentences and highlight that we use there's with a or an and there are with some, a lot of or a number (five, etc.).
- Point out that there's is the contracted form of there is.
- Also highlight that we write there are not ~~there're~~.
- We use there is/there are to say that things exist in a place. Students sometimes confuse there is/there are with it is/they are. ✍ If this is a problem for your students, write There's a park. It's very big. and There are two restaurants. They're expensive. on the board to highlight the difference.
- You can also highlight that there, they're and their all have the same pronunciation /ðeə/.
- Note that the negative and question forms of there is/there are are taught in lesson 6B.

EXTRA IDEA

- Students read about Bath again and underline all the examples of there's and there are in the text. Students compare answers in pairs and notice if these phrases are followed by a, an, some, a lot of or a number.

5 a Point out that sentences 1–8 are also about Bath. Pre-teach a five-star hotel. Students do the exercise on their own.

b CD2 45 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class. Play the recording again. Students listen and notice how we say there's /ðeəz/ and there are /ðeərə/, as shown in the examples. Also point out that there's and there are aren't usually stressed.

2 are 3 's 4 are 5 's 6 are 7 's 8 are c PRONUNCIATION Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat chorally and individually. Repeat the drill if necessary.

6 a Students do the exercise on their own.

b Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class. Students then work with their partner and discuss which sentences are true for the town or city they are in now. Ask students to tell the class some of their true sentences.

2 three 3 some 4 a 5 some 6 an 7 a lot of 8 an 9 some 10 a

Get ready ... Get it right!

7 Give students a few moments to think of a town or city they know well, but not the town or city they are in now. If you have a monolingual class, encourage students to think of towns or cities in other countries or regions if possible. Students do the exercise on their own, as shown in the examples. Tell students to write at least six sentences if possible.

While they are working, check their sentences for accuracy and help students with any new vocabulary.

Tell students to memorise their sentences so that they can do 8a without referring to their written work.

8 a Put students into pairs. If possible, students should work with someone who doesn't know their town or city.

Students take turns to tell their partner about the town or city they chose in 7.

b Students tell the class two things about their partner's town or city.

Finally, ask students if they would like to visit their partner's town or city. Ask them to give reasons for their answers if possible.

EXTRA IDEA

- If your students haven't visited any other towns or cities, ask them to write three true sentences and three false sentences with there's/there are about the town or city they are in now. Students take turns to say their sentences to each other. Students say if they think their partner's sentences are true or false.

WRITING

Students write a description of their home town (or city), or another town or city they know well. They can include photos if they wish. Remind students to use language from 1a and 4 in their descriptions.

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews there is/there are and places in a town or city. ✍ Write these prompts on the board: There's a/an ..., There are some ..., There are a lot of ..., There are (three) .... Students do the activity in pairs. Tell students to say at least five sentences each. At the end of the activity, ask a few students to tell the class one or two of their sentences.

Places in a town or city (2)

- 1 a Students do the exercise in pairs. Early finishers can check their answers in VOCABULARY 6.2 SB p124. Check answers with the class.
Point out the possessive 's in chemist's and tell students that the person is called a chemist. Also point out that we say a pharmacy /'fɑ:məsi/ in American English.
Check students understand the difference between a bus stop and a bus station, and a supermarket and a market.
Highlight that we say in or at with shops: You buy food in/at a supermarket., etc.

a bank 1; a market 8;
a chemist's 2; a post office 9;
a supermarket 6; a bus stop 5;

- b CD2 ▶ 46 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Highlight the pronunciation of chemist's /'kemists/ and square /skweə/. Also highlight that the main stress on post office and bus stop is on the first word, not the second. Repeat the drill if necessary.
c Ask students to close their books. Students work with their partner and write down all the places in the town or city they can remember. Tell students that these can be words from 1a and those from lesson 6A, and any other words or phrases they know. You can set a time limit of one or two minutes.
✍ Ask one pair to tell you their words and write them on the board. Ask other pairs to suggest additional words and add them to the list until you have all the vocabulary taught in 1a and lesson 6A on the board.

EXTRA IDEA

- If you have a strong class, teach other words for shops, for example, a baker's, a butcher's, a department store, a bookshop, a newsagent's, a kiosk, etc. Then ask students to work in pairs and discuss what people buy at each place: You buy bread in a baker's., You buy meat in a butcher's., etc.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR

there is / there are: negative, yes / no questions and short answers; any

- 3 a Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

- Answers 1 There isn't a station near here.
2 There aren't any good restaurants near here.
- Use the example sentences to highlight the singular negative form there isn't and plural negative form there aren't.

- b Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

- Answers Is there a bank? Yes, there is. No, there isn't. Are there any shops? Yes, there are. No, there aren't.
- Highlight the inverted word order in the questions: Is there ... ?/Are there ... ?.
- Also point out that we don't contract there is in short answers: Yes, there is. not Yes, there's.
- Note that Wh- questions with there is/there are are not very common, and are therefore not taught at this level.

- c Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

- We use any in negatives and questions with there are.
- ✍ Elicit the sentences with any from 3a and 3b, and write them on the board: There aren't any good restaurants near here. Are there any shops? Highlight the position of any in these sentences.

- Also remind students that we can use some in positive sentences with there are: There are some very nice restaurants in the centre.
- Note that it is also possible to use some in questions with there is/there are. However, at this level we feel it is important to give students a simple rule that always produces correct sentences.
- Also note that students don't study the use of some and any with uncountable nouns at this level. This is dealt with in face2face Second edition Elementary.

HELP WITH LISTENING Linking (1)

This Help with Listening section introduces consonant–vowel linking in sentences.

4 Focus students on sentences 1–6. Point out the consonants in blue and the vowels in pink.

CD2 48 Play the recording. Students listen and notice the linking between the consonant sounds and the vowel sounds.

Use the examples to highlight that when a word ends in a consonant sound and the next word begins with a vowel sound, we usually link them together so that they sound like one word. Point out that it is the initial and final sounds that are important, not the spelling. For example, there are links together, even though there ends in the letter e.

5 CD2 49 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p110). Students listen and practise the sentences in 4 and the short answers. Check students copy the stress and linking correctly. Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat individually.

6 a Tell students that prompts 1–8 are about places near Susan's flat. Use the examples to point out that a tick means students write a positive sentence and a cross means they must write a negative sentence. Students do the exercise on their own.

b Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

3 There's a market. 4 There aren't any museums.
5 There's a park. 6 There isn't a square. 7 There aren't any nice cafés. 8 There are a lot of old houses.

7 Students work in the same pairs, student A and student B. Student As turn to SB p86 and student Bs turn to SB p91. Check they are all looking at the correct exercise.

a Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class. Only check the words they need to fill in the gaps, so that students don't hear the questions they are about to be asked. Note that these answers are the same for student As and student Bs.

Student A/Student B 2 Are, any 3 Is, a 4 Are, any 5 Is, a b Students work with their partners. Student A in each pair asks questions 1–5 from a. Student Bs answer the questions without looking at the Student's Book. When student A has asked all five questions, he/she says how many answers were correct. Before they begin, point out that the answers to student A's questions are in brackets in a.

c Students swap roles so that student Bs are asking student As their questions 1–5 from a.

At the end of the activity, find out how many students answered all five questions correctly.

Get ready ... Get it right!

8 Focus students on the map and point out the places in the bubbles. Students do the exercise on their own. Remind students to use Is there a ... ?, Are there any ... ? and the places in the bubbles in their questions, as shown in the examples.

9 a Focus students on the speech bubbles and teach the phrase It's (five) minutes away. = It's (five) minutes from my home. Put students into pairs. If possible, ask students to work with someone they don't know very well. Students take turns to ask their questions from 8.

Tell students to begin their conversations with Where do you live? before asking their questions. Also remind students to use correct short answers (Yes, there is., No, there isn't., etc.) where appropriate and to give more information if possible.

Tell students that they must make notes on their partner's answers, as they will need this information in 9b. Students can put ticks and crosses next to each question to indicate a positive or negative answer, and write down any other interesting information they hear.

Early finishers can ask each other about the other places on the map they haven't already talked about.

b Put students into new pairs. Students tell their new partner about places near their first partner's home, as shown in the speech bubble. Remind students to refer to their notes from 9a to begin each conversation by saying where their first partner lives.

Finally, ask students to tell the class about one interesting place near their first partner's home.

EXTRA IDEA

- Use Vocabulary Plus 6 Rooms and furniture p172 (Instructions p164) in class or give it to students for homework. Note that this worksheet also practises there is/there are.

WRITING

Students write a description of where they live and places near their home. Remind students to use vocabulary from 1a, there is/there are, a/an, some and any when describing the places. These descriptions can be collected in next class and displayed around the classroom for other students to read.

At the end of the activity, ask a few students to tell the class about some places near the school.

EXTRA IDEAS

- Before students do 1c, ask your class what else they have in their bags and teach them how to say any new words in English. Words that students might find useful are glasses, a driving licence, a tablet computer, a debit card, make-up, etc.
- Use Class Activity 6C What's in your bag? p146 (Instructions p120) to practise the new vocabulary from 1a and the things in your bag from lesson 1C.

Things in your bag (2)

- 1 a Students do the exercise in pairs. Early finishers can check their answers in VOCABULARY 6.3 SB p124. Check answers with the class. Point out that men usually have wallets and women usually have purses.

a purse 2; keys 4; money 11; a credit card 10;
 a passport 6; an ID card 9; a guide book 7;
 a map 1; a camera 3; a laptop 5

EXTRA IDEA

- If you have a class of complete beginners, consider teaching these words yourself by bringing the items (or photos of the items) to the class. Hold up each item in turn and tell students the word in English. You can then use the matching activity in 1a for practice.

b CD2 ▶ 50 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Alternatively, model the words yourself and ask students to repeat chorally and individually. Highlight the pronunciation of purse /pɜːs/, money /'mʌni/ and guide book /'gaɪd bʊk/ and check students stress an ID card correctly. Repeat the drill if necessary.

c Put students into new pairs. Use the speech bubbles to teach the phrase I have ... with me. Students take turns to say which things in 1a they have with them.

When is it open?

- 2 a Pre-teach the words in the box using examples, pictures, board drawings, translation, etc. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the conversation they are about to hear.

Point out that open is an adjective and a verb: This shop is open., The school opens at eight. Also highlight that closed is an adjective (This shop is closed.) and the verb is close /kləʊz/: What time does the school close?

Ask students what other things people can book (a hotel, a train ticket, a holiday, etc.). Check students understand that a walking tour is when you walk from place to place with a guide, as shown in photo A SB p50.

Model and drill the new vocabulary, highlighting the pronunciation of tourist /'tʊərɪst/ and tour /tʊə/. Point out that closed /kləʊzd/ is one syllable, not two.

b Focus students on the photo on SB p51. Check that students remember Martin and Louise, who were customers in The Sunrise Restaurant in lesson 5C. Remind the class that they decided to go to Cambridge for the weekend at the end of their meal. Tell students that it is now the weekend and Martin and Louise are at the tourist information centre in Cambridge.

VIDEO 6 CD2 51 Focus students on photos A–C, then play the video or audio recording (SB p110). Students watch or listen and put the photos in the order they hear about them. Note that all the Real World videos can be found on the Teacher's DVD at the back of this book.
Check answers with the class.

3 VIDEO 6 CD2 51 Give students time to read sentences 1–6, then play the video or audio recording again. Students watch or listen and choose the correct answers.

- Point out the prepositions in It's open from (11.30) a.m. to (5) p.m. and check students understand that this means it opens at 11.30 a.m. and closes at 5 p.m.
- Highlight that we use Where's the ... ? to ask where a place is (Where's the Fitzwilliam Museum?, etc.).
- Also point out that we use in with names of streets or roads (It's in Trumpington Street.).
- Check students understand show in Can you show me on this map?. Point out that we use Can you + verb ... ? to ask people to do things for us.
- Point out the difference between Here it is. (when we show someone where a place is on a map) and Here you are. (which we use when we give something to someone).
- Also check students remember that It's about (five) minutes away. = It's about (five) minutes from here.
- Check students understand per person by asking how much it is for two people to go on the walking tour of Cambridge (£35).
- Note that the question When is (Kettle's Yard art gallery) open? asks about both opening and closing times. The question When/What time does the (art gallery) open? only asks about the opening time.

5 a CD2 52 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise the sentences in 4. Check they copy the polite intonation in the questions. Point out the importance of sounding polite in these types of situation, and that a flat intonation pattern will make students sound bored or rude.
Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat individually.

b Put students into pairs. Students practise the conversations in 4, taking turns to be the tourist. Ask students to practise the conversations two or three times before they change roles.

Ask a few confident pairs of students to role-play the conversations for the class. Students don't have to leave their seats.

EXTRA IDEA

- Before students practise the conversations in pairs, ask students to practise in 'open pairs' (see Teaching Tips on drilling on p23).

6 a Students do the exercise on their own. You can ask students to cover the conversations in 4 before they begin.
Early finishers can compare answers in pairs.

b CD2 53 Play the recording. Students listen and check. Check answers with the class.

c Students practise the conversations in 6a in pairs, taking turns to be the tourist.

7 a Students do the activity in new pairs. Remind students to use language from 4 before they begin writing their conversations. If you have an extra student, have one group of three with two tourists. If your town or city doesn't have many places of interest, students can imagine the conversation is in their capital city, another town or city they know, or an imaginary town or city.
While they are working, monitor and check students' conversations for accuracy.

EXTRA IDEA

- Bring to class some tourist maps of your town or city, or print out copies from the internet. Give a copy of a map to each pair to help them think of ideas for their conversations.

b Ask one student to be the tourist and the other student to be the assistant at the tourist information centre. Students practise the conversations in their pairs until they can remember them.
While they are working, monitor and help students with any pronunciation problems.

c Students work in groups of four with another pair. Each pair takes turns to role-play their conversations. Students listen to the other pair's conversation and decides what the tourist asks about. Students can check their ideas at the end of each role-play. Finally, ask a few pairs to role-play their conversations for the class.

VOCABULARY 6D AND SKILLS

It's my favourite Student's Book p52–p53

Vocabulary clothes, colours, favourite
Skills Listening: my clothes;
Reading: my favourite places

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews vocabulary for things in your bag. Students do the activity in pairs, as shown in the examples. ✍ At the end of the activity, write We both have ... on the board and then ask each pair to tell the class one or two things they both have with them.

1 a Pre-teach and drill clothes /kləʊðz/. Point out that clothes is one syllable, not two. You can also point out that many native speakers pronounce this word the same as close /kləʊz/.

Focus students on the photos. Students do the exercise in pairs. Early finishers can check their answers in VOCABULARY 6.4 SB p124. Check answers with the class.

Point out that trousers and jeans are always plural and we can't say a trouser or a jean.

Also point out that shoes, trainers and boots are usually plural, but that we can say a shoe, a trainer and a boot when we refer to only one.

