A NEW SCHOOL

My cousin Steve started <sup>1</sup>_____ school this year. It's a good school, and he hopes to get a place at university when he finishes it. There are three computer rooms and a big <sup>2</sup>_____ with six thousand books. Steve was a bit surprised to discover how <sup>3</sup>_____ the teachers are: you have to work really hard to get good results. You have to pay attention in class, listen and <sup>4</sup>_____ notes. There are seven <sup>5</sup>_____ books to read every term. In some subjects if you <sup>6</sup>_____ five mistakes on a test, you fail. If you turn <sup>7</sup>_____ late, you may not be allowed into the lesson. And if you don't <sup>8</sup>_____ your homework, nobody asks you nicely to bring it when you feel like it! You have to have a really good reason to be allowed to <sup>9</sup>_____ homework in late. Steve is <sup>10</sup>_____ his best and he's not unhappy, but it's been quite a shock!