Teach students a pair of ..., which we often use with plural nouns: a pair of trousers, a pair of boots, etc. Also highlight that clothes is always plural and takes a plural verb (All my clothes are dirty). When we want to use the singular, we can say an item of clothing.

a tie 2; a shirt 1; a T-shirt 9; a jumper 5; a jacket 8; a coat 13; a skirt 6; a dress 12; trousers 4; jeans 10; shoes 14; trainers 11; boots 7

b CD2 ▶ 54 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Alternatively, model the words yourself and ask students to repeat chorally and individually.

Highlight the pronunciation of suit /su:t/, shirt /ʃɜ:t/, jumper /'dʒʌmpə/, jacket /'dʒækɪt/, trousers /'traʊzəz/ and jeans /dʒi:nz/. Repeat the drill if necessary.

Note that the /dʒ/ sound in jumper, jacket, jeans etc. is practised in the Help with Pronunciation section for this unit on SB p53.

c Students do the activity in new pairs, as shown in the speech bubbles.

EXTRA IDEA

- If you don't think your class will know any of the words in 1a, teach the vocabulary yourself first by using photos or examples from your or students' own clothes. You can then use the matching activity in 1a for practice.

2 CD2 ▶ 55 PRONUNCIATION Focus students on the words for colours. Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Repeat the drill if necessary.

3 a Focus students on the photos. Allow students two minutes to memorise the people's names, their clothes and the colour of each item of clothing.

b Use the speech bubbles to teach What colour ... ?. Point out that we say What colour are (Monica's boots)? for plural words, and What colour is (Wayne's tie)? for singular words. Also highlight the possessive 's in Monica's.

Put students into pairs, student A and student B. Ask student Bs to close their books. Student A in each pair asks his/her partner what colour the people's clothes are. After a minute or two, ask students to change roles.

4 a CD2 ▶ 56 Play the recording (SB p110). Students listen and put the people in the order they hear them. Check answers with the class. Ask students to give reasons for their answers.

1 Lisa 2 Brad 3 Wayne 4 Monica

b Pre-teach wear by saying an example sentence about yourself in the Present Simple, for example, I usually wear jeans at the weekend. Avoid using the Present Continuous (I'm wearing a green shirt., etc.) as students don't study this tense until face2face Second edition Elementary.

Play the recording again. Students listen and write what the people never wear. Check answers with the class.

Lisa never wears trainers.
Brad never wears brown.
Wayne never wears jeans.
Monica never wears dresses.

5 a Check students remember usually, sometimes and never. Students do the exercise on their own.

b Students work in groups and take turns to tell each other about the things on their lists, as shown in the speech bubbles.

Ask a few students to tell the class one thing they usually, sometimes or never wear.

HELP WITH VOCABULARY favourite

6 a Teach favourite by telling students your favourite colour, singer, etc. Tell students that your favourite is the thing or person you like best.

Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

- Answers 1 My 2 This 3 These 4 What 5 Who
- Highlight the word order in sentence 1 and teach the phrase My favourite (colour, singer, etc.) is ....
- Use sentences 2 and 3 to show that we use This is my favourite ... for singular nouns and These are my favourite ... for plural nouns. Point out that we say favourite in sentence 3, not favourites.
- Use sentences 4 and 5 to teach the phrases What's your favourite ... ? and Who's your favourite ... ?. Check students understand that we use What to ask about a thing and Who to ask about a person.

b CD2 57 Play the recording (SB p111). Students listen and practise the sentences in 6a. Check that students pronounce favourite /f'eɪvrət/ correctly in each sentence. Point out that favourite is two syllables, not three.

7 a Focus students on the blog and the photos. Students do the exercise on their own. You can set a time limit of one or two minutes to encourage students to read for gist. Check answers with the class.

1 restaurant 2 clothes shop 3 café

b Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class. You can also use Tyrone and Keira's blog entries to teach delicious /dɪ'lɪʃəs/.

1 Yes, they are. 2 (He always has their) apple pie and vanilla ice cream. 3 No, they aren't. 4 Every Saturday. 5 (She goes there for breakfast) every morning. 6 Yes, they are.

8 a Use the examples to remind students that we use

What's your favourite ... ? to ask about things and Who's your favourite ... ? to ask about people. Students do the exercise on their own, using the words in the box or their own ideas.

b Students work in pairs and take turns to ask their questions. You can teach the answer I don't have one. before they begin.

c Finally, ask each student to tell the class two things about their partner.

WRITING

Students write a description of their favourite clothes shop, restaurant or café (or all three). At the beginning of the next class, students can swap papers and read each other's descriptions.

/tʃ/ and /dʒ/

- Focus students on the phonemes /tʃ/ and /dʒ/, the pictures and the words.
CD2 ▶ 58 Play the recording. Students listen to the sounds and the words. Point out that ch in cheese is pronounced with a /tʃ/ sound and both ge and j in orange juice are pronounced with a /dʒ/ sound.
 Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. If students are having problems, help them with the mouth position for each sound.

Point out that we make the /tʃ/ sound by placing the tongue on the top of the mouth behind the teeth, then moving the tongue down to release air. Highlight that this is an unvoiced sound (there is no vibration in the throat).

Also highlight that we use the same mouth position to make the /dʒ/ sound, but that this sound is voiced (there is vibration from the throat).

- CD2 ▶ 59 Focus students on the boxes. Play the recording. Students listen and notice how we say the pink and blue letters.
 Play the recording again. Students listen and practise.
- Tell the class that many common English first names start with the /dʒ/ sound. Put students into pairs. Students work with their partner and try to say the names using a /dʒ/ sound.
 - CD2 ▶ 60 Play the recording. Students listen and check their pronunciation of the names.
 Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. Finally, ask students to say the names around the class.

Vocabulary things you like and don't like;
love, like, don't like, hate
Grammar object pronouns

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews phrases with favourite. Students do the first part of the activity on their own. Tell students that they can write film and book titles in their own language. Put students into groups of three. Students take turns to say what their favourite things are, as shown in the examples, and make a note of any that are the same. At the end of the activity, ask each group to tell the class about any favourite things that are the same for more than one student.

Things you like and don't like

- 1 a Focus students on pictures 1–9. Students do the activity in pairs. Early finishers can check answers in Language Summary 7 VOCABULARY 7.1 SB p126. Check answers with the class.
- Point out that visiting new places, flying, dancing, watching sport on TV and shopping for clothes are all activities. You can also teach the corresponding verbs visit, fly, dance and shop. (Note that students learned the verb watch in lesson 4B.)
- Check that students don't confuse a soap opera (a type of TV programme) with opera (a type of music). Highlight the preposition in watching sport on TV. Also point out that we say a film in British English and a movie in American English (although this is now quite common in the UK too).

visiting new places 3; classical music 2; flying 9;
dancing 8; watching sport on TV 5; animals 1; horror films 4; shopping for clothes 6

EXTRA IDEA

- If you have a strong class, you can teach more types of music (rap, dance music, opera, folk music, etc.) and types of film (adventure films, musicals, comedies, sci-fi films, etc.).

b CD2 ▶ 61 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Highlight the pronunciation of horror /'hɒrə/ and clothes /kləʊðz/. Also check students stress the phrases correctly. Point out that the stress in soap opera is on the first word, not the second. Repeat the drill if necessary. Note that only the main stress is shown in the vocabulary boxes and Language Summaries.

- 2 Focus students on pictures A–D. Students do the exercise on their own before comparing answers in pairs. Check answers with the class. Model and drill the phrases if necessary.

A I love ... B I like ... C I don't like ... D I hate ...

HELP WITH VOCABULARY

love, like, don't like, hate

- 3 a Focus students on the example sentences. Point out the nouns in blue and the verb+ing forms in pink. Go through the following points with the class.

- Highlight that after love, like, don't like and hate we can use a noun or verb+ing.
- Also point out that we use the plural form of most nouns after love, like, don't like and hate (animals, soap operas, etc.) because we are talking about things in general.
- You can also highlight that we don't use the when we talk about things we like or don't like in general: I love animals. (= all animals), I don't like sport. (= all sport), etc.
- Students may ask why we don't say ~~I like classical musics~~. We suggest you simply tell the class that some nouns don't have a plural form. This will probably be enough explanation without introducing the difference between countable and uncountable nouns, which may overload students. The difference between countable and uncountable nouns is taught in face2face Second edition Elementary. Note that all the words and phrases in 1 a are already in the correct form to be used with love, like, don't like and hate.

- b Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

visiting (new places); flying; dancing; watching (sport on TV); shopping (for clothes)

- c Ask students to turn to VOCABULARY 7.2 SB p126. Focus students on the SPELLING OF VERB+ING FORMS section. Give students time to read the information, or go through the bullet points with the class.

Check students understand that if a verb ends in -e, we drop the -e and add -ing (dance → dancing, live → living, etc.). Also check they understand that verbs ending in consonant + vowel + consonant double the final consonant (shop → shopping, get → getting, etc.). Also point out that if a verb ends in -y, we don't double the final consonant (play → playing, etc.).

- 4 a Students do the exercise on their own.

b Students compare answers in pairs and discuss which sentences are true for them. Check answers with the class. Ask each student to tell the class one sentence that is true for them.

2 having 3 going 4 getting up 5 sleeping 6 living

5 a Students do the exercise on their own, as shown in the examples. While they are working, monitor and check their sentences for accuracy.

b Students do the exercise in pairs, as shown in the speech bubbles.

Ask students to tell the class one or two of their (or their partner's) true sentences.

We're very different

6 a Pre-teach the words in the box using examples, pictures, translation, etc. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the text they are about to read and listen to.

Note that in English we use twins to refer to two people who were born at the same time, whether they are identical twins or fraternal (non-identical) twins. Point out that different and the same are opposites. Model and drill the words with the class. Highlight that different /'dɪfrənt/ is two syllables, not three.

b Ask the class if they know any twins. If so, ask students to tell the class about them. If you know any twins, you can tell the class about them before asking students to do the same.

7 a Focus students on the photo of Adam and Hugo /'hju:gəʊ/, and the speech bubbles.

CD2 ▶ 62 Play the recording. Students listen, read and find two things that Adam and Hugo both like.

Check answers with the class.

They both like watching TV.
They both like having a twin brother.

b Students do the exercise on their own before comparing answers in pairs.

Check answers with the class.

2 Adam 3 Hugo 4 Adam 5 Hugo
6 Hugo 7 Hugo; Adam

HELP WITH GRAMMAR Object pronouns

8 a Draw the table on the board and write in the example sentences. Alternatively, focus students on the table in the Student's Book. Go through the following points with the class.

- Use the example sentences to highlight the typical word order in positive sentences: subject + verb + object.
- Highlight I in pink in the first sentence and remind students that this is a subject pronoun.
- Highlight them in blue in the second sentence. Teach students this is called an object pronoun.
- Point out that subject pronouns go before the verb and object pronouns go after the verb in sentences. If possible, compare this structure to that of your students' own language(s).

- Drill subject /'sʌbdʒekt/ and object /'ɒbdʒekt/ with the class, highlighting the /dʒ/ sound in both words.

b Focus students on the speech bubbles about Adam and Hugo and point out the object pronouns in blue. Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs.

While they are working, draw the table from 7b on the board. Check answers with the class.

- Object pronouns me, (you), him, her, it, us, them

9 a Students do the exercise on their own.

b CD2 ▶ 63 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class.

Highlight that we usually use Do you like ... ? to ask for people's opinions, not Do you love ... ? or Do you hate ... ?.

You can point out that when we say that we like, love or hate famous people, we are usually referring to their music, acting, etc., not the people themselves.

Also use question 3 to highlight that we use it to refer to a word/phrase with verb+ing (shopping for clothes, dancing, etc.).

Note that while Yes, I do. and No, I don't. are also correct answers to Do you like ... ? questions, they are not as common as you might expect. This exercise therefore aims to provide students with a variety of more common ways to respond to these types of question.

PRONUNCIATION Play the recording again, pausing after each question and answer for students to repeat chorally and individually.

2 her 3 it 4 him 5 them 6 me

c Students do the exercise in pairs. Before they begin, remind students to give their own answers.

10 a Students do the exercise on their own, as shown in the example. They can refer to the speech bubbles on the photo if they wish.

While they are working, write the following possible answers on the board: Yes, she loves it/ them., No, she hates it/them., Yes, she does., No, she doesn't. and I don't remember.

b Students work in pairs and ask their questions. You can ask students to close their books during the activity. Remind students to answer the questions with one of the short answer forms on the board before they begin.

EXTRA IDEA

- Students do 10a in pairs. Ask students to make a note of the answers to their questions. Put two pairs together in groups of four and ask them to close their books. Each pair takes turns to ask their questions. The pair who answers more questions correctly wins.

Get ready ... Get it right!

11 Put students into new pairs, student A and student B. If possible, ask students to work with someone they don't know very well. Student As turn to SB p86 and student Bs turn to SB p91. Check they are all looking at the correct exercise.

a Students do the exercise on their own, as shown in the example. Note that some of the pictures represent vocabulary from 1a, while other pictures represent vocabulary taught in earlier lessons. While they are working, monitor and check their questions for accuracy. If possible, avoid checking the questions with the class to prevent students hearing the questions they are about to be asked.

Student A 2 Do you like playing video games? 3 Do you like flying? 4 Do you like (playing) tennis? 5 Do you like rock music?/Do you like going to concerts? 6 Do you like eggs?

Student B b Do you like shopping for clothes? c Do you like cats? d Do you like watching sport on TV? e Do you like (listening to) classical music? f Do you like (black) coffee?

b Students do the exercise on their own. They are not allowed to talk to their partners during this stage of the activity.

c Students work with their partners. Student A in each pair asks his/her questions from a and puts a tick or a cross in column C of the table.

Remind students to use the correct short answers (Yes, I love it/them. No, I hate it/them. Yes, I do. No, I don't.).  If necessary, write these short answers on the board before they begin.

After student As have asked their questions, they tell their partners how many of their guesses in column B of the table are correct.

d Students swap roles and repeat the activity, with student B in each pair asking his/her questions from a.

e Finally, ask each student to tell the class two things about his/her partner. Check students use the he/she forms likes, doesn't like, loves and hates in their sentences, as shown in the speech bubbles.

WRITING

Students choose one person they know well and write sentences comparing this person's likes and dislikes to their own, using language from the lesson (I love watching football on TV, but my brother Marco hates it. Marco doesn't like eating out, but I love it. etc.).

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews things you like and don't like. Students do the activity in pairs, as shown in the examples. At the end of the activity, ask each pair to tell the class one or two of the things they both like.

Abilities

1 a Focus students on pictures 1–10. Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Early finishers can check their answers in VOCABULARY 7.3 SB p126. Check answers with the class.

Point out that we can say ride a bike or ride a bicycle. You can also teach ride a motorbike/scooter. Note that we say play basketball not play basket.

Also highlight that we say play basketball, football, tennis, etc. but play the piano and play the guitar. While the alternative form (play piano, play guitar, etc.) is also used in some situations, at this level we feel it is more helpful to give students a clear rule that will always result in correct sentences.

EXTRA IDEA

• If you have a strong class, teach other sports that are played with a ball (volleyball, baseball, rugby, etc.) and other musical instruments (the violin, the drums, etc.).

b CD2 ▶ 64 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Repeat the drill if necessary.

c Pre-teach mime by miming one of the activities from 1a.

Put students into pairs. Students take turns to mime activities from 1a for their partner to guess.

I can't swim!

Check answers with the class. Use picture C and sentence 1 to teach Help!.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR

can: positive and negative

3 Focus students on the tables in the Student's Book or draw them on the board. Go through the following points with the class.

- We use can or can't to talk about ability.
- Use the first table to highlight the word order in positive sentences: subject + can + verb + ...
- Use the second table to highlight the word order in negative sentences: subject + can't + verb + ...
- Point out that can and can't are the same for I, you, he, she, it, we and they.
- Highlight that we sometimes use (very) well with can: She can swim well. They can ski very well. (not They can ski (very) good.)
- Point out that we say She can play the piano. not She can to play the piano.
- Remind students that we also use can for offers (Can I help you?) and requests (Can I have the bill, please?, Can you show me on this map?).

HELP WITH LISTENING can or can't

This Help with Listening section focuses on how we say can and can't in sentences.

4 a CD2 ▶ 65 Focus students on the four sentences and highlight the sentence stress. Play the recording. Students listen and notice how we say can /kən/ and can't /kɑːnt/.

Ask students if can is stressed (it isn't). Point out that can is usually pronounced in its weak form in positive sentences and that the vowel sound is a schwa /ə/.

Ask if can't is stressed (it is). Point out that can't is stressed because it is negative.

Play the recording again if necessary.

You can also teach students that can't is pronounced /kænt/ in American English.

b CD2 ▶ 66 Play the recording (SB p111). Students listen and decide if they hear can or can't. Tell students to write their answers for each question as they listen.

Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence to check students' answers.

1 can 2 can't 3 can 4 can't 5 can't 6 can

5 CD2 ▶ 66 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. Check that students pronounce can and can't correctly. Repeat the drill if necessary, pausing after each sentence for students to practise individually.

6 a Students do the exercise on their own, as shown in the examples. Students can use words and phrases from 1a or their own ideas.

b Students do the exercise in pairs. Ask each student to tell the class one or two of their true sentences.

Help with the children

7 a Pre-teach au pair /əʊ 'peɪ/. Focus students on the photo. Explain that Mrs Taylor is going to interview Natalia because she wants an au pair to help her with her two children, Megan and Harry, who are in the photo by the window.

CD2 ▶ 67 Play the recording (SB p111). Students listen to the interview. Ask students if Natalia gets the job (she does).

b Give students time to read prompts 1–10. Play the recording again. Students listen and tick the things Natalia can do and put a cross next to the things she can't do.

c Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

2 ✓ 3 X 4 ✓ 5 ✓ 6 X 7 ✓ 8 X 9 ✓ 10 ✓

EXTRA IDEA

- Ask students to look at Audio Script CD2 ▶ 67 SB p111. Play the recording again. Students listen, read and underline all the examples of can and can't in the conversation. Students then compare answers in pairs.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR

can: yes / no questions and short answers

8 Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class and go through the following points.

- Focus students on the first column of the table. Highlight the inverted word order of yes/no questions: Can + subject + verb + ...
- Point out that we don't use do or does in questions with can: Can you cook? not Do you can cook?

- Focus students on the second column of the table. Check that students have completed the short answers correctly: Yes, I can. / No, I can't. Yes, he can. / No, he can't. Yes, she can. / No, she can't. Yes, they can. / No, they can't.
- Remind students that can and can't are the same for all subjects (I, you, he, she, etc.) in yes/no questions and short answers.
- Note that we also make Wh- questions with can: How many languages can you speak?, Which instrument can you play?, etc. However, these are less common than yes/no questions with can and are therefore taught in face2face Second edition Elementary.

9 Focus students on the examples. Highlight that we usually use the weak form of can /kən/ in yes/no questions and that we always use the strong form of can /kæn/ in short answers.

CD2 ▶ 68 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise the questions and short answers in 8. Encourage them to copy the weak and strong forms of can and remind students that can't is always stressed. Repeat the drill if necessary.

Note that we can also use the strong form of can in yes/no questions: Can /kæn/ you cook?

10 Put students into pairs, student A and student B. Student As turn to SB p90 and student Bs turn to SB p95. Check that they are all looking at the correct exercise.

a Focus students on the photos of Megan and Harry. Check students understand that they are Mrs Taylor's children.

Students do the exercise on their own, as shown in the example. Point out that all the pictures correspond to words and phrases in 1a.

If necessary, check answers with the class. Note that all the answers are the same for student As and student Bs, apart from the person's name.

Student A/Student B

- 2 Can Megan/Harry play the piano?
- 3 Can Megan/Harry play the guitar?
- 4 Can Megan/Harry ride a bike?
- 5 Can Megan/Harry ski?
- 6 Can Megan/Harry swim?
- 7 Can Megan/Harry play tennis?
- 8 Can Megan/Harry play basketball?

b Students do the activity with their partners. Remind students to use the correct short answers (Yes, he/she can. and No, he/she can't.) when answering their partner's questions. Students are not allowed to look at their partner's book.

c Students compare tables with their partner and find out what both children can do. Check answers with the class. (They can both ride a bike and swim.)

11 Students work on their own and make a list of things they can do, using phrases from 1a and their own ideas. Students should just write the things they can do (play the guitar, swim, etc.), not complete sentences, as shown in the example.

While students are working, monitor and help them with any new vocabulary they might need.

12 a Put students into new pairs. Students take turns to ask questions about the things on their list in 11, as shown in the speech bubbles. Each pair must find out how many things on their lists they can both do. While they are working, monitor and correct any grammar or pronunciation mistakes you hear.

b Finally, ask each pair of students to tell the class some of the things they can both do, using We can both ...

WRITING

Students write a short description of each person in their family, saying what they can and can't do. Tell students that they should also include other information about each person (age, job, free time activities, etc.). At the beginning of the next class, students can swap papers and read about other students' families.

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews vocabulary for abilities and can. Put students into pairs, if possible with someone that they don't know very well. Students do the activity in their pairs, as shown in the examples. At the end of the activity, ask a few students to tell the class one or two things they can do, but their partner can't do.

Where's the café?

- 1 a Ask students to close their books. Students work on their own and write down ten places in a town or city, as shown in the examples.
- b Put students into groups of three or four. Students compare lists to find out if they have the same places.
- ✍ Ask one group to tell you their words and write them on the board. Ask other groups to tell you any other words they have and add them to the list on the board.
- Check that students have remembered all the vocabulary in VOCABULARY 6.1 and VOCABULARY 6.2 SB p126. Drill the words chorally with the class if necessary.

HELP WITH VOCABULARY

Prepositions of place

- 2 Focus students on pictures a–f. Check students understand that the building with the cup and saucer symbol is a café and the building with a pound sign is a bank.
- Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers with the class.
- Point out that we can say in or on with streets and roads (The café is in/on King Street., etc.).
- Use pictures e and f to highlight the difference between next to and near.
- Also check students understand left and right, and highlight that we say It's on the left/right. not It's on-left/right.

2f 3e 4d 5a 6b

- 3 a CD3 1 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Highlight the pronunciation of opposite /'ɒpəzɪt/ and the weak form of to /tə/ in next to.
- b Drill the sentences in the speech bubbles. Students then do the exercise in pairs.

It's over there

- 4 a Focus students on the map on SB p59. Students work in pairs and decide what places 1–12 are on the map. Check answers with the class.

1 a museum 2 a theatre 3 a café 4 a hotel
5 a supermarket 6 a chemist's 7 a bank
8 a park 9 a cinema 10 a post office
11 a restaurant 12 a station

- b Students do the activity in the same pairs, as shown in the speech bubbles. Remind students to use the prepositions of place in 2 in their sentences. Ask students to say four or five sentences each. If necessary, demonstrate this activity with the whole class before they begin.

EXTRA IDEA

- If you have a low-level class, you can ask students to write down their sentences before they do 4b in pairs.

- 5 a Focus students on the photos of Rachel and Jack asking for directions. Tell students that they are at ✳ on the map. Then ask students to cover the conversations in 5b or close their books.
- VIDEO 7 CD3 2 Play the video or audio recording (SB p111). Students watch or listen and decide which places Rachel and Jack want to go to. Note that all the Real World videos can be found on the Teacher's DVD at the back of this book.
- Check answers with the class.

Rachel wants to go to the museum and a café.
Jack wants to go to the post office and a bank.

- b Students do the exercise in pairs. Tell students that they can refer to the map on SB p59 if necessary. Do not check students' answers at this stage.

c Play the video or audio recording again. Students watch or listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class.

You can use the conversations to teach the phrases No problem., Oh, yes. I can see it. and You're welcome. Also highlight three different ways to say thank you in the conversations: Thank you very much., Thanks. and Thanks a lot. Point out that we can't say Thank you a lot.

REAL WORLD

Asking for and giving directions

- 6 Check students understand the headings ASKING FOR DIRECTIONS and GIVING DIRECTIONS by referring students to the conversations in 5b.
- Students do the exercise on their own before comparing answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

- Answers 2 here 3 road 4 turn 5 to 6 on 7 over
- Point out the use of the and a in the questions Where's the (museum)? and Is there a (bank) near here?. This is because in the first question, we know there is only one museum in the town and we only want to know its location. In the second question we want to know if there is a bank near here or not (i.e. if a bank near here exists). However, at this level it is probably easier just to teach Where's the ... ? and Is there a ... (near here)? as fixed phrases.
- Check students understand the new phrases go along, turn left/right and It's over there.
- Point out that we can say on the right/left or on your right/left when giving directions.
- Note that native speakers say go along, go up or go down to mean the same thing when giving directions. If your students are studying in an English-speaking country, you can teach these alternatives.

7 a CD3 → 3 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p111). Students listen and practise. Check that students sound polite and copy the sentence stress correctly. Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat individually.

EXTRA IDEA

- Ask students to turn to Audio Script CD3 → 3 SB p111. Students can then follow the stress on the sentences while they listen and practise.

b Students do the exercise in pairs. Make sure that all students take turns to be Rachel and Jack.

While students are working, check they are sounding polite and help them with any pronunciation problems they may have.

You can ask one or two pairs to role-play their conversations for the class. Students don't have to leave their seats.

- 8 a Students do the exercise on their own. Before they begin, remind them to refer to the map when choosing the correct words.
- b CD3 → 4 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class.

1 me 2 here 3 right 4 on 5 near 6 Where's 7 over 8 next to 9 near 10 along 11 right 12 hotel c Students practise the conversations in 8a in pairs, taking turns to ask for directions.

- 9 Put students into new pairs. Students take turns to ask for directions to places on the map. When students are listening to their partner's directions, they should follow the route and make sure the directions are correct.

Before they begin, remind students that they must start every conversation from ✱ on the map.

Finally, ask a few pairs to role-play one of their conversations for the class.

VOCABULARY AND SKILLS

The internet

Student's Book p60–p61

Vocabulary things people do online

Skills Reading: It's my internet!;

Listening: an internet questionnaire

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews ways to ask for and give directions. Students do the first part of the activity on their own. Encourage them to write the names of places near the school (or near the building where the class is taking place), but not to write very famous places that all students know. Students complete the activity in pairs.

✍ Write this sentence on the board to help them when giving directions: Go out of the school and turn left/right. Then .... At the end of the activity, ask a few students to tell the class one new place they talked about.

- 1 a Check students understand the internet. Focus students on the vocabulary and highlight the example (send emails). Students do the exercise in pairs.

Check answers with the class. Go through the new vocabulary with the class and teach any words students don't know.

Point out that we can say receive emails or get emails, and that receive is more formal than get. Note that we always use receive in the phrase send and receive emails, but we usually use get in everyday conversation, for example, I get about 50 emails every day., etc.

Point out that online = connected to the internet. Check students understand a blog (a website where people regularly write their own thoughts and experiences) and an app (a computer program that you can download onto your mobile phone or computer).

Teach students that you download music/videos/apps onto your computer/laptop/phone, etc.

Highlight the prepositions in listen to the radio and chat to friends and family.

Also teach students that we say a TV programme in British English and a TV show in American English (although this is now quite common in the UK too).

Avoid asking students how they use the internet at this stage of the lesson, as students complete an internet questionnaire in 5a.

buy/sell things online; read/write a blog; watch TV programmes/videos; be on Facebook/on Twitter; download videos/music/apps; book hotels/holidays/flights; listen to the radio/to music; chat to friends and family; search for information

b CD3 ▶ 5 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise the phrases in 1a. Note that each phrase is said separately on the recording (send emails, get emails, etc.).

Highlight the pronunciation of receive /rɪ'si:v/, videos /'vɪdɪəʊz/, flights /flaɪts/, search /sɜ:tʃ/ and point out the silent t in listen /'lɪsən/. Repeat the drill if necessary.

c Students do the activity in pairs, as shown in the speech bubbles. You can ask the person who is being tested to close their books.

- 2 Pre-teach a website. Focus students on the website logos. Check students remember how to say . (= dot) in website addresses. Highlight the phrase You can ... in the speech bubble. Point out that we usually use on with websites (I bought it on eBay, etc.) but we can also use at when we say the whole website address (You can book flights at cheapflights.co.uk.). Students do the activity in pairs. Check students' ideas with the class.

Possible answers You can book flights or holidays at Cheapflights.co.uk. You can watch TV programmes at itv.com. You can buy and sell things on amazon.com. You can watch videos on YouTube. You can listen to the radio at realradio. You can read or write blogs on Blogger. You can buy and sell things on eBay. You can use Google to search for information and send or receive emails. You can buy concert or theatre tickets on ticketmaster.

EXTRA IDEA

- Students work in pairs and think of other things people use the internet for. ✍ Check answers with the class by eliciting students' ideas and writing correct phrases on the board. Possible answers send and receive photos; buy cinema/concert/theatre tickets; buy clothes; buy food; buy DVDs and CDs; book a restaurant; play computer games; read the news; bank online, etc.

- 3 a Focus students on the online article and the photos of Sunita, Brian and Millie. Tell students the article is about how these people use the internet. Students do the exercise on their own.

b Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

2 Sunita 3 Brian 4 Millie 5 Brian 6 Sunita
7 Millie 8 Brian 9 Sunita, Millie

c Students do the exercise on their own, then work with another student and check if they have underlined the same phrases from 1a.

Check answers with the class.

SUNITA (I'm on Facebook; chat (online) to my brother; download (a lot of) music, watch music videos; buy (a lot of) things online BRIAN send and receive emails; (I'm (not) on Facebook (or) Twitter; search for information; book hotels; buy things online MILLIE write a blog; watch (a lot of) TV shows; buy (a lot of) things online

- 4 a Focus students on column A of the internet questionnaire. Students work on their own and choose the correct verbs. You can ask students to cover the phrases in 1a before they begin. Check answers with the class.

1 watch 2 listen 3 be 4 chat
5 sell 6 book 7 read 8 download b Focus students on the photo. Tell students that the interviewer is asking Sam about things he does online.

CD3 ▶ 6 Play the recording (SB p111). Students listen and put a tick or a cross in column B of the questionnaire. Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

1 X 2 X 3 ✓ 4 ✓ 5 ✓ 6 X 7 X 8 ✓

c Give students time to read questions 1–7. Play the recording again. Students listen and answer the questions. Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

1 Yes, he does. 2 YouTube. 3 Yes, he is. 4 In Poland.
5 He buys DVDs. 6 He's married. 7 On the train.

- 5 a Put students into pairs. If possible, ask students to work with someone they don't know very well. Students take turns to interview their partner. Students put a tick or a cross for each of their partner's answers in column C on the questionnaire. Encourage students to give more information if possible when answering the questions.

EXTRA IDEA

- ✍ Elicit the questions students need to ask for phrases 1–8 on the questionnaire and write them on the board. Note that students can use Do you ... online? for all the questions apart from 3 (Are you on Facebook?) and 8 (Do you download music?).

b Students work in new pairs and take turns to tell each other about their partners in 5a. Before they begin, remind students to use he/she forms of the verbs: Gloria watches TV programmes online. She doesn't listen to the radio online., etc.

c Finally, ask students to tell the class two things about their first partner.

WRITING

Students write a description of how they use the internet, using phrases from 1a. Encourage students to include interesting details (their favourite websites/blogs, etc.) in their descriptions.

HELP WITH PRONUNCIATION /s/ and /ʃ/

1 Focus students on the phonemes /s/ and /ʃ/, the pictures and the words.

CD3 7 Play the recording. Students listen to the sounds and the words. Point out that s in suit is pronounced with a /s/ sound and sh in shirt is pronounced with a /ʃ/ sound.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. If students are having problems, help them with the mouth position for each sound.

Point out that when we make the /s/ sound, the lips are relaxed, the tongue is near the back of the teeth, and there is some contact between the tongue and the teeth at the sides of the mouth. Highlight that /s/ is an unvoiced sound (there is no vibration in the throat).

Also point out that when we make the /ʃ/ sound, the lips are more rounded and pushed forward slightly. The end of the tongue is curved back behind the teeth and we push air through the gap. Highlight that /ʃ/ is also an unvoiced sound.

You can also tell students that /ssss/ is the sound a snake makes, and that /ʃʃʃʃ/ is the sound people make when they want someone to be quiet.

2 CD3 8 Focus students on the boxes. Play the recording. Students listen and notice how we say the pink and blue consonants.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise.

3 a CD3 9 Play the recording. Students listen and read the poem. Highlight that the pink consonants are pronounced /s/ and the blue consonants are pronounced /ʃ/.

Play the recording again, pausing after each line for students to practise chorally and individually.

b Students work in pairs and take turns to say lines of the poem. Tell students to practise the poem at least three times. Finally, ask one or two students to say the poem for the class.

Vocabulary adjectives (2) Grammar Past Simple of be:
positive and negative

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews things people do online. Students do the first part of the activity on their own. Put students into groups of three or four. Students complete the activity in their groups. At the end of the activity, ask a few students to tell the class one thing they do online, using phrases from their lists.

Adjectives (2)

1 a Focus students on pictures a–h. Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Early finishers can check their answers in VOCABULARY 8.1 SB p128. Check answers with the class.

Point out that we can use short or long for amount of time (It's a short/long film., etc.) and for physical length (It's a short/long dress., etc.).

Use the pictures in e to point out that the book (which is arrowed in each picture) is interesting or boring, not the person. Note that bored is taught in lesson 10C.

Point out that we use old/young for people or animals, and old/new for things, buildings, etc.

With a strong class you can teach the synonyms sad (= unhappy), hard (= difficult) and wonderful (= fantastic).

happy/unhappy f; interesting/boring e; full/empty h; difficult/easy d; right/wrong c; old/young g;
terrible, awful/great, fantastic, amazing b

b CD3 ▶ 10 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Alternatively, model and drill the adjectives yourself. Highlight the pronunciation of awful /'ɔːfəl/ and great /greɪt/. Also point out that interesting /'ɪnrəstɪŋ/ is three syllables, not four, with the stress on the first syllable. Repeat the drill if necessary.

Three amazing days

2 a Pre-teach the words in the box using pictures, board diagrams, translation, etc. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the text they are about to read.

You can also teach New Year's Day and Holland. Model and drill all the words and phrases with the class.

b Focus students on the photos and speech bubbles at the bottom of SB p62–p63.

CD3 ▶ 11 Play the recording. Students listen, read and decide what the people's amazing days were.

Check answers with the class. If students ask you about the meaning of was or were at this stage, simply say they are the past of the verb be. Note that these verb forms are studied in 3.

If necessary, teach students how to say the years in the texts (1966, 1999 and 2010). Note that years are practised in lesson 8B.

Melanie The Beatles' last concert in San Francisco in 1966
Tania New Year's Eve in Sydney in 1999
Diego the World Cup Final in Johannesburg in 2010

c Students read the texts in the speech bubbles again and choose the correct words in sentences 1–6.

Check answers with the class. You can also ask the class which of the three amazing days they think was the best.

1 the USA 2 half an hour 3 parents
4 fantastic 5 Holland 6 two

HELP WITH GRAMMAR

Past Simple of be: positive and negative

3 a Give students time to read the sentences. Ask students if the sentences are in the present or the past (the past). Check students understand that was, were, wasn't and weren't are all past forms of the verb be.

b Students do the exercise on their own before comparing answers in pairs.

While they are working, draw the table from 3b on the board. Check answers with the class.

- Focus students on the table on the board.

- Elicit which words go in each column and write them in the table (see the table in GRAMMAR 8.1 SB p129).

- Point out that wasn't = was not and weren't = were not. Tell students that we usually use contracted forms when speaking and writing.

- Highlight that we use was or wasn't with I, he, she and it, and were or weren't with you, we and they.

- Also point out that the past of there is/there are is there was/there were. Elicit the negative forms (there wasn't and there weren't).

EXTRA IDEA

- Students read the texts in the speech bubbles again and underline all the examples of was, were, wasn't or weren't. Students then compare answers in pairs.

4 CD3 ▶ 12 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p111). Students listen and practise. Use the examples to highlight how we say was /wɒz/ and were /wə/ in positive sentences. Point out that was and were are not usually stressed, but that wasn't and weren't are always stressed because they are negative words. Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat individually.

Alternatively, ask students to turn to Audio Script CD3 ▶ 12 SB p111, which has the stress marked on the sentences. Play the recording again. Students listen, read and practise.

- 5 a Students do the exercise on their own.
b Put students into pairs. Students compare answers and decide who says each sentence, Melanie, Tania or Diego. Check answers with the class.

1 was (Diego) 2 weren't (Melanie) 3 were (Tania)
 4 was (Melanie) 5 were (Tania) 6 was (Diego)
 7 weren't (Diego) 8 were, wasn't (Tania)
 9 wasn't, was (Melanie)

Get ready ... Get it right!

- 6 Put students into groups of three. Ask all students to turn to SB p96. Check they are all looking at the correct exercise.
a Ask students to think about their lives when they were ten. Go through the words and phrases in the box. Check students remember favourite and point out the phrase good at (sports, languages, etc.).
 Students work on their own and write six sentences about their lives when they were ten, using was, were and prompts from the box or their own ideas. While students are working, check their sentences for accuracy and help them with any new vocabulary they need.

EXTRA IDEA

-  Introduce this activity by writing sentences about your own life when you were ten on the board as examples.

- b Students work in their groups and take turns to say their sentences, as shown in the speech bubbles. Students decide if any of the other students' sentences are true for them. While they are working, monitor and correct any mistakes you hear.
c Finally, ask a few students to tell the class two interesting things they found out about other students in their group.

WRITING

Students write eight or ten sentences about their lives when they were fifteen (or another age in the past, depending on the age of your students). Students can use the prompts in the box on SB p96 or their own ideas.

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews adjectives from lessons 3A and 8A. Students work on their own and write six adjectives and their opposites. Put students into pairs to complete the activity, as shown in the examples.

Years and past time phrases

- 1 a Students do the exercise in pairs. Check answers with the class.
 Point out that for the years 2000–2009, we usually say two thousand, two thousand and one, etc. For the years 2010–2099, we usually say twenty ten, twenty eleven, etc.
 Also highlight that we use in with years: in 1980, in 2009, etc.

2e 3a 4f 5d 6b

- b CD3 ▶ 13 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise.
 Check students stress the years correctly. Repeat the drill if necessary.
c Students do the exercise with their partners from 1a. Check answers with the class.

2012 twenty twelve 1977 nineteen seventy-seven 2018 twenty eighteen 1815 eighteen fifteen 1990 nineteen ninety 2003 two thousand and three

- 2 a Focus students on pictures A–D of Joe. Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class. Point out that we use last with days (last Monday, etc.) and months (last June, etc.), and that we also say last night, last week, last weekend, last month, last year, etc.
 Also highlight that we say yesterday morning, yesterday afternoon and yesterday evening, but last night, not yesterday night.

Check students understand now, and point out that ago means 'before now'. Check students' understanding by asking them what time it was three hours ago, what day it was four days ago, etc. Use the example sentences to highlight that we usually put past time phrases (last week, four hours ago, yesterday afternoon, etc.) at the end of the sentence (or clause).

2D 3C 4B

b CD3 ▶ 14 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise sentences 1–4. Point out that we don't usually pronounce the t in last week /lɑ:s 'wi:k/, etc. and that the stress on yesterday is on the first syllable, not the last.

3 Students do the exercise on their own before comparing answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

2 last 3 in 4 yesterday 5 last 6 ago

EXTRA IDEA

- Students tick the sentences in 3 that are true for them. Put students in pairs to compare sentences, then ask a few students to tell the class one sentence that is true for them.

An Indian wedding

4 a Pre-teach the words in the box using pictures, definitions, translation, etc. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the conversation they are about to listen to.

Drill the words and phrases with the class. You can also teach the phrase Happy anniversary! (the title of the lesson).

b Focus students on the photo of an Indian wedding on SB p64. Ask students who is the bride (the woman in pink sitting down) and who is the groom (the man in white sitting next to her).

Note that the photos on SB p64 show other aspects of a traditional Indian wedding, such as a woman's hennaed hands, bangles and sweets.

c Tell the class they are going to listen to Sunil, the groom in the photo, talk to a friend about his wedding. Give students time to read sentences 1–5.

CD3 ▶ 15 Play the recording (SB p111). Students listen and choose the correct words. Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

1 Sunday 2 five 3 India 4 were 5 was d Give students time to read questions 1–6. Play the recording again. Students listen and answer the questions. Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class. Note that Mumbai used to be called Bombay.

- 1 In Mumbai.
- 2 Sunil was 28 and Pria was 24.
- 3 There were 250 people there.
- 4 She was in the USA.
- 5 Yes, they were.
- 6 Three days.

EXTRA IDEA

- If you have a strong class, put students in pairs and ask them to try and guess the answers to questions 1–6 in 4d before playing the recording. Then play CD3 ▶ 15 again for students to check their answers.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR

Past Simple of be: questions and short answers; was born / were born

5 a–b Students do the exercises on their own.

While they are working, draw the table from 5a on the board. Check answers with the class and highlight the following points.

- Focus students on the table on the board. Elicit which words in questions 1 and 2 from 5b go in each column and complete the table (see the table in GRAMMAR 8.2 ▶ SB p129).
- Use the questions sentences to highlight the word order: question word + was/were + subject + ... ?
- Remind students that we use was or wasn't with I, he, she and it, and were or weren't with you, we and they.
- Use question 1 to highlight that we sometimes use a noun after How many ... ?: How many people were at the wedding?, etc.
- You can compare the questions in the table to questions with be in the present: Where are you from?, What's your name?, etc.

c Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

- Answers Was I/hel/she/it at the wedding?
Were you/wel/they at the wedding?
Yes, I/hel/she/it was.
No, I/hel/she/it wasn't.
Yes, you/wel/they were.
No, you/wel/they weren't.
- Use the questions in the first column of the table to highlight the word order in yes/no questions with was and were: Was/Were + subject + ... ?
- Point out that we use contractions in the negative short answers (No, I wasn't., No, you weren't., etc.).
- Check students understand that the short answers to Was I at the wedding? are Yes, you were./No, you weren't.

- Also highlight that the short answers to Were you at the wedding? are Yes, I was./No, I wasn't. if you in the question is singular, and Yes, we were./No, we weren't. if you in the question is plural.
- Point out that we can also make questions with Was there ... ? and Were there ... ? (Was there a party? Were there a lot of people at the wedding?, etc.).

d Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

- Answers 1 A Where was Pria born? B She was born in London.
- 2 A When were you born? B I was born in 1991.
- Point out that we say I was born (in 1991). not I borned (in 1991)., etc.
- Point out that we often answer these questions with short forms, for example, In the UK. and In 1987., not complete sentences.

6 CD3 ▶ 16 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p111). Students listen and practise. Point out that we don't stress was and were in questions, but that these words are stressed in short answers.

Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to practise individually. You can ask students to turn to Audio Script CD3 ▶ 16 SB p111 and follow the stress as they listen and practise.

7 a Check students understand the phrase the same age. Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

1 were 2 Were 3 was 4 Were 5 was 6 was b Students ask and answer the questions in pairs. Check answers with the class.

1 Sunil and Pria. 2 No, they weren't. 3 Five years ago. 4 Yes, they were. 5 Sunil's sister. 6 (She was born) in London.

8 a Students do the exercise on their own, as shown in the example. Early finishers can compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

2 Where were you yesterday evening?
3 Were you on holiday three months ago?
4 Where were you on New Year's Eve 1999?
5 Were you at work last Monday?
6 Where were you born?

b Students work in pairs and take turns to ask and answer the questions. Alternatively, students can move around the room and talk to as many people as possible.

Ask students to tell the class any interesting things they found out about their partner or classmates.

9 a Students do the exercise on their own. Tell students not to write when and where the people were born.

b Put students into pairs. Students swap papers and ask each other about the people on their partner's paper, as shown in the speech bubbles.

Ask a few students to tell the class about someone on their (or their partner's) list.

a Pre-teach went and tell students this is the Past Simple of go. Students do the exercise on their own. Note that student As prepare questions about a wedding and student Bs prepare questions about a party.

Check answers with the class. Only check the words they need to fill in the gaps, so that students don't hear the questions they are about to be asked. Note that these answers are the same for student As and student Bs.

Student A/Student B 2 was/Was 3 were/Were 4 were 5 Was/was 6 Were 7 Was 8 Was b Students work with their partners. Student A in each pair asks his/her questions from a about the last wedding that student B went to. Tell student As to make brief notes on their partner's answers, but not to write complete sentences for each answer.

c Students swap roles so that student B in each pair asks his/her questions from a about the last party that student A went to. Again, tell student Bs to make brief notes on their partner's answers.

d Put students into pairs with someone from the same group. Students take turns to talk about the last wedding or party their first partner went to. Finally, ask students to tell the class about any interesting weddings or parties they or their partners went to.

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews the Past Simple of be and past time phrases. Go through the five time phrases (three hours ago, etc.) with the class. Also highlight the phrase Where were you ... ? in the example questions. Put students into pairs. Students take turns to ask each other their questions. Encourage students to give more information if possible.

Months and dates

- 1 a Focus students on the months in the box. Point out that months always start with a capital letter. Highlight that we use in with months: in May, etc.
- CD3 ▶ 17 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Alternatively, model and drill the months yourself.
- Months that students often find hard to pronounce are January /'dʒænjuəri/, February /'febrʊəri/, June /dʒu:n/, July /dʒu'laɪ/ and August /'ɔ:gəst/. Also check that students stress the months correctly.

EXTRA IDEA

- Teach students these abbreviations for months: Jan, Feb, Mar, Apr, Aug, Sept, Oct, Nov, Dec. Students will often see these abbreviations on calendars, timetables, etc. Point out that May, June and July are not usually abbreviated.

- b Students do the activity in pairs, as shown in the examples.

- 2 a Focus students on the dates in the box. Point out the letters in pink and highlight the relationship between the last two letters of each word (first, second, third, etc.) and the way we write dates (1st, 2nd, 3rd, etc.). Note that we can also write dates with normal lower-case letters (1st, 2nd, 3rd, etc.). Highlight the irregular spelling of these th words: fifth, ninth, twelfth, twentieth and thirtieth. Point out the hyphen in twenty-first and tell students that we also write twenty-second, twenty-third, etc.
- CD3 ▶ 18 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise the dates. Note that students often have difficulty with the 'consonant clusters' at the end of these words (sixth, twelfth, etc.). If necessary, play the recording again, pausing after each word so that students can practise individually.
- b Students do the exercise in pairs.
- c CD3 ▶ 19 Play the recording. Students listen and check they said the words correctly. Point out that we usually stress the final syllable in the -teenth words (thirteenth, fourteenth, etc.).
- PRONUNCIATION Play the recording again. Students listen and practise.

REAL WORLD

Talking about days and dates

- 3 Go through the questions and answers with the class and highlight the following points.

- 1 Highlight the question and point out that we can answer with It's Monday. or just Monday.
- 2 Highlight the question and point out that we say the in dates: (It's) March the seventh.
- Point out that we can write March 7th or 7th March.
- Teach students that we can also say dates in another way: the seventh of March, etc. However, at this level we feel students only need to know one way to say dates. The alternative form is introduced and practised in face2face Second edition Elementary.
- Also note that dates are often said without the in American English: It's March seventh.
- 3 Point out that When's = When is in the question When's your birthday?
- Also highlight that we use on with dates: (It's on) June the second. Remind students that we also use on with days (on Monday, etc.).
- Highlight the difference between these questions: A When's your birthday? B July 12th. (every year); A When were you born? B July 12th 1989. (one specific day in the past)
- You can also point out that dates are written differently in the UK and in the USA. In the UK, 5/6/15 = 5th June 2015 (day/month/year), whereas in the USA, 5/6/15 = 6th May 2015 (month/day/year).

- 4 CD3 ▶ 20 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Repeat the drill if necessary.

- 5 CD3 ▶ 21 Give students time to read the dates in 1–4. Play the recording (SB p111). Students listen and circle the dates they hear. Play the recording again if necessary. Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

1 June 22nd 2 March 30th
3 October 3rd 4 April 1st

- 6 a Focus students on the examples to remind them how we write dates. Students work on their own and write five dates.
- b Students do the activity in pairs. At the end of the activity, tell students to swap papers so they can check that their partners have written down the dates correctly.

- c Students move around the room and ask each other when their birthdays are, as shown in the speech bubbles. Students must find out if any other students have birthdays in the same month as them. If students can't move around the room, they should ask as many students as they can sitting near them. At the end of the activity, ask students to tell the class who has a birthday in the same month as them.

Happy birthday!

- 7 a Pre-teach the words and phrases in the box using examples, definitions, translation, etc. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the conversation they are about to watch or listen to.

Tell students that we give someone a present (not present someone). Ask students what kind of presents people give each other (a birthday present, a wedding present, an anniversary present, etc.). Remind students of the phrase Happy birthday!.

Check students understand the difference between a driving test and a driving lesson. You can also teach students that you can pass or fail a driving test. Note that in this context go to a club means 'go to a place to listen to music and dance'.

Model and drill the new words and phrases with the class.

- b Focus students on the photo of Karen and Danny on SB p67. Ask students where they are (in a café). Note that Danny was one of the customers in Café Pronto in lesson 3C.

VIDEO 8 CD3 22 Play the video or audio recording (SB p112). Students watch or listen and find out what Karen and Danny decide to do this evening. Check the answer with the class.

Note that all the Real World videos can be found on the Teacher's DVD at the back of this book.

Karen and Danny decide to go to the cinema / see a (Johnny Depp) film.

- c Focus students on sentences 1–6. Students work in pairs and try to choose the correct words or phrases, based on what they remember from the video or audio recording.

If you feel this is too difficult for your students, give students time to read sentences 1–7, then play the video or audio recording again. Students choose the correct words or phrases as they listen.

- d Play the video or audio recording again. Students watch or listen and check their answers. Students can compare their answers in pairs.

Check answers with the class. Ask students if any pair got all the answers right.

REAL WORLD Making suggestions

- 8 Focus students on the flow chart. Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

- Answers 2 we 3 idea 4 don't 5 meet 6 time 7 seven
- Point out that we use Let's ..., Why don't we ... ? and Shall we ... ? to make suggestions.
- Also highlight that we use What / Where / What time shall we ... ? to ask for suggestions.
- Use the example sentences in the flow chart to highlight that Let's ..., Why don't we ... ? and Shall we ... ? are followed by a verb: Let's go to the cinema. etc.

- 9 CD3 23 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p112). Students listen and practise the sentences in 10. Point out that shall is pronounced /ʃəl/ in the questions.

You can also ask students to turn to Audio Script CD3 23 SB p112, where the stress is marked. Play the recording again. Students listen, read and practise the stress as shown in the Student's Book.

- 10 a Focus students on George and Jessica's sentences and highlight the examples. Students do the exercise on their own. Early finishers can compare answers in pairs.

- b CD3 24 Play the recording (SB p112). Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class.

3c 4i 5e 6f 7d 8h 9b

- c Students practise the conversation in pairs. While they are working, help them with any pronunciation problems and make sure they sound polite and interested when asking and answering questions.

- 11 a Students do the activity in new pairs. Remind students to use phrases from 8 in their conversations. While they are working, monitor and check their conversations for accuracy.

- b Students practise their conversation until they can remember it.

- c Put two pairs together so that they are working in groups of four. Each pair takes turns to role-play their conversation. The other pair writes down what they decide to do.

- d Ask one pair in each group to role-play the conversation for the class. Students don't have to leave their seats. Finally, students can decide which conversation they liked best.

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews ways of making suggestions. Check students understand tomorrow evening. Students do the exercise in pairs, as shown in the examples. If students are having problems remembering what language to use, ask them to look at the flow chart in REAL WORLD 8.2 SB p129.

- 1 a Students do the exercise on their own before comparing answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.
Point out that we don't use a plural -s with hundred, thousand or million. We say three hundred not three hundreds, etc. Also point out that we use and after hundred, but not after thousand. We say a hundred and fifty, but sixteen thousand, two hundred not sixteen thousand and two hundred.
Highlight that we can say a hundred or one hundred, a thousand or one thousand and a million or one million. Point out that using a with these numbers is more common.

390 = three hundred and ninety 1,000 = a thousand 16,200 = sixteen thousand, two hundred 750,000 = seven hundred and fifty thousand 1,000,000 = a million 50,000,000 = fifty million

b CD3 ▶ 25 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise the numbers. Highlight the pronunciation of hundred /'hʌndrəd/ and thousand /'θaʊzənd/. Repeat the drill if necessary.

b Students do the exercise in new pairs, then swap papers to check that their partners have written down the numbers correctly.
- 4 a Pre-teach the words in the box using examples, mime, pictures, translation, etc. Check students understand that samba is a type of music (from Brazil) and also a type of dance. Drill the new words with the class.
b Focus students on the Fantastic Festivals articles. Students read the article and try to fill in the gaps with the numbers in the box.

HELP WITH LISTENING Linking (2)

This Help with Listening section reviews consonant–vowel linking in sentences.

- 8 a CD3 ▶ 29 Focus students on the sentences, then play the recording. Students listen and decide why we link the words in pink and blue. Check the answer with the class (because the words in pink end in a consonant sound and the words in blue start with a vowel sound).

EXTRA IDEA

• Play CD3 ▶ 29 again and ask students to repeat the sentences chorally and individually. Check they are copying the consonant–vowel linking correctly.

b Ask students to look at Audio Script CD3 ▶ 28 SB p112. Play this recording again. Note that this is the recording of the whole conversation, not the four sentences in 8a. Students listen, read and notice the linking as shown in the Student's Book.

- 9 a Students do the activity in groups of three or four. If possible, put students into groups with people from different countries, towns/cities or regions.

EXTRA IDEA

- Before doing 9a, give students a few minutes to gather their ideas and make notes about the festivals they want to talk about. While they are working, monitor and help students with any vocabulary they might need.

- b Finally, ask each group to tell the class about one festival they talked about.

WRITING

Students write a description of a festival (or festivals) in their town, city or country, which they discussed in 9a.

 1 Focus students on the phonemes /ɔ:/ and /ɜ:/, the pictures and the words.

- CD3 30 Play the recording. Students listen to the sounds and the words.

Point out that or in forty is pronounced with an /ɔ:/ sound and ur in burger is pronounced with an /ɜ:/ sound. Note that in British English we don't usually pronounce the letter r after a vowel sound.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. If students are having problems producing the sounds, help them with the mouth position for each sound.

Point out that when we make the /ɔ:/ sound, the lips are very rounded and pushed forward, the front of the tongue is down and the jaw is also down. Also point out that /ɔ:/ is a long sound.

Highlight that when we make the /ɜ:/ sound, the mouth is slightly open and the lips, tongue and jaw are in a relaxed position. Highlight that /ɜ:/ is also a long sound. Note that this is the same mouth position that we use for the schwa /ə/, which is a short sound.

(regular and irregular verbs)

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews dates and was born. Students do the first part of the activity on their own. Go through the example conversation with the class. Check students remember the question When was he/she born? and how to say months, dates and years (On June the second, nineteen ninety-four, etc.). Students complete the activity in pairs.

Transport

- 1 a Students work on their own and tick the words they know. Students then turn to Language Summary 9 VOCABULARY 9.1 SB p130 to check their ideas. Check the words with the class.
Highlight that we can say a taxi or a cab. Also remind students that a bike = a bicycle.
You can also teach a scooter, a ferry and a tram if they are relevant to your students.
- b CD3 ▶ 33 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise.
- c Focus students on sentences 1–4. Students underline the verbs in the sentences. Check answers with the class (go, come, travel, walk).
Use the sentences to highlight the difference between come (travel from another place to where you are now) and go (travel to another place away from where you are now). Check students understand walk.
Point out that we say by car, by bus, etc. Note that we say on foot not by foot. However, this phrase is rarely used nowadays and we are more likely to use the verb walk (I usually walk to school., etc.).
Also teach students that go by plane = fly, go by car = drive and go by bike = cycle.
Model and drill sentences 1–4 with the class. Highlight the difference in pronunciation between the vowel sounds in walk /wɔ:k/ and work /wɜ:k/ in sentence 4, which students studied in the Help with Pronunciation section in unit 8.
- 2 a Students do the exercise on their own, as shown in the example.
- b Students do the exercise in pairs. Ask each pair to tell the class any sentences that are the same for both students.

Bangkok to Brighton

- 3 a Pre-teach the words in the box using pictures, examples, translation, etc. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need to understand the article they are about to read.
Note that a tuk-tuk is a small motorised taxi that is commonly used in Asian countries, as shown in the photo.

Drill the words, highlighting the pronunciation of tuk-tuk /'tʊk tʊk/ and journey /'dʒɜ:ni/.

b Focus students on the newspaper article and ask them to cover the text. Students look at the photo, the book cover and the map and discuss what they think the article is about. This can be done in pairs or with the whole class.

c Students read the article to find out if their ideas in 3b are correct. Check the answer with the class. (The article is about two women who travelled from Thailand to the UK by tuk-tuk.)

Check students know that Bangkok is the capital of Thailand and that Brighton /'braɪtən/ is a city in the south of England.

Tell students not to worry about the pink and blue words in the text at this stage. If students ask about them, simply say that they are all verbs in the past.

- 4 Check students remember miles. Students do the exercise on their own. Point out that students should write dates, places and numbers in the table, not complete sentences, as shown in the examples.
Students compare their answers in pairs by saying the dates, places and numbers to each other. Check answers with the class. You can also ask students if they would like to do the same journey.

b May 28th 2006 c Bangkok, Thailand d Brighton, England e 12,500 f 12 g 98 h £50,000

HELP WITH GRAMMAR Past Simple: positive (regular and irregular verbs)

- 5 a–c Focus students on the Past Simple forms in blue and pink in the article. Point out the words in blue are Past Simple forms of regular verbs and the words in pink are Past Simple forms of irregular verbs. Students do the exercises on their own or in pairs, then check their answers in GRAMMAR 9.1 SB p131. Check answers with the class, highlighting the following points.

- a To make the Past Simple of regular verbs, we usually add -ed to the verb: wanted, started, etc.
- For regular verbs that end in -e (like, arrive, etc.), we add -d to the verb: liked, arrived, etc.
- Check students understand the meaning of the new verbs want, visit and arrive.
- Point out that the Past Simple of travel is travelled and the Past Simple of study is studied. This is because travel ends in consonant + vowel + consonant and study ends in consonant + -y. However, at this level we suggest that you don't overburden students with spelling rules, as they are not asked to use any other Past Simple forms of this type in face2face Second edition Starter.

- Answers b 2 came 3 got 4 gave 5 went 6 had 7 left 8 met 9 told 10 wrote
- Check students understand the meaning of the new verbs give, leave, meet and tell.
- Point out that there are no spelling rules for irregular verbs.
- Also highlight that the Past Simple of both regular and irregular verbs is the same for all subjects (I, you, he, she, it, we, they).
- Remind students that the Past Simple of be is was or were.
- Highlight the lists of regular verbs and irregular verbs in GRAMMAR 9.1 SB p131. Encourage students to learn the irregular Past Simple forms at home.

EXTRA IDEA

- If your students are finding the lesson difficult, go through 5a and 5b with the whole class, highlighting the points above. You can then point out the lists of regular and irregular verbs in GRAMMAR 9.1 SB p131.

- 6 a Point out that verbs 1–12 are all regular verbs. Students do the exercise on their own before comparing answers in pairs.
- ✍ Check answers with the class by writing them on the board so students can check their spelling. Include the answer to question 1 (visited). Leave the words on the board to help you check 6b.

1 visited 2 watched
3 played 4 hated
5 walked 6 worked
7 lived 8 wanted
9 loved 10 talked
11 started 12 finished

b CD3 34 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p112). Students listen and practise. Note that students should repeat both the verb and its Past Simple form together (visit, visited, etc.), not separately.

✍ Ask students which Past Simple forms end in /ɪd/ and underline them on the board (visited, hated, wanted, started).

Point out that the -ed ending in these words is said as an extra syllable because the verbs end in -t (visit, etc.). This is also true of verbs that end in -d (needed /'ni:di:d/, ended /'endi:d/, etc.), but this has not been highlighted in this lesson as students haven't met any of these verbs yet.

Also note that students often have difficulty pronouncing the 'consonant clusters' at the end of regular Past Simple forms (watched /wɒtʃt/, worked /wɜ:kɪt/, finished /'fɪnɪʃt/, etc.), and often mistakenly say these -ed endings as extra syllables.

Play the recording again if necessary, pausing after each pair of words for students to repeat chorally and individually.

c CD3 35 PRONUNCIATION Focus students on the Past Simple forms in 5b, then play the recording (SB p112). Students listen and practise. Alternatively, drill the Past Simple forms yourself. Repeat the drill if necessary.

You can highlight the /ɔ:/ sound in bought /bɔ:t/, which students studied in the Help with Pronunciation section in unit 8.

EXTRA IDEA

- Students work in pairs and take turns to test each other on the regular and irregular Past Simple forms from the lesson. One student says a verb, for example buy, and his/her partner says the Past Simple form, for example bought.

HELP WITH LISTENING

Present Simple or Past Simple

This Help with Listening section helps students to hear the difference between Present Simple and Past Simple verb forms.

- 7 a Focus students on sentences 1–3. Point out that the verbs in blue are in the Present Simple and the verbs in pink are in the Past Simple.

CD3 36 Play the recording. Students listen and notice the different pronunciation of these verb forms.

Play the recording again if necessary, asking students if they can hear the final consonant sound of the Past Simple forms.

b CD3 37 Play the recording (SB p112). Students listen and decide which they hear first, the Present Simple or the Past Simple, as shown in the example. Play the recording again if necessary. Check answers with the class.

- 2 Present Simple (live)
- 3 Past Simple (arrived)
- 4 Present Simple (talk)
- 5 Present Simple (want)
- 6 Past Simple (played)

Around the world by bike

- 8 a Focus students on the photo of Mark Beaumont. Teach the phrase travel around the world. Ask how Mark travelled around the world (by bike). Students do the exercise on their own.

b Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class. Also point out the regular verb cycle /'saɪkəl/ in the example. You can also ask students which Past Simple forms are regular and which are irregular.

2 had 3 left 4 started 5 travelled 6 visited 7 met 8 wrote 9 got 10 finished 11 went 12 told 13 was 14 raised

Get ready ... Get it right!

- 9 Put students into groups of three or four. Ask all students to turn to SB p96. Check they are looking at the correct exercise.
- a Students do the exercise on their own. Remind students to put the verbs in brackets in the Past Simple, as shown in the example. If necessary, go through the prompts with the class before they begin.
- b Students practise saying their sentences on their own until they can remember them.
- c Students work in their groups and take turns to tell each other about the last time they visited a different town or city, using the sentences they have memorised. Encourage students to include more information if possible. Students may ask each other questions about the places they visited, but don't worry if these are inaccurate at this point. Note that Past Simple questions are taught in lesson 9B.
- d Finally, ask each student to tell the class two things about the place they visited.

EXTRA IDEA

- Introduce the activity by telling the class about the last time you visited a town or city before asking them to turn to SB p96.

WRITING

Students write a description of a time when they visited a different town or city. You can ask them to write about the place they discussed in 9, adding more details if possible, or to describe a different occasion.

Vocabulary holiday activities Grammar Past Simple: negative, questions and short answers

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews the Past Simple of regular and irregular verbs. Students do the first part of the activity on their own. Demonstrate the second part of the activity by asking students to tell you one or two of their verbs and then saying sentences with the correct Past Simple form, as shown in the example. Students complete the activity in pairs.

Holiday activities

- 1 a Students work in pairs and tick the phrases they know, then do the exercise in VOCABULARY 9.2 SB p130. They can then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class. Point out that we say go on holiday in British English and go on vacation in American English. Check students understand go sightseeing (visit the famous buildings in a town, city or country) and travel around (travel from place to place). Highlight the different words and phrases that follow the verb go: go on holiday, go to the beach, go sightseeing, go swimming, go for a walk. Also tell students we can rent a car or hire a car.

2g 3k 4d 5i 6a 7c 8f 9b 10j 11h

b CD3 ▶ 38 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Highlight the pronunciation of beach /bi:tʃ/ and sightseeing /'saɪtsi:ɪŋ/. Repeat the drill if necessary. Note that only the main stress is shown in the vocabulary boxes and Language Summaries.

c Students do the exercise with their partners from 1a.

✍ Elicit the Past Simple forms of the verbs in 1a and write them on the board. Point out that take is irregular. Drill these words with the class, highlighting the extra syllable in rented /'rentɪd/.

stay → stayed rent → rented travel → travelled have → had

- 2 a Check students remember always, usually and sometimes. Students do the exercise on their own, as shown in the examples.
- b Students do the exercise in pairs. Ask students to tell the class which of their sentences are also true for their partner (Nico and I sometimes go to the beach., etc.).

Favourite places

- 3 a Pre-teach the words in the box using photos, definitions, translation, etc. Note that the aim of this box is to highlight which new words students need in order to understand the texts they are about to read and listen to.

Model and drill the new words with the class, highlighting the pronunciation of palace /'pælɪs/ and scenery /'si:nəri/.

- b Focus students on the photos of the people and the texts on SB p72, and the photos on SB p73.

CD3 ▶ 39 Play the recording. Students read and listen, then match the people to the photos on SB p73 and decide which countries the places are in. Check answers with the class.

Heidi Red Square (in Moscow, Russia)
Charlie the Alhambra (in Granada, Spain)
John and Diane Cappadocia (in Turkey)

- c Students do the exercise on their own before comparing answers in pairs. Check answers with the class. Ask students which of the three places they would like to visit.

2 Heidi 3 Charlie 4 Heidi 5 John ... Diane
 6 Heidi ... Charlie 7 Charlie, John ... Diane

HELP WITH GRAMMAR

Past Simple: negative

- 4 a-b Students do the exercises on their own or in pairs. ✍ While students are working, draw the table from 4a on the board. Check answers with the class.

- Focus students on the table on the board. Elicit which words in sentences 1 and 2 in 4b go in each column and complete the table (see the table in GRAMMAR 9.2 ▶ SB p131).
- Highlight the word order in Past Simple negatives: subject + didn't + verb + ...
- Point out that didn't is the contracted form of did not and that we usually use this form when speaking and writing.
- Also point out that we use didn't with all subjects (I, you, he, she, it, we, they) and with all verbs except be.
- Highlight that we use the verb in negative sentences, not its Past Simple form: I didn't stay in a hotel. not I didn't stayed in a hotel., etc.
- Remind students that the Past Simple negative of be is wasn't or weren't, not didn't be.

- 5 CD3 ▶ 40 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise the sentences in 4. Check that students copy the sentence stress correctly. Also point out that didn't is always stressed because it has a negative meaning.

- 6 a Focus students on the example. Point out that we use the verb go in the negative sentence (didn't go), but its Past Simple form in the positive sentence (went). Students do the exercise on their own.
- b Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

1b She didn't go sightseeing in the afternoons. She went sightseeing in the mornings.
2a Charlie didn't go to Spain two years ago. He went to Spain last year. b He didn't stay with friends in Valencia. He stayed in a hotel.
3a John and Diane didn't rent bikes. They rented a car. b They didn't stay in a big hotel in Cappadocia. They stayed in a small hotel.

- 7 Ask students to cover the texts on SB p72. Students answer the questions on their own before comparing answers in pairs. Check answers with the class. Highlight the position of with in question 2 and tell students that it is common in English to end a sentence with a preposition: Who do you live with?, Where are you from?, etc.

1 (She went to) Moscow/Russia. 2 (She stayed with) some friends. 3 (He went to the beach) every afternoon. 4 No, he didn't. 5 No, they didn't. 6 (They took) about 500 photos.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR Past Simple: questions and short answers

- 8 a-c Students do the exercises on their own or in pairs. ✍ While they are working, draw the table from 8a on the board. Check answers with the class.

- a-b Focus students on the Wh- questions table on the board. Elicit which words in sentences 1 and 2 go in each column and complete the table (see the table in GRAMMAR 9.3 ▶ SB p131).
- Highlight the word order in Wh- questions: question word + did + subject + verb + ...
- Point out that the auxiliary did has no meaning, but is used to make the Past Simple questions.
- Use sentence 2 to highlight that we often use a noun after How many ... ?: How many photos did they take?
- Point out that we use did with all subjects (I, you, he, she, it, we, they) and with all verbs except be.
- Highlight that we use the verb in questions, not its Past Simple form: Where did Heidi go? not Where did Heidi went?
- Remind students that we don't use did in questions with was and were: Where were you? not Where did you be?, etc.
- c Answers Did he go swimming? Yes, he did. No, he didn't. Did they visit Turkey last year? Yes, they did. No, they didn't.

- Use the table to highlight the word order in Past Simple yes/no questions:
Did + subject + verb + ...
- Point out that, as with other forms of the Past Simple, the form of yes/no questions and short answers is the same for all subjects (I, you, he, she, it, we, they).

EXTRA IDEA

- Ask students to turn to GRAMMAR 9.3 SB p131. Focus students on the final TIP. Use the table below the TIP to highlight the difference between negative and question forms in the Present Simple and Past Simple. Point out that only the auxiliary in pink changes (don't/doesn't → didn't, do/does → did).

9 CD3 ▶ 41 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Check that students copy the sentence stress correctly. If necessary, play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat individually.

a Focus students on the photos of Heidi and Charlie and ask students where they went on holiday last year (Russia and Spain). Check students understand the phrase buy presents.

Students do the exercise on their own.

If necessary, check the questions with the whole class. Note that the questions are the same for student As and student Bs, apart from he/she and his/her.

Student A/Student B 2 Did she/he visit any museums? 3 What did she/he do in the evenings? 4 How did she/he travel around? 5 Did she/he buy any presents?

b Students work with their partners. Student A in each pair asks his/her questions from a about Heidi. Before they begin, tell student Bs that the answers are in column C of their table and remind them to use the Past Simple form of the verbs in brackets in their answers. Student As should write the answers in column B of their table.

c Students swap roles so that student B in each pair asks his/her questions from a about Charlie. Students can then compare tables and check their partner's answers. Check answers with the class if necessary.

Student A 1 She went for a walk. 2 Yes, she did. 3 She had dinner with her friends. 4 She went by bus and taxi. 5 No, she didn't.

Student B 1 He went sightseeing. 2 No, he didn't. 3 He had dinner in his hotel. 4 He rented a car. 5 Yes, he did.

Get ready ... Get it right!

11 a Focus students on the example. Check students understand that When did you last go on holiday? asks about your most recent holiday (the one nearest to now).

Students do the exercise on their own. Check the questions with the class. Drill the questions if necessary.

Where did you go?
What did you do there?
Who did you go with?
Where did you stay?
How did you travel around?
Did you have a good time?

b Ask students to think about their last holiday and answer the questions in 11a for themselves. Students can make brief notes if necessary or just answer the questions in their heads. Tell students not to write complete sentences. Note that this stage will help prepare students with ideas to talk about in 12a.

12 a Put students into pairs, student A and student B. If possible, ask students to work with someone they don't know very well. Student A in each pair asks his or her partner all the questions from 11a. Students then swap roles so that student B asks all his or her questions. Encourage students to give more information if possible.

b Finally, ask a few students to tell the class about their partner's holiday.

EXTRA IDEA

- Use the photocopiable Class Activity 9B What did you do on holiday? p156–p157 (Instructions p124) as an alternative way to finish the lesson. This might be appropriate if you have a young class, or your students are unlikely to have been on holiday.

WRITING

Students write about their last holiday, as discussed in 12. Alternatively, ask students to imagine they went on their perfect holiday last month. Students write a short description of their holiday.

At the station

1 a Focus students on the photos. Students do the exercise in pairs. Check answers with the class. Point out that a single = a single ticket and a return = a return ticket. However, we rarely say ticket with these words.

a single 5; a return 6; a ticket office 2;
a ticket machine 3; a platform 4

b CD3 ▶ 42 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise.

2 Focus students on the photo of Sally at the ticket office, and point out that she was the teacher in the language school in lesson 1C.

VIDEO ▶ 9.1 CD3 ▶ 43 Play the video or audio recording (SB p112). Students watch or listen and write down where Sally wants to go and how much her ticket is. Check answers with the class. Note that all the Real World videos can be found on the Teacher's DVD at the back of this book.

Sally wants to go to London.
Her ticket is £46.70.

REAL WORLD Buying train tickets

3 Focus students on the flow chart and give them time to read the conversation.

VIDEO ▶ 9.1 CD3 ▶ 43 Play the video or audio recording again. Students listen and fill in the gaps in the conversation. Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

Go through the sentences in the flow chart with the class and check students understand them. Point out the new phrases come back, the next train and Which platform?.

a London b £46.70 c 10.23 d platform
e 3 f London g 11.56

4 CD3 ▶ 44 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Check that students copy the sentence stress and polite intonation correctly. Play the recording again if necessary, pausing after each sentence or question for students to repeat individually.

5 a Students do the exercise in pairs, taking turns to be the customer. Ask students to practise a few times in each role and encourage them to memorise the conversation.

b Ask students to close their books. Students practise the conversation in pairs. You can ask one or two pairs to role-play the conversation for the class.

EXTRA IDEA

- Write answers a–e in 5a on the board so that students don't have to remember the place, price, train times and platform number when they practise the conversation with their books closed.

6 a Ask students to cover the conversation in 3. Students do the exercise on their own.

b CD3 ▶ 45 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class.

6 Which 7 does 8 At 9 a lot

a Tell student As that they are customers and student Bs that they are ticket sellers. Give students a few moments to read the information in the table. Point out that student As must buy two different pairs of tickets. Tell the class that the time is now 9 a.m.

Students work with their partners. Student As buy two returns to Bath and fill in the gaps in the first row of the table. Remind students to use language from 3 in their conversations.

Student As then buy two singles to Bristol and fill in the gaps in the second row of the table.

b Students swap roles so that student Bs are customers and student As are ticket sellers. Give students time to read the information in the second table. Tell students that Leeds is a city in the north of England.

Students work with their partners. Student Bs buy two returns to Leeds and fill in the gaps in the first row of the table.

Student Bs then buy two singles to Manchester and fill in the gaps in the second row of the table.

At the end of the activity, ask students to compare tables and check the information is correct. You can also ask one or two pairs to role-play a conversation for the class.

Last weekend

- 8 a Focus students on the photo of Rob and Sally. Tell the class that it's now Monday morning and Sally is talking to another teacher, Rob, about her trip to London.
- Focus students on photos A–D and check students know that they are all famous places in London. Teach the pronunciation of Leicester /'lestə/ Square. If necessary, tell the class that the West End is in the centre of London and is very popular with tourists because there are a lot of theatres, cinemas, restaurants and cafés. Also check your students know the famous musical Les Misérables.

VIDEO 9.2 CD3 46 Play the video or audio recording (SB p112). Students watch or listen and put photos A–D in the order that Sally and Rob talk about them.

Check answers with the class.

b Students work in pairs and try to choose the correct words or phrases, based on what they can remember from the conversation. Do not check answers at this stage.

c Play the video or audio recording again. Students watch or listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class.

EXTRA IDEA

- If you feel this 'How much can you remember?' approach is too challenging for your class, give students time to read sentences 1–6, then play VIDEO 9.2 CD3 46 again. Students watch or listen and choose the correct answers.

REAL WORLD Asking about last weekend

- 9 Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs. Check answers and go through the following points with the class.

- Answers 2 What 3 Where 4 do 5 good 6 did 7 you
- Check students remember that questions 1–7 are all in the Past Simple. Point out that we ask these questions to find out what someone did last weekend.
- Highlight the word order in the questions: (question word) + did + you + verb + ... ?
- Ask students what the short answers are for Past Simple yes/no questions (Yes, I did./ No, I didn't.). Point out that when answering question 1, we would usually say Yes, I did, thanks. not just Yes, I did.

- Point out that in question 2, we can also say What did you do last weekend? if we are asking the question later in the week.
- You can teach Nothing special. as a possible answer to question 2.
- With a strong class, you can also teach students How was your weekend? as an alternative to question 1. Note that we only ask this question on Mondays, not on other days in the week.

- 10 CD3 47 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p113). Students listen and practise. Check students copy the sentence stress correctly.

Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat individually. Alternatively, ask students to turn to Audio Script CD3 47 SB p113, which has the stress marked on the sentences. Play the recording again. Students listen, read and practise the sentences.

- 11 a Students work on their own and make notes about things they did last weekend, as in the examples. Encourage students to write at least six things. While they are working, monitor and help students with any new vocabulary they need.

b Students do the exercise in pairs, as shown in the speech bubbles. Before they begin, remind students to use questions from 9 and point out that they can ask their own questions as well. Also encourage students to give more information if possible when answering the questions.

While they are working, monitor and help students with any communication problems.

c Finally, ask a few students to tell the class one thing their partner did at the weekend.

EXTRA IDEA

- Begin the activity in 11a by inviting students to ask you about what you did last weekend.

WRITING

Students write a description of what they did last weekend, based on the notes they made in 11a.

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews Past Simple yes/no questions. Students do the activity in pairs. At the end of the activity, ask each pair to tell the class one thing that they both did yesterday.

- 1 a Pre-teach the vocabulary in the box using definitions, examples or pictures from the quiz. Point out that we say the Earth and the moon, and that Earth is often spelt with a capital letter. Also check students understand that we earn money by doing a job. Model and drill the words, highlighting the /ɜ:/ sound in Earth /ɜ:θ/ and earn /ɜ:n/.
- b Students do the quiz in pairs. Set a time limit of five minutes. Do not check answers at this stage.

- 2 Tell the class they are going to listen to two people doing the quiz. Check students understand that they must listen and tick the correct answers in the quiz, not the answers that Mark gives on the recording. CD3 ▶ 48 Play the recording. Students listen and tick the correct answers to the quiz questions. Ask students to compare answers in pairs and to work out how many answers they got right. Check answers with the class. Sentence stress (3)

This Help with Listening section reviews sentence stress in the context of an informal conversation.

- 3 a Focus students on the beginning of Jackie and Mark's conversation. CD3 ▶ 48 Play the beginning of the recording again. Students listen and notice the sentence stress. Remind students that we stress the important words (the words that carry the meaning). You can use the sentences to highlight what types of word are stressed (names, verbs, nouns, question words, etc.) and what types of word are not usually stressed (auxiliaries, pronouns, prepositions, articles, etc.).
- b Ask students to turn to Audio Script CD3 ▶ 48 SB p113, which has all the sentence stress marked. Play the whole recording again. Students listen, read and follow the sentence stress. Students should also find out how many questions Mark got right. Check the answer with the class.

Mark got three questions right – questions 4, 5 and 8.

HELP WITH VOCABULARY

Question words

- 4 Focus students on the words in pink in the quiz. Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

- Answers What = a thing When = a time Where = a place Why = a reason How = old age How many = a number How much = an amount of money
- Point out that we also use What time ... ? to ask about a time:
A What time do you go to bed?
B At half past eleven.
- Highlight that we usually answer Why ... ? questions with Because ... :
A Why are you tired?
B Because I got up at 5 a.m.
- Use question 7 to remind students that we often use a noun after How many ... ?: How many countries are there in Africa?
- Note that the difference between What and Which is dealt with in face2face Second edition Elementary. We suggest you don't focus on the difference here.

- 5 a Pre-teach spend (money) on something (food, clothes, CDs, etc.). Students do the exercise on their own. Check answers with the class.

2 What 3 How old 4 How many 5 Who 6 Why 7 Where 8 When 9 How many 10 How much

- b Focus students on the speech bubbles and check students remember that When did you last (go to the cinema)? asks about the most recent time they did this (the time nearest to now). Students do the exercise in pairs. Encourage students to ask more questions if possible. While they are working, monitor and help with any communication problems. You can ask a few students to tell the class anything interesting they found out about their partner.

- 6 a Students do the exercise on their own. Before they begin, point out that these questions can be in the Present Simple or the Past Simple. While they are working, monitor and check their questions for accuracy.
- b Put students into new pairs. If possible, ask students to work with someone they don't know very well. Students take turns to ask their questions, again asking more questions if possible.
- c Finally, ask students to tell the class two things they found out about their partner.

EXTRA IDEA

- Students work in pairs and write four questions to ask you. Allow students to ask you the questions and try to give honest answers if possible!

HELP WITH PRONUNCIATION /l/ and /r/

- 1 Focus students on the phonemes /l/ and /r/, the pictures and the words.

CD3 ▶ 49 Play the recording. Students listen to the sounds and the words. Point out that l in leave is pronounced with a /l/ sound and rr in arrive is pronounced with a /r/ sound.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. If students are having problems, help them with the mouth position for each sound.

Point out that we make the /l/ sound by touching the roof of the mouth behind the top teeth with the tongue, so that the air passes either side of the tongue. Also highlight that /l/ is a voiced sound (there is vibration in the throat).

We make the /r/ sound by pointing the tip of the tongue upwards and backwards, but the tongue does not touch the roof of the mouth. There is some contact between the sides of the tongue and the teeth. Point out that /r/ is also a voiced sound (there is vibration in the throat).

- 2 CD3 ▶ 50 Focus students on the boxes. Play the recording. Students listen and notice how we say the pink and blue consonants.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise.

- 3 a Tell the class that sometimes we don't say the letter r in standard British English, particularly after certain vowel sounds like /ə/ and /ɔ:/, or at the end of a word. Highlight that we always pronounce rr (double r). Also point out that in standard American English the letter r is always pronounced. Focus students on the examples in the box. Point out that we say the r in friend, but not the r in first. Students do the exercise on their own or in pairs.

While they are working, write the words on the board so that you can check their answers.

b CD3 ▶ 51 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class by eliciting students' answers and putting ticks or crosses next to the words on the board.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise. Students can then practise saying the words in pairs.

Vocabulary future plans; future time phrases
Grammar be going to: positive and negative

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews question words and question forms. ✍ Write these question words on the board: Who, What, When, Where, Why, How old, How many, How much. Students do the first part of the activity in pairs. Students can write questions in the Present Simple or the Past Simple. Put students into pairs. Students complete the activity in groups of four, as shown in the examples.

Future plans

1 a Focus students on the diagram and highlight the example start. Point out that we can say start school, start university or start a new job.

Students do the exercise in pairs before checking in Language Summary 10 VOCABULARY 10.1 SB p132. Check answers with the class.

Point out that in this lesson, start/leave school or university are used to mean 'start or finish our education at that place', rather than the time that people begin classes or leave the building as part of their daily routine. Also highlight that we say start school, etc. not start the school, etc.

Point out the difference between start a new job and look for a new job.

Also highlight that we say do a (computer) course/an exam, not make a (computer) course/an exam. Elicit other types of course people do, for example, do an English course, do a film course, do a business course, etc. Note that we can also say take an exam.

Check that students understand the difference between get engaged and get married.

Establish that move house means 'go and live in a different house or flat', and that we say move house not move a house or move flat.

Point out that we also say look for a house/a flat not look for house/flat.

Highlight that we can also say move to + city or country: move to London, move to the USA, etc.

leave school or university/your job do a (computer) course/an exam move house/to another city or country get engaged/married look for a house or a flat/a (new) job

b CD3 52 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Note that each phrase is said separately on the recording (start school, start university, etc.). Highlight the pronunciation of university /ju:ni'vɜ:səti/, course /kɔ:s/ and engaged /ɪn'geɪdʒd/. Repeat the drill if necessary, pausing after each phrase for students to repeat individually.

c Students do the activity in new pairs, as shown in the speech bubbles. Remind students that we can sometimes use more than one verb with some nouns (start school, leave school, etc.).

A world language

2 a Focus students on the photos of the four people and the texts. Tell the class that these people all study English in different parts of the world.

CD3 53 Play the recording. Students listen, read and decide where each person studies English. Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

If students ask you the meaning of 'ml'relis going to' in the texts, you can simply say that these sentences are about the future and that students are going to study be going to later in the lesson.

Isabella studies English at university. Kamil studies English at school. Ali studies English at a language school in London. Colette studies English online.

b Students do the exercise on their own.

c Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

2 Kamil 3 Ali 4 Colette 5 Kamil 6 Ali 7 Isabella

EXTRA IDEA

- Put students into pairs, student A and student B. Student A reads the texts about Isabella and Kamil and circles all the phrases from 1a they can find. Student B does the same for the texts about Ali and Colette. Students then compare answers with their partners.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR

be going to: positive and negative

3 a-c Students do the exercises on their own or in pairs. Early finishers can check in GRAMMAR 10.1 SB p133. ✍ While students are working, draw the tables from 3b on the board. Check answers with the class.

- a We use be going to + verb to talk about future plans.
- Use the sentences in 2b to help students understand what we mean by 'a future plan'. While there are various different ways to express the future in English, we feel that be going to is the most useful for Starter students and is likely to be correct in the majority of situations, particularly when talking about future plans.
- b-c Focus students on the tables on the board. ✍ Elicit which sentences in 3c go in each table and write the words in each sentence in the appropriate columns (see GRAMMAR 10.1 SB p133).
- Focus students on the POSITIVE table. Ask students when the people decided to do these things, 'now' or 'before now' (before now).

- Highlight the word order in positive and negative sentences with be going to:
subject + be (+ not) + going to + verb + ...
- Point out that be changes according to the subject and whether the sentence is positive or negative:
(+) I'm, you're, he's, she's, it's, we're, they're (-) I'm not, you aren't, he's not, she's not, it isn't, we aren't, they aren't.
- Point out that we can also use the alternative negative forms you're not, he's not, etc.
- Also highlight that with the verb go we usually say I'm going to the cinema. not I'm going to go to the cinema., but that both sentences are correct.

4 Focus students on the example drill. Highlight the sentence stress and the weak form of to /tə/.
CD3 ▶ 54 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p113). Students listen and practise. Check students copy the sentence stress and the weak form of to correctly. Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to practise individually.

- 5 a Students do the exercise on their own.
b Students compare answers in pairs and decide which sentences are negative. Check answers with the class if necessary.

Isabella ... he's going to be a doctor.; We're going to get married ... ; we aren't going to live in São Paulo ... (negative); we're going to move to Rio.
Kamil I'm going to leave school ... ; ... I'm not going to start university ... (negative); ... I'm going to do a computer course ... ; ... I'm going to look for a job ...
Ali ... my sister is going to visit me ... ; ... we're going to travel around the UK. She isn't going to stay here for very long ... (negative); ... I'm going to start a new job ...
Colette ... I'm going to do an exam ... ; they're going to move to Paris ... ; ... Oliver's going to leave his job ... ; ... we're going to move to Sydney!

- 6 a Students do the exercise on their own. Remind students to use contracted forms of be ('m, 's, 're) in positive sentences.
b Students compare answers in pairs, then match the sentences to the people in the photos. Check answers with the class.

1b 's going to stay (Ali) 2a 're not / aren't going to look for 2b 're going to buy (Colette) 3a 's going to leave 3b 're not / aren't going to have (Isabella) 4a 'm going to do 4b 'm not going to look for (Kamil)

Future time phrases

- 7 a Students do the exercise on their own before comparing answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

Point out that we say tonight not ~~this night~~, and that we can say tomorrow morning, tomorrow afternoon, tomorrow evening and tomorrow night. Highlight that we use next in these phrases: next weekend, next week, next month, next year. Point out that we also use in with months (in December, etc.) and years (in 2025, etc.) to refer to the future. We can also use next with months (next June, etc.) and days (next Monday, etc.). Highlight that we can also use on with days to refer to the future (on Monday, etc.). Tell students that it is very common to use a future time phrase in sentences or questions with be going to.

in June next year 5; next month 4; in 2025 6; tomorrow morning 2; next week 3

b Students do the activity on their own, as shown in the example. While students are working, monitor and check their sentences for accuracy.

c Students work in pairs and take turns to tell each other their sentences. Encourage students to give more information if possible.
Ask each student to tell the class one of their sentences.

8 Students do the exercise on their own. Tell students to write phrases, as in the examples, not complete sentences with be going to. Students should write six things in total, one for each time phrase (after class, tomorrow evening, next Sunday, etc.).

- 9 a Put students into groups of three or four. Students take turns to talk about their plans, using their phrases from 8. Students make a note of any plans that are the same for more than one student in the group. Students may try to ask questions with be going to at this stage, but don't worry if these are inaccurate at this point. Note that questions with be going to are taught in lesson 10B.
b Finally, ask students to tell the class about their group's plans, as in the speech bubble.

WRITING

Students write about their future plans, and those of their family and friends. Encourage students to give more information about each person or plan if possible.

Vocabulary phrases with have, watch, go, go to Grammar be going to: questions and short answers

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews vocabulary for future plans and be going to. Write these verbs on the board: start, leave, do, move, get, look for. Students do the first part of the activity on their own. Put students into pairs to compare phrases. Students complete the activity in pairs, as shown in the example. Remind students to use be going to in their sentences. At the end of the activity, you can ask one or two students to tell the class about some of their future plans.

Phrases with have, watch, go, go to 1 a Focus students on the coloured boxes and highlight the verbs have, watch, go and go to. Students do the exercise in pairs, then check their answers in VOCABULARY 10.3 SB p132. Check answers with the class.

Point out the difference between have a party (it's your party) and go to a party (it's another person's party). Also point out that we don't say ~~make a party~~.

Highlight the in these phrases: watch the news, go to the cinema and go to the gym.

You can also tell the class that we say the news to refer to what is happening in the world and also for a type of TV or radio programme. Also point out that the news takes a singular verb: The news is on at 10.00, not ~~The news are on at 10.00~~.

Establish that we usually use go with verb+ing forms: go shopping, go swimming, go running, etc. You can also point out the double letters in these verb+ing forms. Note that this is because the verbs shop, swim and run end in consonant + vowel + consonant (see VOCABULARY 7.2 SB p126).

have coffee with friends, a party watch TV, the news, sport on TV go shopping, swimming, running go to the cinema, the gym, a party

b CD3 55 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Repeat the drill if necessary, pausing after each phrase for students to repeat individually.

c Students do the exercise with their partners from 1a, as shown in the examples.

While students are working, draw a table with four columns on the board. Write have, watch, go and go to at the top of the columns.

Elicit students' ideas and write correct phrases in the appropriate column on the board for other students to copy. Leave the phrases on the board to help students with 2a.

Possible answers have breakfast, lunch, children, a brother, a sister, a car, a computer, a laptop, etc.

watch a DVD, a video, a TV programme, a soap opera, a horror film, football, tennis, etc.

go sightseeing, home, on holiday, for a walk, skiing, dancing, out with friends, etc.

go to a concert, the theatre, a museum, the beach, work, school, university, bed, etc.

EXTRA IDEA

- Write the phrases (but not the verbs) from the Possible answers box above in random order on a handout. Give each student a copy of the handout. Students work in pairs and decide which verb goes with each word or phrase. Check answers on the board as in 1c.

2 a Students do the exercise on their own. Students can use phrases from 1a or those on the board.

b Students do the exercise in pairs. Ask each student to tell the class one of their true sentences.

Future plans

3 a Focus students on the photo on SB p81. Ask students where Rosie, Andy and Jason are (in a pub). CD3 56 Play the recording (SB p113). Students listen and decide what Rosie, Andy and Jason are going to do on Friday.

Check the answer with the class. (They're going to have dinner together in a restaurant.)

b Check students know where South Africa is. Give students time to read questions 1–6.

Play the recording again. Students listen and answer the questions. Students compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

1 Next month. 2 He's going to work for a travel company (in Cape Town). 3 Yes, she is. 4 They're going to live in Rosie and her husband's flat. 5 No, they aren't. 6 He's going to (go to) the cinema.

HELP WITH GRAMMAR

be going to: questions and short answers

4 a–c Students do the exercises on their own or in pairs. Early finishers can check their answers in GRAMMAR 10.2 SB p133.

While students are working, draw the table from 4a on the board. Check answers with the class.

- a–b Focus students on the table on the board. Elicit which words in questions 1 and 2 in 4b go in each column and complete the table (see the table in GRAMMAR 10.2 SB p133).
- Highlight the word order in Wh- questions with be going to: question word + be + subject + going to + verb + ...
- c Answers Are you going to see a film? Yes, I am. / No, I'm not.; Is she going to look for a job? Yes, she is. / No, she isn't.; Are you going to sell your flat? Yes, we are. / No, we aren't.; Are they going to have a party? Yes, they are. / No, they aren't.
- Use the questions in the first column to highlight that the word order in yes/no questions with be going to is the same as for Wh- questions, but without the question word.
- Highlight that we only use a form of the verb be in the short answers, not going to.
- Also point out that the short answers are the same as for yes/no questions with the verb be (Are you British?, Is she a doctor?, etc.).
- Remind students that we can also say the short answers No, he's not., No, she's not., No, we're not. and No, they're not.

EXTRA IDEA

- Ask students to look at Audio Script CD3 56 SB p113. Play the recording again. Students listen, read and underline all the questions and sentences with be going to. Students can then compare answers in pairs.

- 5 a Students do the exercise on their own.
- b CD3 57 Play the recording (SB p113). Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class.
- PRONUNCIATION Focus students on the example drill. Highlight the sentence stress and the weak form of to /tə/. Play the recording again. Students listen and practise.
- Alternatively, ask students to turn to Audio Script CD3 57 SB p113, where the stress in the questions is marked. Play the recording again. Students listen, read and copy the sentence stress as shown in the Student's Book.

- 2 What are you going to do after class?
- 3 When are you going to do your homework?
- 4 What time are you going to get up tomorrow?
- 5 Where are you going to have dinner tomorrow evening?
- 6 Where are you going to go on holiday next year?

- c Students do the activity in pairs. Before they begin, remind students to make notes on their partner's answers as they will need them when they talk to a different student in 5d.

- d Put students into new pairs. Students take turns to talk about their partner in 5c. Ask students to tell the class two things they found out about their first partner.

- 6 Focus students on the prompts. Students do the exercise on their own.
- If necessary, check and drill the questions with the class. Also remind students that for questions with go, we can say Are you going to go shopping on Saturday? or Are you going shopping on Saturday?, etc. and that both forms of the question are correct. Also point out the alternative questions Are you going to have a party next weekend? and Are you going to go to a party next weekend?

Are you going to watch TV tonight?
 Are you going to (go to) the cinema this week?
 Are you going to have coffee with friends after class?
 Are you going (to go) swimming or running next weekend?
 Are you going to (go to) the gym next week?
 Are you going to have/go to a party next weekend?
 Are you going to have dinner with friends on Saturday evening?

- 7 a Students move around the room and ask their questions from 6, or ask as many people as they can sitting near them. When they find a student who answers yes, they write the person's name next to the question. Students then ask one more question, as shown in the speech bubbles. Students should try and find a different person who answers yes for each question.
- b Finally, ask a few students to tell the class about one student's plans.

EXTRA IDEA

- When students have finished 7a, put them into pairs. Students take turns to tell each other about other students' plans.

QUICK REVIEW This activity reviews phrases with have, watch, go, go to. Students do the first part of the activity in pairs. You can set a time limit of two or three minutes. Then put students into groups of four with another pair. Students compare lists and find out who has more phrases. If necessary, check students' ideas by asking one pair to tell the class their phrases and eliciting other possible phrases from the rest of the class.

How do you feel?

- 1 a Focus students on pictures 1–8. Students do the exercise in pairs, then check their answers in VOCABULARY 10.4 SB p132. Check answers with the class, using the situations in the pictures to clarify meaning if necessary. Point out that the opposite of happy is sad or unhappy. Use the TIP to highlight that we can use the verbs be or feel with these adjectives: I'm excited. = I feel excited., etc. Depending on your students' first language, you may want to point out that excited is a positive adjective, and that we feel excited before something good or interesting happens (a holiday, a party, a concert, etc.). We feel nervous /'nɜːvəs/ before something we are worried about or don't want to do (an exam, speaking in public, a driving test, etc.). You can also point out that the woman in picture 5 is bored because the man is boring (which students learned in lesson 8A). However, we suggest that you don't focus on the difference between -ed and -ing adjectives too much at this level. With a strong class you can also teach thirsty /'θɜːsti/ and frightened /'fraɪtənd/. Note that frightened is a synonym of scared.

tired 7; happy 1; sad 2; bored 5; scared 8; hungry 6; angry 4

- b CD3 ▶ 58 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording. Students listen and practise. Alternatively, model and drill the words yourself. Highlight the difference in pronunciation between hungry /'hʌŋɡri/ and angry /'æŋɡri/. Also point out that scared /skeəd/ is one syllable, not two. Repeat the drill if necessary.
- c Focus students on the speech bubbles and highlight the use of Who's ... ? in the question. Students do the activity in new pairs.

- 2 a Check students remember always, usually, sometimes and never. Drill these words with the class if necessary. Students do the exercise on their own.

- b Students work in pairs and take turns to say their sentences to each other. You can also ask students to tick any sentences that are the same. Ask a few students to tell the class one or two things they found out about their partner.

See you soon!

- 3 a Focus students on photos A–C. Ask students where the people are. You can also ask students what they know about the people in the photos.

- A Sally is at a station and she is talking to her brother Chris, who is standing in the street somewhere in London. Sally is the teacher from lesson 1C, and in lesson 9C she bought a train ticket to London to go and visit Chris for the weekend.
- B Danny and Karen are in a café called Café Pronto. In lesson 8C, Karen gave Danny a present for his birthday and they decided to go to the cinema that evening to see a Johnny Depp film.
- C Dorota and Khalid are in a language school. They were two of the students in Sally's class in lesson 1C.

- b Ask students to close their books to avoid them reading the conversations in 4a at this stage of the lesson.

VIDEO ▶ 10 CD3 ▶ 59 Play the video or audio recording. Students watch or listen and find out when the people are going to see each other again.

Note that all the Real World videos can be found on the Teacher's DVD at the back of this book.

- 4 a Students work in pairs and try to choose the correct words or phrases, based on what they can remember from the conversations. Do not check answers at this stage.
- b VIDEO ▶ 10 CD3 ▶ 59 Play the video or audio recording again. Students watch or listen and check their answers to 4a. Check answers with the class.

- 5 a Students do the exercise on their own, then compare answers in pairs. Check answers with the class.

- Answers 2 lot 3 September 4 see 5 job 6 much
- Highlight the new phrase Good luck and the preposition in Good luck with your new job.
- Check students understand that Thanks a lot and Thanks very much mean the same.

b Students do the exercise in pairs, as shown in the example. Early finishers can check answers in REAL WORLD 10.1 SB p133. Check answers with the class.

- Answers Have a good holiday/day/weekend/birthday/time.
See you in two hours/this evening/on Monday/soon/after.
- Good luck with your driving test/exam/new school/English test.
- Check students remember journey and remind them that a journey is in one direction only. You can compare this to a trip, which is when you travel to a place and come back again. You can also teach the phrase Have a good trip!.
- Tell students we can also say Good luck in your (exam, new job, etc.).

6 CD3 ▶ 60 PRONUNCIATION Play the recording (SB p113). Students listen and practise the sentences in 4. Highlight the /z:/ sounds in journey /'dʒɜːni/ and birthday /'bɜːθdeɪ/, which students studied in the Help with Pronunciation section in unit 8. Also encourage students to copy the interested intonation on the recording. Repeat the drill if necessary. You can ask students to turn to Audio Script CD3 ▶ 60 SB p113, where the stress is marked on all phrases. Play the recording again. Students listen, read and copy the stress.

b CD3 ▶ 61 Play the recording (SB p113). Students listen and check their answers. Check answers with the class.

A
ALAN What are you going to do after work?
JANE I'm going to have dinner with friends.
ALAN Oh, nice. Have a good time.
JANE Thanks a lot. And good luck with your exam.
ALAN Thanks very much. See you tomorrow.
JANE Yes, see you. Bye!

B
RYAN I'm going to go on holiday next week.
LILY Really? Where are you going?
RYAN To Edinburgh, in Scotland.
LILY Well, have a good holiday.
RYAN Thanks. Oh, and good luck with your new job.
LILY Thanks a lot.

c Students practise the conversations in pairs. While students are working, monitor and check they are saying the phrases with correct stress and that they sound cheerful and interested.

EXTRA IDEA

- Before doing 7c, play CD3 ▶ 61 again, pausing after each sentence for students to repeat chorally and individually. Students can then practise the conversations in pairs.

8 a Students do the exercise on their own. Ask students not to write anything at this stage.
b Ask students to move around the room and talk about their plans with other students. Remind students to use I'm going to ... to talk about their plans, and to respond to other people's plans with phrases from 5 (Have a good time., etc.). Encourage students to have natural conversations and ask questions or give more information as necessary. Alternatively, students can do the activity in groups. Finally, ask students to tell the class about any interesting or exciting plans they talked about.

EXTRA IDEAS

- Introduce or conclude the activity in 8 by talking about your own future plans.
- As a non-personalised alternative to the speaking activity in 8, use Class Activity 10C After the course p161 (Instructions p126).

HELP WITH PRONUNCIATION

Vowel sounds review

1 Focus students on the table and highlight the phonemes and the words at the top of each column. Tell students that they have studied all these sounds earlier in the course.

CD3 62 Play the recording. Students listen to the sounds and the words. Remind students that a in bag is pronounced with an /æ/ sound, o and er in computer are pronounced with an /ə/ sound, etc. Play the recording again. Students listen and practise.

2 a Focus students on the words in the box. Tell students to write words with pink letters in the first and third columns of the table, under the words with letters in pink (bag, six, coffee, forty) and words with blue letters in the second and fourth columns of the table, under the words with letters in blue (computer, nineteen, umbrella, burger).

b CD3 63 Play the recording. Students listen and check their answers.

Play the recording again. Students listen and practise all the words in the table.

/æ/ bag	/ə/ computer	/ɪ/ six	/iː/ nineteen have angry fantastic	breakfast amazing cinema	different market ticket	keys jeans beach
/ɒ/ coffee	/ʌ/ umbrella	/ɔː/ forty	/ɜː/ burger
long holiday because	country hungry money	bored walk bought	girl work university

EXTRA IDEA

- Before doing 2b, draw the table in 1 on the board, then ask students where they think each word goes in the table. If students disagree where a particular word should go, write it in more than one section of the table without saying which is correct. Then play CD3 63 and ask students to check the answers on the board. You can pause the recording after each section of the table, tick the correct words and cross out any incorrect words.

3 a CD3 64 Focus students on sentences 1–6. Play the recording. Students listen and read the sentences. Play the recording again, pausing after each sentence for students to practice chorally and individually. Encourage students to say the sentences with natural speed and rhythm.

- b Students do the exercise in pairs. Encourage students to say each sentence at least three times. Finally, ask each student to say one sentence for the class.

End of Course Review

Student's Book p84–p85

The aim of this activity is to review language that students have learned throughout the course in a fun, student-centred way. The activity takes about 25–40 minutes.

Pre-teach a counter, throw a dice, land on a square and move forward/back.

Give students time to read the rules on SB p84 and answer any questions they may have. Alternatively, go through the instructions section by section with the class. If possible, demonstrate how to play the game to the whole class while you go through the instructions. If you have a monolingual class, you can give the instructions in the students' own language.

To check students have understood, ask what happens when a student lands on a Grammar or Vocabulary square for the first time (he/she answers question 1 only). Ask what happens when a second student lands on the same square (he/she answers question 2). Also check what happens when a third student lands on the square (he/she can stay there without answering a question).

Put students into groups of four and give a dice and counters to each group (or students can make their own counters).

Ask a student with a watch in each group to be the time-keeper for the group. He/She should time students when they land on a Talk about square and have to talk about a topic for 15 seconds.

Students take turns to throw the dice and move around the board.

If a student thinks another student's answer to a question on a Grammar or Vocabulary square is wrong, he/she can check in the Language Summaries in the Student's Book, or ask you to adjudicate.

While students are working, monitor and help with any problems.

The first student to get to FINISH is the winner.

Students can continue playing until three students have finished.

If one group finishes early, ask them to look at all the squares they didn't land on and answer the questions.
